

19 PERISH IN CABARET FIRE

LONG RECORD OF FELONS DODGING
JUSTICE BAREDFree from Court as Trial Opens.

The details of the criminal record of 191 men and Louis Arnold, a pair of burglars who pursued a game of cat and mouse with the law, were made public yesterday by the Chicago Crime Commission.

Fourteen judges have dealt with the pair since they chose criminal careers in 1911, and ten of the judges have been moved to deal mercy unto them. Both men have served the briefest of prison terms, one apiece, although they have been charged with so many burglaries that the record becomes a jumble in itself.

Rob White on Bond.

In most of the cases the crimes were committed while the ink on the bonds freeing them from previous crimes was still damp, the crime commission revealed.

And with all this, it was possible for Ross Laird, an assistant on the staff of the State's Attorney John A. Egan, and Patrick Harding, a Chicago police captain, to go before Judge C. Kerner in Criminal court and be given further clemency for the two burglars. Harding and Laird agreed to waive the felony in a case in which the two men had been caught red-handed by the police, and to let them remain with a year's Bridewell sentence.

John Kerner, who once was criticized by the Chicago Crime Commission for waiving so many felonies, after having evidence declared that his decision would not permit him to waive the felony in the case of the two men, said he was ready to take a chance of venue.

Link Change of Venue.

Judge Kerner was preparing to have a jury summoned to try the two burglars when their attorney, Harold L. Larr, a former assistant state's attorney, declared that in view of Judge Kerner's remark about his conscience in two clients had elected to take a chance of venue.

On the case was assigned to Judge William N. Gemmill and the defendants and their lawyer trooped across the hall to Judge Gemmill's courtroom. But the judge was ready for them, it seemed, for as soon as the case was called he directed that a jury be placed in the box and the defendants put on trial immediately.

The business of selecting a jury was over, and when the noon adjournment was announced eight of the twelve jurors had been sworn in. At 1:30 Judge Gemmill, having lunch, resumed the bench and the bailiff called the court to order.

An Automobile Missing.

There were no defendants. Judge Gemmill decided to wait for them, a while. But it soon became apparent the wait would be overlong. Attorney Harry Meyers meanwhile had rushed into the Criminal court building, claiming that his automobile had been stolen from in front of the building. He was sworn in, and set new bonds at $100,000 for Arnold, who was charged with four crimes, and $120,000 for Kerner, who had three crimes charged against him.

Chamberlin Tells Records.

"It is not so much the effect all this may have on Berman and Arnold," said Henry Barrett Chamberlin, assistant director of the crime commission. "It is the terrible spectacle of how justice can go astray in Cook county, Illinois." Mr. Chamberlin then read the record of both men, as follows:

Max Berman, alias Burman, alias Max Blaine, was indicted in 1919 on three charges of burglary, one of robbery, and one of assault to rob. The following year two charges of robbery were added. The late Judge Timothy D. Hurley called up Berman to three months in the House of Correction. Judge Hugo Pam ordered five earlier indictments stricken off the roll, and former Judge Robert E. Crove disposed in the same manner of the sixth one.

Before going to the Bridewell, while on bail, Berman was accused of two more burglaries, but the trial of these was delayed three years, when he was indicted in a not guilty verdict before Judge William J. Landay, and in the other Judge Gemmill, the same judge who figured in yesterday's fiasco.

FLAMES TRAP
MERRYMAKERS
IN DETROIT CLUB50 Injured Rushed to Hospitals.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 20.—[Friday.]—(AP)—Nineteen persons were killed and more than 50 others are in hospitals with injuries suffered in a fire which destroyed the Study club, a night club on the edge of the downtown theater district, early this morning.

One hundred and thirty patrons and 40 employees, including entertainers, were in the night club when flames broke through the wall at the first floor and swept up the main stairway, cutting off the only means of egress.

The bodies of seven women lie in the county morgue unidentified. Their clothing was burned off and the charred and blackened condition of their bodies will make identification difficult.

The identified dead:
Derick Brown, Detroit.

Edward Ford, address undetermined.

Luther Ford, address undetermined.

Waverly Green, address undetermined.

Walter Krieger, 732 Inez street, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Morrison Manning of Grand Rapids, Mich.

H. B. Smith, address undetermined.

Frank Telford, address undetermined.

The flames which destroyed the three-story building in which the club was housed broke out in the basement shortly after 1 a. m. and spread rapidly through the structure, entrapping the merry-makers and employees in the second floor dining room.

Many of the panic-stricken patrons leaped from second floor windows to the ground. Others were assisted through a hatch to the roof and carried down ladders by firemen and police. The receiving hospital was crowded with the injured. Within an hour 40 persons had been checked in, many of whom died later.

Flames Cut Off Exit.

The flames swept up an open stairway in the front of the building, cutting off the principal exit to the ground floor.

The fire was seen by a policeman, who turned in the alarm and before fire apparatus had arrived the building was aflame from top to bottom. A small dressing room for women in the rear of the building seemed to be the point of origin for the fire. The firemen who broke through a steel shuttered window found 25 persons unconscious there.

Rush Injured to Hospitals.

Injured and dead were taken to the hospitals and the morgue in taxicabs and private cars.

John Duval Dodge, a member of the family of automobile manufacturers, was passing the club with a friend, Jack M. Carney. The two made their way into the building and assisted a number of persons to safety, themselves suffering severe burns.

The club was located on Vernon highway, six blocks from the downtown section of the city and just east of Woodward avenue, Detroit's main thoroughfare.

The fire came at the peak of the evening when patrons from the nearby theaters had come to dance and watch the entertainment at the night club.

Bandits, Accompanied by

Two bandits, accompanied by a stylishly dressed girl, about 18 years old, this morning held up Chester Burton, night clerk of the Lincoln Park West apartment hotel, 2136 Lincoln parkway, knocked him unconscious with a bottle and escaped with more than $200 from the cash drawer. Burton lay where he fell until a guest in the hotel found him and notified the police. He was taken to the Alexian Brothers hospital, where his injuries were said to be not serious.

Link Indiana's
Dry Law Graft to Massacre

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Concentration of evidence upon booze graft in Gary and the uncovering of a new theory for Chicago's St. Valentine's day massacre were the principal developments in today's investigation of northern Indiana corruption. United States Attorney Oliver Loomis also announced that an assistant attorney general will arrive from Washington shortly to assist in the inquiry in response to his request of Wednesday.

Two alleged Gary bootleggers were brought to South Bend today, one of them charged with conspiracy to violate the dry law, and held in $20,000 bond. This man, Alexander Necca, is said to be a liquor partner of Alex. Sante, also of Gary, whose arrest on a similar charge a few weeks ago was the first seizure of a citizen of the steel town in the present investigation. With Necca was brought Joe Metcalf, Gary Negro, who was sentenced recently to the Indiana state penitentiary on a booze charge.

Official May Be Arrested.

What Mr. Loomis characterized as "an important arrest" was scheduled to be made at Gary late tonight. The prosecutor refused to reveal the person's identity, but said that he is an official.

During the day more than fifty witnesses waited in the grand jury ante-room to be called, but only a scant dozen were heard before the investigating body.

One of those heard was Conrad Blinn, former prohibition agent, who was in charge of the South Bend office for six months and who is under two conspiracy indictments, here and in Fort Wayne. Another was Lieut. Frank Galloway of the Gary police.

William Burris, a Negro alderman in Gary, was waiting to be questioned, but had not been reached when the jury adjourned.

While the presentation of evidence involving East Chicago has not been completed, Gary is expected to receive the most attention from the grand jurors now on.

Nick Marovich, a Leavenworth convict whose testimony is said to have hit East Chicago officials, today was taken back to prison after a third appearance before the grand jury this morning. The United States attorney this afternoon definitely "spiked" the report that "Scarface" Al Capone of Chicago would be called as a witness. Asked

"The attorney general told me at our last conference," he asserted, "that at any time I wished aid in this inquiry it would be given me."

Liquor Shipment Related.

The new theory of the motive for the murder of seven Moran gangsters in a North Clark street garage in Chicago is based on testimony which is to be presented to the jury soon. A partial version was made known shortly after the mass killing and the information obtained today dovetails with it.

The story dates back to four days before the massacre, or Feb. 10, when two truck loads of whiskey and one of Carling's black label beer are said to have started out from a Detroit brewery bound for the Capone bailiwick in Chicago.

At the state line, the story goes, an official high in the Indiana state police met the three trucks and acted as convoy across the state as far as the Gary streets without interference, but the beer truck driver smashed into an automobile.

What Became of the Beer?
Suspicion was aroused, and in the heart of the city two policemen stopped the truck, ascertained its contents, and promptly drove it to the Gary station. What happened to the beer when it reached police headquarters is a subject of much controversy.

Mobilize Dry

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Another "intensive" drive against illicit alcohol plants and wholesale bootleggers in the Chicago district was forecast tonight following today's conference between Prohibition Commissioner James M. Dorian, United States Attorney George E. Q. Johnson of Chicago, E. C. Yellowley, the district dry administrator, and Alexander Jamies, chief of the special agents in the district.

The conferees denied that rumored friction between the Chicago officials has brought about the conference and Dr. Dorian reiterated that the plan for greater cooperation between the district attorney's office and the administrator's office does not involve the transfer of Yellowley to another district.

Did Not Discuss Chicago.

The prohibition commissioner denied that removal of Yellowley and the promotion of Jamies to succeed him has been discussed or suggested.

Dr. Dorian refused to "warn the enemy in advance of our plans" by revealing details of the program. It was indicated, however, that Jamies' force of special agents is to be augmented by drafts upon other districts and that such additional agents and investigators as are needed will be assigned to assist Yellowley.

Will Cut New York Line.

The immediate problem, according to Dr. Dorian, is the suppression of an extensive traffic in liquor from New York to Chicago which, the commissioner asserted, is now the "good" liquor distribution center for the whole middle west.

It was admitted that there has been some misunderstanding between Yellowley and District Attorney Johnson over the preparation of cases for prosecution, but it was said, the difficulties have been ironed out.

140,000 Population by 1950
Is Predicted for Evanston

Evanston now has a population of 67,500 and is expecting a population of 140,000 by 1950, according to a survey completed yesterday by the Evanston real estate board. The regional planning association is mapping the city to accommodate 68,000 next year and 105,000 by 1940. The survey showed that 91.4 per cent of the children between the ages of 7 and 13 years and 85.8 per cent of those 14 to 15 years old are enrolled in school.

National City
Will Absorb
Corn Exchange

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The National City bank, the largest financial institution in the western hemisphere, disclosed merger plans today with the Corn Exchange Bank Trust company, which will make it the largest bank in the world.

The consolidation of the National City and the Corn Exchange, which has been approved by the directors of both institutions, will bring together total resources of $2,384,044,401, which will exceed the total resources of the Midland bank, Ltd., of London, which, at the approximate current rate of exchange, are $2,303,013,578.

The merger will give the National City bank a total of 261 branches, of which 103 will be located in New York City. Of the latter, 68 will represent the chain operated by the Corn Exchange.

The Corn Exchange will be merged with the National City bank and will lose its identity.

Intended to Develop Branches.

Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City bank, and Walter E. Frew, chairman of the Corn Exchange Bank Trust company, in announcing the merger plans, said:

"The merger is not a step in the development of size, but an intensive development of branch banking in New York City."

The latest statement of the National City bank, as of June 29, 1929, shows total resources of $2,062,400,290, while the latest statement of the Corn Exchange Bank Trust company as of July 1, 1929, shows resources of $323,644,111, or a combined total of $2,386,044,401.

The following table shows the world's ten largest banks with the British institutions' resources calculated into dollars at $4.85:

National City Bank, N. Y. $2,386,044,401
Midland Bank, Ltd., London 2,303,013,578
Lloyds' bank 2,062,400,290
Westerminster Bank, Ltd. 1,878,190,000
Guaranty Trust Co. 1,500,019,300

Chase National, New York 1,497,876,000
National Provincial Bank, Ltd. 1,483,000,500
Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Co., Chicago 1,067,007,813
Equitable Trust Co., New York 863,000,100

Guaranty Leads in Capital.

The consolidation will bring together capital funds totaling $270,146,224, with the National City contributing $235,260,406 and the Corn Exchange $34,875,818. However, from the standpoint of capital funds the Guaranty Trust still will lead with capital, surplus, and undivided profits of more than $134,000,000 as of July 25, 1929, after giving effect to the merger of the National Bank of Commerce.

Mitchell indicated there would be no capital increase by the National City. He said the Corn Exchange would be taken over intact, but that no plans were ready for announcement concerning the positions which the officials of the Corn Exchange would occupy.

Bank Centers in New York.

The Corn Exchange Bank Trust company, which until last May was known since its organization in 1853 as the Corn Exchange bank, has done business exclusively in Greater New York and has now 66 branches in operation with two more about to open and plans for opening six additional offices. Thus, including the contemplated branches of the Corn Exchange, the National City will have 109 branches.

Deposits of the National City as of June 29 amounted to $1,479,814,893 and the Corn Exchange as of the same date $221,736,322.

Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Frew, the two outstanding figures in the merger, both have come up from the ranks. Mr. Mitchell thirty years ago held a clerical position with the Western Electric company and Mr. Frew began his career as a messenger for the stock brokerage firm of Shepard, Knapp & Co. when he was 15 years old.

BOY KING STARTS FISTICUFFS AND

[Copyright, 1929, by The New York Times.]
BOSTON, Sept. 19.—How the special school of picked children, given to Michael, the boy king, a chance to obtain an education in company with his future subjects, was broken up when Michael took to punning his fellow pupils and when they began to hit back was revealed today by one of its former members.

When Michael attained the age of 6, last year, a special school of 16 boys, two from each Roman Catholic province, was created. It was suddenly discontinued last spring and no one knew why.

Now one of its former pupils has revealed the reason. He said the pupils were warned that they must show to young Michael the respect due to royalty. Michael, however, so enjoyed the freedom of the democratic contact that he took to beating up his classmates.

MILLIONS LOST;
DROUGHT SEARS
MIDWEST CROPSIllinois Corn Yield Cut Severely.

The recent drought has caused heavy crop losses in the central states.

ILLINOIS—Corn loss estimated at $12,591,270; other crops damaged.

NEBRASKA—Reduction of corn yield estimated at 100,000,000 bushels.

SOUTH DAKOTA—Corn and other late crops severely damaged.

IOWA—Corn yield to be biggest in nation despite dry weather.

KANSAS—Drought broken and farmers prepare land for wheat.

MISSOURI—Rain fell about total deficiency of 1.20 inches for summer.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—An estimate of the loss in Illinois suffered because of the drought which was broken by today's rain exceeds seventeen and one-half million dollars. This takes into account only the loss sustained between Aug. 1 and Sept. 1, which has been reported to the department of agriculture.

Available figures indicate the losses sustained between Aug. 1 and Sept. 1. Since there has been little change in conditions since Sept. 1, it is probable that the estimate correctly shows the present condition. Following are the losses:

Corn, 13,539,000 bu. $ .90 $12,591,270
Soybeans, 180,000 bu. 1.17 210,600
Oats, 4,000,000 bu. .39 1,560,000
Barley, 600,000 bu. .24 144,000
Triticum, 225,000 bu. 1.40 315,000
Sweet corn, 25,000 bu. 1.70 42,500
Broom corn, 200 tons 150.00 30,000
Apples, 400,000 bu. 1.75 700,000
Pears, 30,000 bu. 1.50 45,000

Soy Bean Crop Dried.

There was practically no depreciation in the soy bean crop during the drought period and it is not figured in the loss. This crop condition was reported Sept. 1 as 82 per cent.

The winter wheat crop had been made prior to the drought and was not affected by the dry weather. The average yield is 14.7 bushels an acre, which is two bushels below the ten year average

The total rainfall for the state for July and August was 4.45 inches, a deficiency of only 1.54 inches, but it came at a time most critical for the corn crop.

Aberdeen, S. D., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Promising corn and late crops in this territory have been severely hit by the extreme dryness of the last two months. The total rainfall ranged from one to a scant inch in a few localities. Abundant native pastures of early spring and summer are short, although the alfalfa and clover crops are average.

Excessive showers make accurate estimates of corn difficult, but a survey shows it slightly below average. In a few early sections corn hardly will be worth husking, while in others it is bumper crop is predicted. Most fields are well out of danger of frost. Wheat varies from 5 to 35 bushels and potatoes, although of good quality, will yield considerably less than last season's average.

North Dakota Moderate.
Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The crop of corn has experienced an unusually dry summer, the effect will not be felt on the state's leading crop of corn, since the latest national crop report indicates that Iowa leads the Union with a crop of 422,799,000 bushels.

Rained from July 15 to Sept. 15 has been 1.15 inches below the normal, according to the local weather bureau. This shortage, however, was compensated during the growing season and wheat, particularly in southern Iowa, since Sept. 1 have helped to bring up the average.

Dry weather during August cut the estimated corn yield from 22,000,000 bushels, the estimate for the crop on Aug. 1 being that much higher than the Sept. 1 estimate.

Pastures felt the lack of rainfall during the latter part of July and August, and second and third crops of clover and alfalfa were shorter.

The dry weather came too late materially to cut the production of small grains and was broken in time to save the corn crop.

Red Believes Kansas.
Topeka, Kan., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The drought in Kansas is pretty well broken. With the exception of the southeastern quarter, the state has received liberal rain in the last few days, sufficient to green up pastures and fill streams, many of which were exceedingly low.

The moisture was a godsend to the wheat farmers, who had been unable, due to dry weather, to plant. While there has been some delay in planting, it is not serious. Preparation of ground is mostly completed and planting of wheat is now under way on a large scale.

The southeastern quarter of Kansas, up to today, was still struggling with a serious drought. A few reports of dried up wells and farmers hauling water to their stock, are current, but this condition is not general. Streams are low, but not critically so.

Unofficial but apparently authentic reports in Topeka are that Kansas farmers will harvest only 25 to 35 per cent of a corn crop.

The report of the Kansas state

WHOLE EAST SHIVERS AT SUDDEN SPELL OF COLD AFTER HOT WAVE

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The persistently torrid heat of summer today gave way to frost.

After unseasonably hot, humid weather in the eastern states the temperature tumbled suddenly over night and several North Atlantic states this morning reported new low temperatures for the date.

Frost was noticeable in New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts, and in New York City, Buffalo and Boston the record low temperature for Sept. 19 was broken. The temperature went to 44 degrees in New York City, one degree below a record of 54 years' standing; Buffalo thermometers recorded 40, and in Boston the reading was 42, two below the record set in 1875.

Snow Falls in Illinois.
Belleville, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The first snow of the season fell here today. It was a light flurry, and accompanied a misty rain. The snow melted almost before it struck the ground.

board of agriculture indicated a corn crop slightly more than half as large as that of last year. Hot weather during the first week in September caused additional damage, but there is no official estimate as to the extent of the late injury. The alfalfa crop is estimated at slightly over half as large as a year ago and the same is true of the grain sorghums. The hay crop is two-thirds as large as that of 1928. Official reports indicate that a considerably more than average amount of corn has been cut for silage and fodder.

ARTIST SLAIN AT DOOR OF HIS HOME IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Frank Reed Whiteside, 48, Philadelphia landscape artist, instructor and author, was shot and killed under mysterious circumstances as he stood on the doorstep of his quaint old two-story home at 1510 Waverly street, near 15th and Pine streets, tonight.

Mr. Whiteside, who was treasurer of the Fellowship of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and who was well known in art circles in Philadelphia, had returned home about ten days ago preparatory to resuming his work of instruction.

Summoned to his door by the insistent ringing of the bell, Whiteside left a book which he had been reading open on the arm of a chair in the living room. Out of the shadows of the night before him, probably scarcely discernible in the feeble shaft of light which came from behind, a revolver barked once.

Whiteside crumpled on his own doorstep with a bullet through his heart.

Indorses Propaganda to Slash U. S. Navy.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—With President Hoover gunning for militant propagandists who might seek to embarrass his current disarmament negotiations a container of choice pacifist propaganda disparaging efforts such as he is making to establish parity of the American with the British navy was unceremoniously tossed by one of Mr. Hoover's most important appointees to high office.

Senators and congressmen received by mail today free copies of a book entitled "America's Naval Challenge," a work depicting Uncle Sam as an aspirant to world supremacy, by Frederick Moore, formerly American counselor to the Japanese government.

Letter With Book.
With the book there was a covering letter, dated Aug. 1, from George W. Wickham, chairman of President Hoover's law enforcement commission.

"This," said the Wickham letter, "is a narrative so clear and so informing that it should be read by all who desire an understanding of the problems involved in our naval policy and its relation to peace on the Atlantic and the Pacific."

Mr. Wickham is chairman of the commission on international justice and good will of the Federal Council of Churches, one of the most powerful pacifist propaganda agencies in the country which for years has been fighting the expansion of our navy and other preparedness policies. At the office of Mr. Wickham his secretary stated that so far as he knows the Federal Council of Churches is not financing either the publication or the distribution of the Moore book. He said that Mr. Wickham is a friend of Mr. Hoover and wrote the letter commending the book at the request of the author. He denied that Mr. Wickham caused the free distribution of the book to official Washington.

Seeks to Block Interference.
One of the objects of President Hoover in inciting the senate investigation of militant propaganda which begins tomorrow was to thwart interference with his present negotiations for navy reduction, such as William E. Shearer and the shipbuilding companies who employed him are alleged

STIMSON TO SERVE AS U. S. CHAIRMAN AT ARMS MEETING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson is regarded as the choice of President Hoover for the chairmanship of the American delegation to the naval reduction conference proposed by the United States and Great Britain.

Reports that Charles Evans Hughes, former secretary of state and head of the American delegates at the Washington conference in 1921, would be selected as a member of the United States delegation were discounted as speculation. It is not considered likely that Mr. Hughes would desire to serve on the delegation unless he was to be its chairman.

Charles G. Dawes, the American ambassador at London, probably will serve with the American group. Hugh Gibson, the American ambassador to Belgium and chief of the American representation at the three power naval limitation conference held at Geneva in 1927, probably will be either a delegate or an adviser.

Official announcement that fifty-three destroyers of the battle and scouting fleets are to be decommissioned, at once and replaced by vessels now in reserve was made by the navy department tonight. These vessels are worn out and it was said it is very unlikely any of them will ever be used for any naval purpose again.

Disposal of or scrapping of these ships would reduce the American standard destroyer tonnage total from 290,594 to something over 230,000.

to have been responsible for at the abortive Geneva conference of 1927.

One of the purposes of the Moore book, which Mr. Wickham commended so heartily, is to prove that we should not aspire to the naval parity with Britain, the thing that Mr. Hoover is aiming at in these negotiations, and to demonstrate that parity with the British would be actually a provocative American superiority. What the President and the senate will do about this propaganda bomb burden of his professed object remains to be seen.

"The effort of the British admiralty," says the Moore book, "is to provide for the safety of the British isles. That of our navy department in competition with Great Britain is to make the seas secure for the American merchantmen across the Atlantic and across the Pacific. The British contention is correct; we do not need a navy equal to theirs for an equal purpose."

American Naval Superiority.
"Our national security could not be endangered by their navy; but the reverse is true. An American navy equal to the British means American naval superiority. The British have been endeavoring to make Americans recognize this fact, but our naval men have endeavored to prevent any such idea getting into the American mind. It would not be good for the maintenance of the five-five ratio."

"The possession by Great Britain of widely scattered naval bases and of a superior mercantile marine are the principal arguments showing our inferiority."

In another place Moore says that "our making of war upon the British, however remote the chance, is more likely than that they would make it upon us, for we are the more powerful people and would be least deterred by risk and danger. We are the most powerful the world ever has known and a mere balance of the numbers and tonnages of battleships is not essential to the preservation of this superior strength."

Sees Policy Lead to War.
Moore views the United States as traveling a militaristic road that leads to war.

"It does not matter," he says, "what the auxiliary strength of the United States is. We may have a greater or a smaller number of cruisers, destroyers, and submarines than Great Britain. In no case are we likely to have war with that country or Japan, unless this country itself is responsible in a large part for it."

"Peace has long prevailed among the three nations and it is difficult to see a logical reason why it should be broken in the future. The United States is not likely to be the aggressor and the others are in no position to aggress upon us. Only the further development of navalism here, causing ultimate foreign alliances against us, can bring such a thing as war about."

Mr. Moore, who was the chief propagandist for Japan at the Washington arms conference, argues that we should not maintain a navy capable of defending the Philippines.

"We can best serve the world and ourselves," he says, "by improving our own country so that it may be a shining example of good government and a bulwark of peace—and there is much room for improvement in many ways and many places in this country. We should maintain armament for the proper home defense of our possessions, from Alaska and from Maine to the Panama canal, but not for defense across the Atlantic or across the Pacific. Therein lies armament which must appear too powerful for defense alone and must be taken by the other naval powers as menacing."

"The American people maintain an army and a navy only as a nucleus for defensive, not for offense itself. When the people delegate their defense to an organized body of men, that organization is likely to become a group separate and distinct and in a measure dangerous. The American army has been reduced to a minimum and is, as a body, more nearly of the people than the navy. The navy has been expanded unduly and the tendency of its personnel is to become an institution apart from the rest of the people."

Senate Inquiry Today.
The senate investigation, which will begin tomorrow with examination of officers of the ship building companies that employed Shearer, will be confined to militant propaganda.

The senate investigation is expected to establish the truth or falsity of rumors heard for years that companies which received contracts from the government for warships and armaments were spending money for covert obstruction of navy reduction movement.

No tangible evidence in support of the allegations had come to light until Shearer filed suit against three companies for $250,000 which, he said, was due him for his work at the Geneva conference, ostensibly in opposition to an agreement limiting our navy.

Lobbying and Propaganda.
The cost of lobbying and propaganda on the pacifist side runs into big figures also. The Federal Council of Churches expends more than $300,000 a year, though just how much of it goes into its anti-preparedness campaigns, such as its efforts to defeat the cruiser bill last year, perhaps only a senate investigation could determine.

The Garland fund, which has subsidized communist, Socialist, and other radical groups to the extent of $3,000,000, is a heavy contributor to pacifist campaigns.

The Church Peace union and its subsidiary, the World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship through the churches, which fought through the churches, which spends $135,000 a year.

The National Council for Prevention of War, an organization under Quaker leadership, which has been extremely successful in defeating preparedness policies and active in interfering with administration foreign policies, expends $100,000 a year.

WARE SHEARER'S PART IN BALKING U. S. NAVY FIASCO

Publicity Wrecked British Schemes for Victory.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
GENEVA, Sept. 19.—The forthcoming investigation ordered by President Hoover regarding the salary of William B. Shearer against the backdrop of the United States even more disastrous than did the Washington pact of 1911, which scrapped America's claims of becoming preponderant on the high seas.

At times during the two years negotiations here the American representatives were on the point of surrendering to the British demands, and only the stubborn determination of the naval experts from Washington prevented the diplomatic delegates from agreeing on a compromise—that is, accepting the demands of the London admiralty.

Shearer Gets the Truth.
Mr. Shearer's activities during the negotiations were a distinct help to newspaper correspondents, because he, through friendship and close relations with several members of the American delegation, was enabled to get accurate and quick information concerning the developments of the discussion, which he tipped off to the journalists. It was in the bud of the negotiations that the chief American delegate seemed on the point of making.

U. S. Admirals Stand Fast.
When the inside story of the tripartite conference is revealed it will show that Admirals Frank H. Schofield and Joseph M. Reeves were principally responsible for saving the United States from another diplomatic defeat by Great Britain.

Admirals Schofield and Reeves stood up to the navy department's requirements for big cruisers with a long cruising radius—as America lacks such bases for refueling and repairs—and eight inch guns.

Eight inch guns were important because they were more powerful than any weapons the merchant marine carried.

auxiliary cruisers in war time was able to mount. Even the latest treaty could not stand the shock of the recoil of anything bigger than six inch guns.

Lord Invaluable of Cecil.

Mr. Shearer broke the story about Lord Robert Cecil becoming so offensive to Ambassador Gibson during one session at Lord Robert's villa that the American ambassador was forced to remind his British colleague that he was entitled to respect as a delegate of the United States, and that if Lord Robert was unable to keep his language within parliamentary bounds, then his embassy in the ambassador would have to retire from the conference.

That rebuke elicited an apology from Lord Robert.

Mr. Shearer had the naval year books and statistics of all countries available and was able to check up on the statements of the various delegates regarding the number of ships in commission, building, projected and appropriated for.

These figures and statistics were exceedingly valuable at a time when the naval experts of various delegations were wrangling among them-

Start for South America Today

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife, who will leave Miami, Fla., for the southern continent today, as they appeared at Washington, where they stopped off on their way to Miami.

Lindberghs at Miami

Miami, Fla., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—With the tropical storm north of Porto Rico apparently out of his path, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was completing preparations tonight for the start of his flight tomorrow to open the new air mail service to South America, with Mrs. Lindbergh among his passengers.

Weather conditions were studied closely, as the flight will traverse the Windward and Leeward islands, known as the "hatchery of hurricanes," during the height of the storm season.

Weather conditions were studied closely, as the flight will traverse the Windward and Leeward islands, known as the "hatchery of hurricanes," during the height of the storm season.

Denies Propaganda Charge.

Mr. Shearer's information concerning the developments in negotiations generally proved correct, and he had the first news on the eventful night when Ambassador Gibson, Admiral Jones and Admiral Long summoned the entire American delegation, including most of the subordinate members, for a caucus to decide whether they would accept the final British offer.

The navy department contingent stood solidly against capitulating to the London admiralty and thus accepting a perpetual inferiority to the British fleet, and the chief delegates bowed to their viewpoint and agreed.

Examinations of the files of the principal American newspapers whose special correspondents covered the tripartite conference will show that Mr. Shearer did not succeed in planting any propaganda, and so far as my relations with him are concerned, he never attempted to.

The British and Japanese delegations had competent press liaisons of officials and the Americans had none, so Mr. Shearer's activities consisted chiefly in supplying technical information from lanes other than recognized naval authorities to check up on the situation.

CORPORATION TO MANAGE AFFAIRS OF F. L. WRIGHT

Architect Given New Start in His Work.

A board of directors will henceforth handle the business affairs of Frank Lloyd Wright, eccentric architectural genius. A charter of incorporation was granted yesterday at Springfield to Frank Lloyd Wright, Inc., for $50,000 preferred stock and $50 common stock, with Attorney Smauel C. Kroon, 120 South La Salle street, as holder of the common stock.

Mr. Kroon said yesterday that the board of directors is composed of a group of prominent and wealthy men who have faith in Wright's ability and believe his mind should be freed from all financial worries. Names of the directors will be made public soon.

Just to Free His Mind.

Wright, reached at Taliesin, his country estate near Spring Green, Wis., said he didn't know the details of the arrangement.

"It's simply a device to extend my usefulness," he declared. "My friends think it will keep me from being worried over sordid business matters and I will be free to go ahead with my work. There's nothing revolutionary in the idea."

A year ago a similar corporation was formed in Wisconsin and capitalized at $75,000 to enable the architect to repurchase his home, pay his debts and start again at his profession after his long series of troubles, domestic and financial.

The new corporation, however, goes much further than the previous organization. Wright, according to his friends, has all the work he can do.

Most of his time is divided between his estate at Taliesin, thrice destroyed by fire, and as often rebuilt, and New York. He has a big idea in mind, he said, that of a concrete slab skyscraper process which he believes will greatly change architectural methods.

May Reopen His School.

Another plan he has in mind is to reestablish at Taliesin his school for architects and artists which he conducted from 1919 to 1925. Both these projects may be best carried out by him, his friends declared, if all his financial affairs are conducted by a company.

Wright has been known for his artistic extravagance. Even when his income was extremely large he was usually pressed because of his purchases of art treasures and lavish expenditures upon his country estate. His directors will curb his spending proclivities, according to Mr. Kroon.

Built Famous Tokio Hotel.

Wright has an international reputation. He built the Imperial hotel in Tokio at the orders of the Japanese royal family and it was the only structure to survive the earthquakes of several years ago. He was selected as architect after the Japanese had sent envoys here to select a great American architect. He made a preliminary trip to Japan to study the situation and then stayed there for four years.

Wright was, perhaps, more famous in this country for his marital troubles than for his ability as an architect. For three years his legal battles with Mrs. Miriam Noel Wright occupied much space in the press. They were finally divorced in August, 1928, and he married Olga Milano almost immediately.

Lack of Heat in Schools Stirs South Side Parents

Indignant because their children have been attending public schools the last two days without heat, several north side parents yesterday accused the board of education of inefficiency at a luncheon meeting of the Woodlawn Lions club. In the discussion among the business men who attended the meeting it was learned that at least two schools have not been heated properly during the recent cool weather. A third school, the Jackson, at 820 South street, has not received its coal supply.

William C. Greatman, an attorney, told the club that classes were dismissed on Wednesday at the Mann school, 2656 Chappel avenue, because the building was not heated. Classes were resumed yesterday but he said his children wore their wraps in the classrooms to keep warm.

Another School Cold.
Theodore Lillenthal said his children's classrooms at the O'Keefe school, 6940 Merrill avenue, were cold and uncomfortable. W. T. Blackwell, south side banker, also declared his children had been suffering from the chilly atmosphere of the O'Keefe school rooms.

Supt. Bogan last night admitted that he had received a number of complaints from different parts of the city that school children have been attending classes in unheated rooms. He consulted the chief engineer, John Howatt, who told him that one difficulty has been in hiring enough firemen. Mr. Bogan said the situation will be remedied as soon as possible.

Heats Courts at Night.

A plan for heating the new $7,500,000 Criminal court and jail building at night with the hope that the heat will be sufficient to last throughout the day was announced yesterday at the office of President Cermak at the county board. Men employed in the building have been forced to work in their overcoats and the women in their furs—because of the lack of heat.

One member of the grand jury yesterday said that unless the situation is promptly remedied he will move that the jury conduct an investigation as to why a $7,500,000 building should be without heat. The juror said that he would ask that Cermak and other officials be called upon for an explanation.

Employees Out with Colds.

Many of the employees appeared yesterday with colds and had to be excused from duty. Among these were Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney, and Assistant State's Attorney Benjamin Feldman.

Warden David Moneypenny of the jail said he feared an epidemic of sickness unless something is done at once.

At Cermak's office it was said the city is at fault for not having the proper equipment. Although no written contract exists the city was to supply heat from the municipal plant near the bridge. The new building has no heating facilities.

The necessary equipment is now being installed in the municipal plant, it was said. Meanwhile a temporary arrangement has been worked out to flood the building with low pressure heat at night. When the weather gets extremely cold the officials hope that a four-inch high pressure main can be tapped to get the necessary heat.

HOWARD H. LOGAN IS FOUND INSANE BY COUNTY COURT

Howard Hancock Logan, former member of the brokerage firm of Logan & Bryan, 105 West Adams street, and son of its founder, Frank G. Logan, was adjudged insane yesterday by Judge Irving Weaver, assistant to County Judge Jarecki.

Logan, who had been under observation at the psychopathic hospital for seven months, is suffering from dementia precox induced by alcoholism, in the opinion of staff physicians.

Logan was placed in the hospital by his father. Judge Weaver ordered him to be returned to the custody of his father, who is widely known for his philanthropies and as a collector of art. Logan is to be committed to a private sanitarium.

Logan was graduated from Yale university in 1910. He is a member of the University, Midlothian, South Shore Country, Cowenside, and Swan Lake clubs. During the war he served in Serbia as a United States army lieutenant. Until two years ago he was employed in the firm founded by his father. In 1928 his wife, the former Helen Hart Brodus, obtained a divorce on a charge of desertion.

LEAGUE ROCKED BY BRITISH BLOW IN ARMS DEBATE

Less Words, More Action, Delegate Cries.

BY HENRY WALES.

GENEVA, Sept. 19.—The long, lean, and rangy Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, better known as Lord Robert Cecil, British delegate, today tore into the preparatory disarmament commission of the league of nations and raved it almost as hard as the Russian commissar, M. Litvinoff, did last year, for its failure to tackle the vital problems of reduction and limitation of arms.

The British Labor government's delegate accused the league commission of glossing over or ignoring the fundamental principles of disarmament and contenting itself with reaching meaningless compromises and verbiage palatable to the powers determined to maintain their military strength. He predicted imminent solution of the Anglo-American naval controversy and expressed optimism that the other three powers interested, France, Japan, and Italy, would subsequently join in a common accord.

Wars Waged on Land.

But he stressed the point that naval disarmament does not insure peace, pointing out that all the recent wars were waged on land, with the armies as the dominating factor. He attempted to prove that naval armaments are practically entirely defensive, while the land armaments are naturally offensive weapons.

He recalled that aggressive belligerents, seeking to crush enemies by invasion and seizure of territory, required soldiers to execute these plans and that it is impossible for fleets of warships to achieve such designs.

Lord Cecil ridiculed the insignificant compromise the league commission had reached in dealing with material for the armies by merely piously hoping for full publicity. He sought to prove that material is the backbone of the modern army and that tanks, armored cars, rifles, gases and other factors reduce the part of the ordinary soldier considerably.

Resolution Is Explained.

"The British resolution embraces four principles," said Lord Cecil. "First, the application of the same principle of limitation of personnel and material whether they are land, sea or air forces. This is more important because there is a considerable possibility of the reduction of material sea and air forces, and it remains to be seen how far this can be extended to land armaments.

"Second, the limitation of the strength of forces, either by limiting numbers or the period of training, or both. This is likely to be met with a considerable difference of opinion; but the truth remains that the only way to limit land forces is by limiting the numbers directly and by limiting their period of service.

"Limitation of Materials. "Third, the limitation of material, either directly or by enumeration, or indirectly by budget limitation, or both. The preparatory commission compromised this important question by deciding on publicity for expenditures, which is less than nothing, since the draft of the treaty excludes reduction or limitation of material.

"Fourth, recognition of competent international authority to watch and report on the execution of the treaty. The establishment of a disarmament treaty without authority to supervise and report on its execution is an incomplete solution."

British View Attacked.

The British pronouncement elicited a strong counter attack from the president of the preparatory commission, Jonkherr Dr. Louden of Holland, Rene Massigli of France, and Gen. D. E. Marinis of Italy. Even Japan came into the contest alongside the continental powers, M. Sato stating

TO TOUR EUROPE

EDDA MUSSOLINI.

ROME, Sept. 19.—It was announced today that Edda Mussolini, 11 Duke's daughter, who slipped out of Rome secretly a few days ago for Spain, is making a circuit of Europe. She probably will visit France, England, Germany, Holland, Belgium, and Hungary. She already has traveled extensively in the near east and India, and hopes eventually to visit America.

that he could not endorse Lord Cecil's resolution.

The former German ambassador to Washington, Count von Bernstorff, supported Lord Cecil's resolution vigorously. He insisted the German government had already given plain warning that it will not accept any disarmament scheme such as the league flow envisages. He predicted the utter failure of the general international disarmament conference if it adopts the preparatory commission's recommendations.

The political committee today took up China's demand for the application of article 19, the covenant for revision of treaties, which have become obsolete.

"The covenant existed a decade—China tried to invoke it without success," said C. C. Wu, Chinese minister at Washington and chief delegate here.

M. Rolin of Belgium submitted a resolution for pigeonholing action for a year to the effect that the assembly examine the merits of the case and, if satisfactory, refer the matter to a competent commission. The Chinese minister asked time to examine the Belgian proposal before signifying acceptance.

The council met again and Arthur Henderson, British foreign secretary, expressed the hope that the interminable wrangle between the Hungarian and Roumanian governments might be settled by direct negotiations.

SANITARY BOARD TAKES UP WORK HALTED BY DEBT

Four North Shore Bridges Receive Priority.

Authorizing the payment of debt amounting to $3,565,404, the sanitary district board yesterday prepared to resume its extensive construction program of sewage projects which has been held up virtually nine months for lack of funds. The continuation of the building program was made possible a week ago by the sale of a $10,850,000 bond issue, the first of the bond issues amounting to $27,000,000 authorized by the last session of the state legislature.

Judgments Take $1,074,000. The bills to be paid immediately include $1,074,831 on court judgments obtained by creditor contractors on completed sewage projects, while payments totaling $1,069,573 will be made on unfinished contracts. A third amount, $1,421,000, will retire other completed contractual debts for which no court judgments were obtained. "The sanitary district again is as active business concern," declared Howard W. Elmore, president of the district.

Chief Engineer Edward J. Kelly was instructed to push forward to completion four north shore bridges across the drainage canal paralleling McCormick boulevard. The Church street bridge west of Evanston should be ready for motor traffic within two months, while the bridge at Dempster street, the principal westward highway out of Evanston, should be finished by spring, along with the bridges at Touhy avenue and Devon avenue. For nine months north shore motor traffic has been obstructed by the half completed bridges.

Will Speed Sewage Projects. By Jan. 1 the sanitary district will be accomplishing 100 per cent sewage treatment for an equivalent population of 1,200,000, conforming with the government permit issued in March, 1925, by former Secretary of War John Weeks. Within two months the first unit of the huge west side sewage treatment plant in Stickney will be in operation and the north side works likewise will be completed.

CHECKS REVEAL BROOKLYN JUDGE GOT BANK WAGE

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Evidence that Judge Francis X. Mancuso, of General Sessions, former chairman of the board of directors of the closed City Trust company, received $25,000, at the rate of $1,000 a month, from the late Francesco M. Ferrari, president of the bank, was placed today before the extraordinary grand jury investigating the City Trust scandal in Brooklyn.

Documentary evidence to this effect—namely, checks signed by Ferrari in favor of Mancuso and endorsed by Mancuso—was discovered yesterday in a safe deposit vault in Brooklyn and seized by District Attorney Charles J. Dodd of Kings county and John H. Banton, district attorney of New York county.

In his testimony at the Moreland act inquiry into the $5,000,000 bank failure, Judge Mancuso denied that he had ever received any salary from Ferrari. His post as head of the board, he insisted, then was an honorary one.

Ten checks, paid and cancelled, made out to Francis X. Mancuso, were found in the Brooklyn safe deposit boxes, with a balance sheet and stubs showing that in addition to the checks themselves further payments had been made to the general sessions judge during 1927 and 1928.

HOLMES MAKES AN AMAZING DISCOVERY...

Yesterday Sherlock was terribly depressed by the extreme dearth of crime. But today he is jubilant... for no sooner had he awakened, than he made an amazing discovery!

There below him, a man walked briskly along in the clear, cool air... actually wearing a topcoat, snuggly tailored, handsomely fabric-ed. Autumn had come upon the master sleuth, quite without warning!... and in the form of a superbly smart Challenger topcoat.

He rushed, raced and tore to Browning-King's... bought one for $30 and declared himself Autumn-conscious in an inimitably swank manner.

The new Challenger suits for fall were there, too. And may we say the sartorial stage is all set for you!

G. O. P. CLEANUP GROUP TOILS ON JUDICIAL SLATE

Finds Prominent Lawyers Reluctant to Run.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The "Real Republican" group got busy yesterday on the framing of an independent Republican judicial ticket as a small avalanche of applications poured in for places. A committee appointed to pass upon the candidates is composed of Fred A. Browne, Clay Johnson, Matthew Mills, Homer Cooper, and Nathan William MacChesney.

At the outset one difficulty was experienced in getting lawyers of prominence in their profession and in the community to go on the ticket. Scores of them called up the offices of Edward J. Brundage, former attorney general, who launched the movement to rebuild the Republican party in Cook county. They said they would support the movement actively, but seemed to submit themselves as candidates.

Can't Give Up Income.

The big shots of the bar pointed out that they are making more money than the salary of a judge and could not afford to give up their private practice for a place on the bench. Today an appeal is to be made to some of them to run as a personal sacrifice.

The plans for the independent ticket in relation to the voters the right of choice in the election of judges were changed in one respect. It was decided not to nominate candidates for the two Circuit court vacancies. For these places there are candidates on both the Democratic-Democrat and Republican tickets, and the voters have a selection.

The "Real Republicans" took the ground that to nominate for these places would injure their argument that the purpose is to give back to the electors a choice of candidates at the polls. For the Swanson vacancy on the Circuit bench Municipal Judge Edgar A. Jonas is running on the Republican ticket against Municipal Judge Daniel Trade, a Democrat. Trade, on the Democratic-Democrat ticket. For the Arnold vacancy Municipal Judge Philip J. Finnegan, Democrat, is running against Municipal Judge G. A. Curran, Republican.

Debate Running Full Ticket.

One question under debate is whether a full ticket of independent Republicans shall be nominated for the twenty places on the Superior court. It has been tentatively suggested that twelve nominations be made, in order not to make it too easy a movement against the incumbent sitting judges who are running on the Democratic-Democrat ticket.

It is proposed that no endorsements be made of any sitting judges, but by putting up twelve candidates, supporters of individual sitting judges will be able to vote for them and then over into the independent column without weakening the independent candidates through a scattering of votes. Eight of the sitting judges are Republicans, and nine are Democrats.

Among those spoken of for places on the independent ticket are Municipal Judges Howard W. Hayes, G. F. McKinley, and Harry F. Hixson. Others tentatively mentioned yesterday were Ald. Charles Scribner Eaton, Edwin A. Munger, and William Tudor Appleton. The bulk of the applications with which the committee was inundated yesterday was not of prominent enough type and today a number of leaders of the bar are to be canvassed with a view of getting a ticket that will rate high in the bar profession.

Win Prizes of Cermak.

Applause for the independent Republican movement came yesterday from A. J. Cermak, Democratic county chairman.

"I'm for the placing of an independent ticket in the field," said Mr. Cermak, "because that will accomplish what we sought to bring about, and that is protection of the right of choice by the voters. It will give the electors a selection at the polls. This has been the principle for which we Democrats have consistently fought."

"We tried our utmost to drag the Republican party into a fight, but they ran away. We were against them for the reason it deprives the voter of the right of choosing the judges."

Dismisses Girl's Suit

Against Manufacturer

Superior Judge Michael L. McKinley yesterday dismissed the suit for $100,000 begun two years ago by Miss Ruth Hixson against M. Keith Dunham, president of the Dunham Manufacturing company, 116 South Dearborn street. The action was taken when attorneys announced that a settlement had been made out of court. The suit was based on an incident alleged to have occurred in an apartment at the Embassy hotel occupied by Dunham on Jan. 21, 1927.

Princess Marie Jose of Belgium.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The sudden departure of King Albert for Italy today has revived rumors that the visit is connected with the possibility of the betrothal of Crown Prince Umberto of Italy and Princess Marie Jose of Belgium.

It was announced that during the ten days' stay in Italy King Albert will have an interview with the royal family. Despite the reticence of court officials, it is considered certain that the visit is connected with the matrimonial project, which has been talked of for some years.

It is even expected that the engagement of the Italian prince and Belgian princess will be announced officially this autumn and that the marriage will be given a gorgeous staging in Rome, reports being that Pope Pius will perform the religious ceremony.

DOWIE'S 24 ROOM HOUSE OFFERED FOR SALE IN ZION

Shilo House, the old home of John Alexander Dowie, founder of Zion and the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church in Zion, was offered for sale yesterday by Mrs. E. C. Gring of Newport, Pa., its owner. Mrs. Gring bought the bizarre mansion twenty years ago at a federal receiver's sale to settle the estate.

The house when it was built more than twenty-five years ago, at a cost reported to be in excess of $100,000, was regarded as one of the most unusual in the state. It is of Swiss architecture and contains twenty-four rooms and six baths, finished in marble, which Frank A. Fowler, real estate agent for Mrs. Gring, describes as "Grecian style." The walls of the building are eighteen inches thick and built into them are two fireproof vaults, while the basement contains a number of inclosed fruit cellars. Years ago the house was reported to be connected with the barn, known as Shilo Cottage, by a labyrinth of secret tunnels, but Fowler said he could find no trace of them.

Unlike most of the property in Zion, the Apostolic church has no interest in it. Mrs. Gring having purchased it outright. Before his death in 1907 it was occupied by Dowie and his wife and son, Gladstone, known as "The Unkissed." For a short time after his death the house was used by the Zion church.

$6,000,000 BOND ISSUE ASKED BY FIRE DEPARTMENT

Goodrich Wants It on the November Ballot.

Fire Commissioner Goodrich yesterday requested the council finance committee to place a $6,000,000 bond issue, which would be used for the construction of approximately 50 new firehouses, on the ballot at the Nov. 5 judicial election. The request, made to Ald. John S. Clark (30th), committee chairman, will be acted upon Sept. 24.

Construction of a new loop building to be used by the fire department for headquarters, releasing their present city hall space for other municipal activities, would be included in the improvement program, according to the plans. This building also would house the fire alarm office, fire attorney, and two downtown fire companies.

Plan for New Buildings.

Twenty-nine old buildings, which have been in service many years, would be replaced with modern structures and seventeen new buildings would be erected to serve territories that have been built up within the last few years and have no fire station in the immediate vicinity. Quarters for three companies now housed with others outside their districts are included in the plans, as are a new fireboat and two smaller boats.

"If we are to continue to improve the fire department we must have money," said Commissioner Goodrich. "At the present time there are sections of Chicago two or three miles from a firehouse, which means that a fire can get a headway before the department can get to it."

Many Sides to Work.

"Nor is fighting fires the only business of the department. Permits on new buildings, the removal or correction of conditions that might result in fires, and the detail work that follows on a fire are only several of the score of tasks that are part of our work."

Some of the old buildings which would be replaced have been in service 45 years and others 37 and from 30 to 35 years. Among these are 18 frame buildings and 11 brick structures. Since Goodrich has been commissioner 23 new buildings have been erected and 15 additional companies have been added to the department.

Charges Injury to Girl by Dentist; Asks $25,000

Mrs. Agnes Terry, 382 North Cook street, Barrington, yesterday filed a $25,000 damage suit in the Circuit court in behalf of her daughter, Harriet Jeanette, 12 years old, against Dr. Ernest A. Bertram, Barrington dentist. The bill charges that Dr. Bertram dropped an electric drill on the girl's kneecap, which penetrated the bone and broke off, while he was doing dental work on Dec. 15, 1928. The girl will be crippled permanently as a result of the injury, according to the bill.

CERMAK URGES CITIZEN AID TO END PAY CRISIS

Asks Naming of Business
Men's Committee.

BY CARL WARREN.

President Cermak of the county board proposed yesterday that a committee of bankers and leading business men be called upon to advise the board how to pay its 4,000 corporate fund employees. Their salaries, totaling $400,000, have been overdue since Sept. 15.

"I've done everything I know to do, trying to avert this situation, but now we are up against it," Mr. Cermak declared. "Our employees are waiting for money we simply don't have."

Not long ago Attorney Silas Strawn wrote me a letter suggesting that a citizens' committee take over the city and county finances. I acquiesced in that plan, but haven't heard of it since. I'm in favor now of calling upon Mr. Strawn's group, or any other similar committee, to show us what to do. If they will make up our 1930 budget and slash expenditures as much as they please I'll sign it. That's the way I feel about things now."

Plan Put Up to Board.

Mr. Cermak put the citizens' committee proposal up to the county commissioners at the close of a finance committee meeting at which the pay roll problem was discussed but not solved. It will be taken up again at the board's regular meeting today, to which Mr. Strawn has been invited.

In addition to his views on a citizens' committee the board also expects to receive from Mr. Strawn, who is attorney for several loop banks, a statement as to a temporary loan to the county. All the county financial experts and commissioners said yesterday that the aid of the bankers must be invoked in some way. If they re-

GOVERNMENT MAKES TRAFFIC CONGESTION NATIONAL PROBLEM

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The federal government today moved to solve the traffic congestion problem. A committee of thirty-nine prominent business men and traffic experts was appointed by Secretary Lamont, with E. J. Melen of Chicago as chairman, to study the question. It will hold its first meeting Oct. 10.

The group was appointed as a part of the program of the national conference on street and highway safety, of which Secretary Lamont is chairman. Committees already have been appointed on maintenance of motor vehicles and protection of railway grade crossings and major highway intersections.

use to make an outright loan they probably will be asked to cooperate in one of two other plans outlined at the meeting.

One of these plans came from County Treasurer Hardin, who believes scrip of I. O. U.s. can be handed out in lieu of pay checks. The other proposal that of J. Scott Matthews, chief title examiner, was that all the pay rolls be given to one bank, which would obtain a judgment against the county and pay the employees, holding the judgment at 5 per cent interest as security.

Board Meets Again Today.

"The banks all rushed in to urge us to finance the reassessment," commented Mr. Cermak. "That's caused the trouble. If they don't help us we'll have to give each commissioner a tin cup and go begging on the streets."

"Let's have a tag day," suggested Commissioner Nettlehorst.

"Or put on a rummage sale," added another member.

The upshot of the committee meeting was an agreement that no action would be taken until the formal session of the board today.

Just before the pay roll discussion the committee had before it departmental requests for a number of appropriations, among them that of Sheriff Traeger for renovation of two highway police stations, costing $2,300. Despite the sheriff's warning that "half my policemen will be sick with pneumonia this winter," the committee offered him only $700. Items for digging a well and painting ski slides in the forest preserves were deferred and a handful of requests turned down without examination.

The finance committee meeting was the second of the day. At the first, held during the morning, the committee went into a huddle behind closed doors, emerging a half hour later with a typewritten statement which was handed to newspaper men. It was intended to show "the real reasons for the present financial crisis."

The statement laid all the blame on the delay in tax collections caused by the reassessment program, absolved the county board from responsibility, and wound up with an appeal for approval of the 5 cent tax increase to be submitted to the voters on Nov. 5. The statement failed to mention that the board built its 1928 budget on an estimate of a $225,000,000 increase in valuations which did not materialize. It also ignored the charges made by Chairman Malone of the state tax commission and others that budget waste and extravagance account for the dilemma.

The actual cost of the reassessment was estimated at $1,463,865. Another $1,450,000 was lost because of the failure of the county treasurer to collect tax fees and delinquent taxes and because of additional interest on tax warrants, the statement said. If the county had this $2,913,865, it continued, the pay rolls would be met.

BRITISH DRINKING LESS EACH YEAR; ARRESTS FEWER

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The British are drinking less. Consumption of alcoholic beverages has decreased more than 50 per cent in the last 15 years, according to the licensing statistics of 1928 issued tonight. Last year's production figures, compared with those of 1913, show a decline in beer of 55 per cent and spirits 42 per cent.

Convictions for drunkenness have dropped from 172,130 to 55,642 in the same period, and deaths associated with alcoholism have fallen from 5,817 to 2,433. Last year's convictions for drunkenness, 45,798 men and 8,842 women, is the lowest recorded except for the war years of 1917 and 1918. The number of licensed premises, with a decrease of 470 for the year, is 78,335. Last year's convictions for drunkenness showed a decline of 9,884 over the previous year and indicated fewer arrests during the summer months.

While public houses show a reduction of 25 per cent since 1905, the clubs at which drinks are sold have increased 50 per cent.

BRIDEGROOM OF 3 MONTHS SLAIN; HUNT TWO MEN

Believed Taken for 'Ride';
Jealousy Blamed.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Waukegan, Wis., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—An autopsy conducted by Dr. Edward L. Miloslavich, pathologist, late today revealed that Louis Stricker, 35, employed at the county poor farm here and a husband of three months, was slain by an unidentified assailant late last night.

The suicide theory, which first was advanced when Stricker's body was found in a clump of weeds on the Springdale road, two and one-half miles east of here, was discounted when Dr. Miloslavich found a wound on the dead man's head, resembling a mark such as would have been made by the blow of a hammer.

Stricker also had been shot through the right eye and through the heart. The murder mystery tonight slowly was being untangled by District Attorney Herman Salen and Sheriff Phil Herbrand.

Heard Shots on Road.

Investigation proved that Stricker was killed on the lonely road and dragged into the weeds where his body lay until this morning when discovered by Deputy Sheriff Walter Leskowitz.

Mary Porter, who heard shots last night in the vicinity of where the body was found, went to the spot this morning and found a blood soaked cap. She reported the finding and the investigation followed.

After the slayer fired the shots he drove Stricker's car to Highway 59 where, in his haste to escape, he collided with two automobiles. He jumped from the car, dashed up a six foot embankment and when followed by the drivers of the two cars turned on them.

Threatens Autolists.

"If you follow me, I'll blow your lamps out," he shouted, flashing the revolver with which he is supposed to have shot Stricker. He then turned and disappeared into a woods.

The sheriff's office was attempting to locate two suspects tonight who, it is believed, can shed some light upon the murder.

One is a man seen with Stricker at 815 p. m. Wednesday near the Milwaukee Electric company station in this city. The other is a former sweetheart of the woman Stricker married three months ago.

The theory was forwarded that jealousy caused the former suitor to lure Stricker to take him for a ride and when he reached the lonely road, struck him over the head with a blunt instrument and then shot the prostrate man twice.

WM. WRIGLEY JR. HOPES DEAL FOR HOTEL NO RUMOR

William Wrigley Jr. expressed no surprise last night at reports that he had purchased a considerable interest in the exclusive Biltmore hotel, Los Angeles.

"Perhaps that's true. At least I hope so," said Mr. Wrigley. "I've been dickering for some time through my Los Angeles agent, James A. Gibson, for a block of Biltmore stock owned by James Wood, who is retiring as manager of the hotel to make his home in San Francisco, and perhaps your report means Mr. Gibson has closed the deal."

"In fact," continued Mr. Wrigley, "I've always owned a considerable interest in the Biltmore hotel string, including those in Los Angeles, in Phoenix, Ariz., and in New York."

Mr. Wrigley discounted a rumor that James McE. Bowman, president of the Biltmore corporation, is planning to retire soon. Mr. Bowman has no idea of retirement, Wrigley declared. Mr. Wrigley gave no information as to the probable number of shares involved in the reported deal in Los Angeles.

EDITORS ASSURE PRESIDENT U. S. IS PROSPERING

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Thirty editors of national trade papers, serving all the major industries, at a conference at the White House today, informed President Hoover that business conditions throughout the country are prosperous and that there are indications of continued good business.

The editors have been meeting quarterly with the President since soon after he became secretary of commerce. Today they had expected to continue the questioning of the President as they had done when he was a member of the cabinet. The President chose, however, to do the questioning himself. The editors outlined conditions as they find them.

"Use no soap except Palmolive"

Says NIRAUS, of Madrid

Beauty Specialist Renowned Throughout Spain

Madrid

"Regular cleansing twice a day with Palmolive Soap is my advice to my clients. The effect of the pure palm and olive oils in this soap keeps the skin always in the proper condition."

Luis Niraus
BARCELONA

SPANISH skies are apt to be hard on the skin. Niraus, of Madrid, for that reason urges his charming clients to guard against aging texture by washing with the gentle oils of palm and olive.

"No skin can remain healthy for long unless it is thoroughly cleansed twice a day with soap and water," the great Spanish dermatologists will tell you. And they go on to say, as Tejéro of Barcelona does, that Palmolive is the best soap in their experience, because of its skillful blend of palm and olive oils, the world's most valuable cosmetics.

In fact, Niraus, of Madrid, says definitely: "All my clients are asked to use no soap except Palmolive. Daily cleansings with Palmolive have a tonic and rejuvenating effect on the skin."

Niraus is a skin specialist of wide experience, and he, like Tejéro, has an enviable reputation throughout Spain, where his clients number women of great distinction.

The treatment they both advise is so simple: massage a lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water into the skin. Rinse with warm water, graduated to cold. Then—make-up!

Everywhere that beauty culture is practiced... in every great city of Europe, in American cities, small towns, smart resorts... more than 17,002 beauty specialists recommend the daily use of Palmolive Soap to keep skin young, fresh colored, beautiful.

Never, in the history of beauty culture, has any product had such overwhelming professional endorsement. These experts know the way to skin beauty. They practice their own advice. Their clients are proof of its wisdom.

INDICT GOVERNOR FOR TAKING GIFT OF SCHOOL BOOKS

Kentucky Grand Jury Hits
State Officials.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Indictments charging Gov. Flem D. Sampson and seven members of the state textbook commission with "unlawfully receiving gifts" from publishing companies were returned here today by the Franklin county grand jury, which has been investigating state affairs for three weeks.

The alleged gifts were specified as "a great number of common school textbooks, the exact number, description and time thereof unknown to the grand jury." The books were alleged to have been accepted from eight firms which were seeking to have texts published by them adopted for use in the Kentucky public schools. Under the statute creating the textbook commission and making the governor its ex-officio chairman, a penalty of a fine not exceeding $1,000 and imprisonment of not more than six months in the county jail is provided for a person convicted of receiving "any property of value" from a firm qualified to bid on furnishing books for the public schools which is seeking to have its books adopted by the commission.

Besides Sampson, those indicted were: Frank Y. McChesney, K. R. Cummins, Samuel Walker, W. R. McCoy, Miss Delphia Evans, Robert J. Nickel, and Mrs. George R. Smith.

Three members of the commission were not indicted. They were W. C. Bell, state superintendent of public instruction, ex-officio secretary; H. O. Gray, and George E. Sapp.

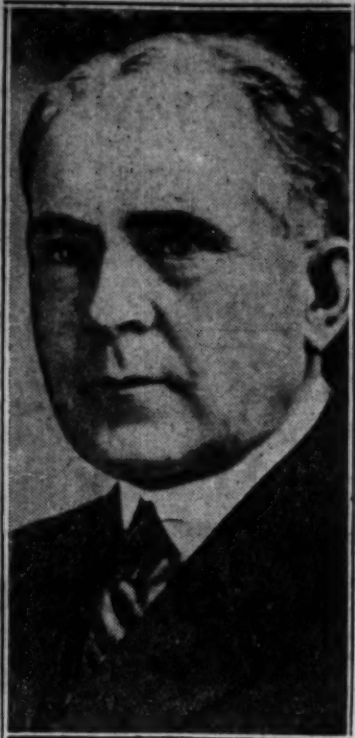

The indictments followed months of unsuccessful efforts to adopt books for the schools for the current year. Sampson, a Republican, was elected in 1927 on a "free schoolbook" issue.

'Human Cannon Ball' Hurt; Fails to Come Out of Gun

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Capt. Wilno, "human cannonball," who has been appearing at the eastern states exposition this week, was injured, probably fatally, today. He failed to come out of the cannon at the explosion of the powder charge. At a hospital his condition was described as grave.

GIRL AIDS BANDIT IN 3 ROBBERIES; SLUG CHAUFFEUR

Assisted by a girl in red slippers, with black bobbed hair and a sharp tongue, a gunman about 22 years old in a Jersey sweater and gray cap executed three stickups within half an hour last night, slugging one victim who could not control his trembling limbs.

The pair hired the Yellow cab of Edward French, 6230 South Justine street, at 7th and State streets and were driven to Grand avenue and Cass street, where French handed over $1. At Grand and Rush street the couple hailed another cab and were driven to 69th street and Champlain avenue, where the driver, Sam Simon, 2014 Indian avenue, was slugged by the man as the girl took $2.75 from his pockets.

Simon was reporting his experience to police in the Jackson Park hospital as surgeons sewed up a scalp wound when the same pair entered the ice cream parlor of Hyman Bortnick at 2853 West 23d street, took $58 from the till and jewelry worth $175 from his wife, Beatrice. Before departing they pulled the fuses from the lighting circuit, locked all doors of the place and threw away the keys.

KYLE APPEALS AND STAYS OUT OF BRIDEWELL

Drunken Driving Case Is Taken to Higher Court.

Joseph Kyle, wealthy real estate operator, continued yesterday to keep on jump ahead of his sentence for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Kyle, who was ordered to serve a 90 day sentence in the Bridewell and pay a fine of $100, has been in and out of the Bridewell twice since sentence was passed on Aug. 21 by Judge Samuel Trude of the Municipal Court. He was in again yesterday—but it was only to pass through the office of the county workhouse—to produce his court papers showing that he is still entitled to be at liberty.

Cell Ready, But Still Waits.

Judge Otto Kern, who last week granted Kyle his liberty on bond pending the outcome of a habeas corpus writ hearing, was ready yesterday morning to put the real estate dealer back in a cell. Assistant State's Attorney Q. J. Chott had found the law showing that Judge Trude had properly sentenced Kyle to the Bridewell, where he would have to work, instead of the county jail.

Kyle was not present in court. When inquiry was made about this, Attorney Louis Greenberg said his client, anticipating an adverse decision, was at that moment in the Appellate court making a supersedeas bond. Kyle arrived before Judge Kern a short time later and produced a bond signed by Judge David F. Matchett of the Appellate court. This bond provides for his liberty while the higher court reviews the decision of Judge Trude.

His Auto Kills Farmer.

Kyle first became involved in trouble in 1922 when his automobile knocked over a farmer's truck, killing C. C. Hudson, 80 years old. He was convicted of manslaughter, but received a new trial and after 40 confessions was found not guilty at the trial of the case.

His latest escape was the injuring of a milkman in June when his automobile collided with a wagon. He at that time was just finishing up a cabaret tour when the accident occurred.

Dog Leads Woman to Body of Brother Hanging in Shed.

The protracted hearing of her brother's case, Ginger, summoned Mrs. William E. Abell to a shed in the rear of her home, 1425 Washington street, Evanston, yesterday afternoon. Hanging from a staple in the shed, she found the body of her brother, Clarence H. Cartier, 37 years old, an employee of the Commonwealth Edison company, who had been ill recently but planned returning to work next Monday. A rescue squad of the Public Service company worked an hour over Cartier's body before he was pronounced dead.

PROPOSES HUNT FOR PROPAGANDA BACKING PACKER DECREE PLEA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Investigation by the federal trade commission to determine whether the generally favorable attitude of farm organizations, particularly livestock cooperatives, toward modification of the so-called packers' consent decree is influenced by Chicago packers' propaganda, was proposed in the senate today by Senator Gerald P. Nye, [Rep., N. D.].

The resolution recalled that the consent decree strictly limiting the operations of the packers to the processing of meats was a result of the federal trade commission's war time food trust investigation.

In their petitions pending before the District Supreme court, the Chicago "big four" packers, Armour and company, Swift and company, Wilson and company and the Cudahy Packing company, ask for modification of the decree to permit them to operate retail stores handling unrelated food lines, and to have interest in stock yards, terminal railways and market journals.

TWO ARRESTED IN DRIVE TO RID CITY OF QUACKS

Two arrests yesterday featured the opening of the campaign of Clyde I. Backus, assistant director of the state department of registration and education, to throw all quack healers and medical practitioners into jail on charges of practicing without licenses.

Henry Bormann of Congress Park was seized by inspectors on a warrant obtained on the complaint of Carl Damerou, who died of tuberculosis yesterday in the county hospital. Damerou told inspectors several days ago he left Oak Forest infirmary, where he was improving, on Bormann's promise to cure him. He said he read Bormann's advertisement in a newspaper and answered it.

Mr. Backus declared he will ask State's Attorney Swanson to take action against Bormann on more serious charges than practicing without a license.

The other practitioner arrested was James E. Johnson, a colored man of 3721 South State street. Both will be arraigned on Sept. 24 before Judge James F. Fardy in the Municipal court. They are liable to a fine of $500 or a year in the county jail, or both.

Scotch Youth, Guilty of Holdup, May Be Deported

David Chapman, 18 years old, a Scotch youth who was arrested Tuesday night on a charge of robbing Hyman Grossman, 3256 Polk street, a taxicab driver, of $14, may be sent back to Scotland. This was indicated yesterday by Judge Francis Allegretti in Boys' court after he had sentenced Chapman to six months in the Bridewell and suspended the sentence until Nov. 7 to investigate the case. Chapman told Judge Allegretti he was driven to robbery by poverty.

of a truck loaded with graphite, believing that he had the third booze shipment.

Enraged at the impudence of the rival gangsters, the Capone mob, according to the present theory, ordered the slaying.

Inquiry Stopped by Dry.

The taking of the beer load to the Gary police station has become known in the Calumet region as the "Carling incident," in deference to its label.

Some evidence has been presented to the grand jury already, it is claimed, relative to a decision on the part of Lake county authorities to investigate the fate of the beer. But the investigation was stopped, it is also claimed, on the grounds that a prohibition official, not from Indiana, wished to include the transportation of the load in a liquor conspiracy case he was engaged in preparing.

The testimony of Nick Marovich, whose brother Urosh was slain in a bootleg war in Hammond, is said to have been largely a repetition of the charges he made several months ago in an affidavit, in which he said he paid $250 on two occasions to Chief of Police James W. Reagan of East Chicago to take care of liquor violations.

Reagan is one of the principal defendants in the proceedings thus far, having been arrested with Mayor Raleigh P. Hale, Attorney Lester Ottenheimer and more than 100 others in a raid at East Chicago on Aug. 19.

WOOD MURDER TRIAL TO REACH JURY TOMORROW

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The Wood-Holt-Sullivan murder case will be given to the jury Saturday. There were unexpected moves today by both the defense and the prosecution. The first was the resting of the prosecution after making no effort to introduce the "mystery witness" that had been talked of to prove that Ralph A. Wood, Herbert Sullivan, and Cecil W. Holt conspired to and did on night of Jan. 9, last, kill Ambrose L. Haggerty on the steps of Wood's real estate office in Wyandotte.

Next came the action of the defense, after having asked Judge Adolph F. Marschner to direct the jury to return a verdict of acquittal, deciding not to wait a ruling on this request, resting its case, willing to leave its client's fate to the jury without introducing even one witness.

Judge Marschner, however, overruled the motion for a direct verdict with a statement that facts were such that a jury should decide.

Arguments to the jury were begun at 2 p. m.

CAROLINA LABOR PRISONERS START SOVIET COLLEGE

Jail Classes Result from Textile Strike Raids.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—While North Carolina raiders are making nightly sorties on communist nests a radical "university" has been founded in a little sovietized corner of Mecklenburg county jail.

The nucleus of this prison "college" includes the thirteen men and boys charged with the murder of Police Chief O. F. Aderholt. Classes are held twice daily. A library of more than 100 inflammatory books provides the text matter. New York's east side has sent the teachers—Fred Neal and Clarence Miller, alleged leaders in the Gastonia murder. The state of North Carolina pays for the classrooms and board and lodging for the "students."

Jeer at Religion.
Today your correspondent visited the prison "university." He was accompanied by the jailer and Thaddeus E. Adams, a dignified Baptist lawyer at this city, who represents the bolshevik prisoners.

"Here's a swell book on religion," jeered one of the student prisoners, an emaciated but morally emancipated little hill billy, as he held up a red-backed volume. "It will learn you a thing or two about that stuff." Two large cracker boxes filled with communistic books and pamphlets rested on the floor of the cell tier. Meanwhile, outside, North Carolina continued frantically trying to rid itself of a communistic plague. There are plenty of radicals down here. That is one statement that can be written with certainty. There is no strike or union fight. All that has been almost forgotten. The battle is between imported communism and an alarmed middle class citizenship.

Has Hit the Industry.
The "mill barons," as the communists call them, are in this fight because their purses have been hit. Production has fallen off in almost every mill since the radicals invaded Dixie. The east is not ordering from the south for fear of delayed delivery, and western capital is wary of putting money into a strife torn textile center. The communists have a mission to

500,000 REDS OF FRANCE THREATEN TO INVADE U. S.

Stop 'Outrages' in Dixie, Letter Warns.

BY ROBERT SAGE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Sept. 19.—[What the governor of South Carolina said to the governor of North Carolina is nothing compared to what the French communists today said to the same gentlemen, only it probably meant more.] The French Reds dispatched a stinging letter to the government of North Carolina concerning the Gastonia troubles. They threaten to come to the United States en masse to see that justice is done if the state government did not do "something" about the riots at once.

Will not Tolerate 'Outrages.'
"We will do everything necessary to prevent the electrocution and jailing of American proletarians, whose only crime has been to defend their salaries, their liberty and their existence itself," the bolsheviks declare ominously.

They assert that they are no longer going to tolerate "the outrages committed against the striking textile workers in North Carolina," and signed the bristling letter "Five hundred thousand French communist workers."

Four factory workers, accompanied by a girl agitator, yesterday marched on the American embassy in Paris and presented the first draft of the protest to Norman Armour, chargé d'affaires. They were led by Marcel Cachine, communist deputy.

Reds Get Embarrassed.
Mr. Armour, however, politely informed the rather embarrassed delegates that the state government, and not the federal government, is the one to whom a protest should be addressed.

The delegation quietly withdrew. Later an indignation meeting was called and a new letter drawn.

FINDS REMNANT OF A 4,000,000 MILE ICE CAP

MacMillan Is Back from Arctic.

Wiscasset, Me., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Locating the last remnant of the ice cap which once covered 4,000,000 square miles of the earth was one of the outstanding accomplishments related today by members of the Arctic expedition of Lieut. Commander Donald B. MacMillan just returned from three months in the north.

Other noteworthy achievements were a collection of specimens for a comparative study of sea and brook trout, and the first scientific collection of flora and fauna from Frobiisher's bay region.

The Bowdoin, sturdy schooner which has taken the explorer north for several years and which this summer withstood a twelve day assault by an ice pack, anchored off Newagen early this morning. Nine men accompanied MacMillan on the cruise which started from here on June 22.

Commander MacMillan, seated before a crackling log fire at Newagen, related how he found the ice cap "Meta Inognia," (unknown land) between Frobiisher's bay and Hudson strait. Only a few days before the Bowdoin was caught in the ice pack off Lok's Land and lifted clear of the water by the pressure of the ice. An eddy whirled the pack, loosened the ice, and the schooner slid back into the water. MacMillan made his way from the pack later by trailing a large berg.

The ice cap, which was described by the explorer as actually two ice caps, now covers 700 square miles, and, so far as he could determine, was receding or becoming smaller.

For years scientists have sought information concerning the possible remainder of this ice cap of the pleistocene period, which covered all of New England with solid ice to a depth of 5,000 feet, leaving only a tip of Mount Washington showing. It is estimated that the ice cap existed for 35,000 years.

Shortness of time prevented the MacMillan party from erecting rock cairns to mark the farthest point of the ice cap, but photographs were made which can be used in determining definitely next year if it is receding.

Motorists May Deduct Gas Tax from Levy on Income spread. The so-called new south sought to meet the communists on their own ground and combat their teachings with teachings of its own, but failed. Motivated, a certain class of citizenship grew tired of waiting. Now the night riders are riding. Last night's foray of automobile terrorists failed because the communist "speakers" sat at the rear sight of a Gastonia auto tag. Sam Phifer, Hubert Cortel and Paul Shepherd, district radical leaders, slipped into Charlotte headquarters early this morning, being chased through three counties in North and South Carolina. They went in hiding and would see no outsider.

Small bands of night riders are making pilgrimages, but seldom bag a radical. "The communists are holding secret 'speaking' every night."

Quiet at Charlotte.

Tonight the colony in Charlotte is a shade lighter. Ben Wells, the stubby little British communist, left to seek a meeting in Washington with Sir Gene Howard, British ambassador. Hugo Oehler, the only leader game enough to go to Ella May Wiggins' funeral Tuesday, went with him. Four separate investigations of the flogging of Cleo Tessner, the Baltimore radical who was beaten early Tuesday, were under way today. The personal representative of Gov. O. Max Gardner, N. A. Townsend, was investigating; L. T. Spurling, solicitor of the Cleveland district, was busy; Sheriff I. M. Allen of Cleveland was seeking clues to the three night riders, and the international labor defense sleuth had on his gum shoes.

HOW TO ADORN SNAPPY TROOP IS A PROBLEM

Backers Agree Uniforms
Must Be Chic.

The sleek black mounts which are to form Chicago's Black Horse troop are to wear snappy white trappings to set them off, but it remains to be determined just what regalia will adorn their riders when the price of Wales comes calling or the politicians come marching home.

The committee of prominent men and women who have the important detail to decide met yesterday at a luncheon in the Blackstone hotel, where Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keen, commanding officer of the Illinois National Guard, of which the troop is a unit, presided. They pored over the fascinating collection of sketches and photographs of famous troops of foreign countries, but no decision was offered as to whether the 100 troopers will wear royal purple, turquoise blue, wine red, or Robin Hood green uniforms.

In other words, the style of glory that will distinguish the Black Horse troop as Chicago's pride on official and pompous occasions cannot be settled, the committee found, by merely looking at a catalog of mounted horses. So there is a possibility that a prize award may be offered for uniform designs to be submitted by art students or others. Thus a uniform truly Chicago's own may be fashioned.

The committee which will select the uniform and also make plans for the Black Horse troop's coming out party at a mounted exhibition during the Christmas holidays at the Chicago Rides

CLIMBS INTO PLANE VIA ROPE LADDER AT 10,000 FEET IN AIR

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The endurance plane, Buffalo Evening News, being piloted over Buffalo airport by Jack Little and Merle Moltrup, was forced to descend tonight when the hose of the refueling plane smashed into the vertical fin, virtually paralyzing the tail surface. The plane had been aloft 198 hours.

The end of the flight followed upon the accomplishment of one of the most difficult feats in aviation—the transfer at the height of 10,000 feet of a mechanic to repair a partly disabled plane.

Dale Dryer, daring pilot and mechanic, took off at 5 p. m. in a standard cockpit plane piloted by Shorty Bittner, air mail pilot, to board the endurance ship and fix the stabilizer, damaged by heavy weather.

Prior to Dryer's attempt a 55 foot rope ladder had been taken aloft by the refueling plane, piloted by Dale's brother, Ernie, and had been let down to the endurance ship. Bittner piloted his plane directly under the endurance plane. The rope ladder was lowered. Dryer clutched at it twice and missed but the third attempt he caught the ladder, swung from his plane and climbed until under the endurance plane. He was assisted into the cabin by Moltrup.

He made the repairs and leaped to the ground in a parachute.

The club is headed by Mrs. Waller Borden as chairman. Others are Mrs. Earl Reynolds, Mrs. Leonard A. Busby, Mrs. Keen, Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, Samuel Insull Jr., Eames MacVeach, Britton I. Budd, Capt. Maxwell M. Corpenning, commander of the troop; Lieut. John T. Knight, second in command, and Albert Cook, high school bandmaster.

Officers for the recently incorporated Black Horse Troop association of Chicago were named yesterday. They are: Mr. Busby, president; Mr. Budd, vice president; Frederick H. Rawson, treasurer. The directors are Mr. Insull, Frank O. Wetmore, Harold Foreman, and Lawrence Whiting.

LONG RECORD OF FELONS DODGING JUSTICE BARED

granted Berman a year's probation on a plea of guilty.

Before these hearings Judge Michael L. McKinley had reduced bonds fixed by the grand jury and Berman had jumped bail in each case. Later the bond forfeitures were set aside by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

Louis Arnold, alias Louis Gordon, alias Sherman, was indicted on Nov. 19, 1928, for robbery. The felony was advanced by Judge Gemmill, who sentenced Arnold to a year in the Bridge-well, although the record in the case showed Arnold had served a term in a Pennsylvania reformatory in 1918 and had on April 22, 1928, jumped his bail in a burglary charge before Judge John A. Bugoe. Other high spots in the record of the pair follow:

Nov. 19, 1928—Berman and Arnold caught by Capt. Harding's police squad in the act of burglarizing the home of Mrs. Frank H. Ault, 1528 Farwell-avenue. A search of the men's homes disclosed loot identified as stolen in many previous burglaries.

Find Bonds Worthless.

Nov. 27, 1928—Judge Peter H. Schwab held both men to grand jury in nine cases, fixing bail at $5,000 on each charge. The same day Judge Joseph Burke and Albert George accepted bonds and released both men. The crime commission found the bonds to be worthless.

Dec. 14, 1928—Both men indicted on four charges. While the grand jury was returning indictments the Los Angeles police wired they had arrested both men for burglaries. Judge John J. Sullivan forfeited their bonds.

Feb. 14, 1929—Chicago police advanced $500 to bring men back to Chicago. Bondsman demanded vacation of forfeiture, and after he paid police expenses, the forfeiture was set aside.

March 3—Berman released on bail, amount reduced by Judge John J. Sullivan.

March 22—Arnold released on bail, also with reduction in bail by same judge.

May 17—Berman arrested for robbery in home of John Early, 5571 Monroe street. Held to grand jury by Judge Edgar A. Jonas, indicted, and released on bond fixed by grand jury at $15,000, and reduced by Judge Sullivan to $11,000.

July 5—Masked man attempting to hold up Mrs. Fannie Salinger, 106 South Menard avenue, runs away when she screams; is pursued at scene by policeman. The robber falls and breaks his arm. It is Arnold. He is indicted on July 8, and released on bonds fixed by grand jury at $15,000, and reduced by Judge Sullivan to $10,000.

Teeth decay Pyorrhea gets its start unless you act

Ordinary ways fail in removing FILM

Employ this special method known to millions

GERMS cause tooth decay. Germs plus tartar are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Virtually every common disease of teeth and gums results from germ infection.

There is but one way known to fight germs and safeguard teeth and gums. You must remove a slippery, stubborn film that glues bacteria to the tooth's enamel. Film forms in crevices and clings so tenaciously that ordinary brushing fails to remove it successfully.

Today dentists are urging patients by the millions to turn from other ways to the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent. It acts in an utterly different way—you will note the difference from ordinary tooth pastes the instant it touches your teeth—first it curdles film and then REMOVES IT SAFELY. No pumice, no harmful grit or crude abrasive, but a scientific action that recommends it for the most sensitive teeth and gums.

No other way can make teeth so dazzling white—nor give such protection. Write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago.

FIGHT ON PHONE FRANCHISE COSTS CITY $183,800

Of That Amount Only
$50,000 Paid.

The city's expense in fighting the Illinois Bell Telephone company in the federal court and in negotiating with the company for a new franchise total $183,800 for the period ending Aug. 31, of which $133,323 remains unpaid. The unpaid bills of attorneys and other experts employed in both cases were listed yesterday by Corporation Counsel E. H. Hines, who, with Ald. Jacob M. Arvey (24th), chairman of the council gas-oil committee, must approve them before they can be paid.

$9,000,000 Rebate Sought.

An appropriation of $50,000 in the city's budget was expended in the first few months of litigation and negotiations. Attorneys in the court case, in which a rebate of more than $9,000,000 is sought for the telephone subscribers, also are collecting data for use in drafting a new franchise and the council headed a request for an additional appropriation of $150,000.

Three members of the law firm of Haight, Adcock & Banning have unpaid bills for 604 1/2 days at $100 a day, which amount, with other expenses, to $64,600, the report shows. Attorney Benjamin F. Goldstein, who is paid at the rate of $20 an hour, has pay coming for 1,564 1/2 hours, amounting to $31,297. The J. G. Wray firm of engineers and valuers seeks to collect $17,465 for 359 days at various rates, depending on the ability of the employer.

Incidentals Add $11,357 More.

Other expenses incurred include the services of W. H. Crumb, engineer, who charged at the rate of $100 a day for 85 days, and Fred A. Krehbiel, also an engineer, who has sent in a bill for 1400 to cover his work for four days. Court reporting and printing account for $11,357 more.

With only $16,168 remaining in the appropriation it appeared yesterday as though the council would be called upon to transfer funds to meet this month's expenses. Completion of the franchise negotiations awaits a settlement of the court case, which the city's attorneys yesterday felt would be soon.

North and West Sides Request $250,000,000 Car Extensions

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

South side business organizations last Tuesday asked for $152,000,000 worth of added local transportation. Yesterday the west and north sides together requested an estimated $250,000,000 of extensions. The public, as represented by these organizations, therefore desires $4 per cent more in added transit facilities than the present $260,000,000 invested in the surface and elevated lines.

The present companies have suggested a maximum of $200,000,000 in transit improvements and betterments. That was on Sept. 6. In the intervening two weeks the Frankhauser subcommittee of the city council has not decided whether it will urge that amount of new money or a smaller amount. The companies claim that a larger expenditure for additions would necessitate an increase in fares, to which the aldermen are opposed.

Where Situation Rests.

There this phase of the transportation problem rests, in the Frankhauser subcommittee, while the summer has gone and the autumn is running fast. This subcommittee has met twice this week and called it a week's work. It also met twice last week. It plans to meet next Monday or Tuesday.

General aldermanic interest seems to be centered in something other than the so-called transportation problem. When the south sides were heard eleven of the nineteen aldermen were not present. Yesterday when the voice of the north and west sides was heard eighteen of the thirty-one aldermen from those two divisions of the city were missing. One of the members of the subcommittee listened to perhaps one-third of the first part of yesterday's meeting, another attended the last half, and a third did not appear.

Calls Meeting for Monday.

A meeting of the council committee on local transportation has been called for Monday by Chairman Joseph B. McDonough, who is one alderman who appears to want to obtain more satisfactory transportation. This meeting is to discuss the valuations at which the surface and elevated roads will consolidate into a comprehensive system. The subcommittee's total for both systems is approximately $260,000,000, which Ald. Albert and William Hughes Clark, a bond dealer, are expected to attack. The hearing yesterday or please for more transportation was largely the equivalent of a request for transportation on every section and half section line either by street cars or buses with numerous elevated structures fan-tailing out in various directions. In comparison with the area involved the north and west sides requested much more transit than did the south side.

Wide Range of Plans.

Some organizations asked for what they thought they might obtain, others for transportation which they publicly said they did not expect to secure, and one representative presented an "ideal plan."

To serve the same communities two and three routes were suggested by two or three organizations. Tomaz Deuther of the Northwest Side Commercial association presented a completed rapid transit system for the entire city, aside from loop subways. He had an elevated running from the village of Des Plaines on the north-west side, through Chicago to Blue Island and Harvey on the south side. While the south sides presented four suggestions on a route of the elevated to South Chicago, Mr. Deuther presented a fifth. It is possible to present all of the suggestions made, but until they are correlated, duplications eliminated, and an interpretation given to mixed requests, the list would be a hodge podge.

Kelker to Correlate Requests.

To Maj. R. F. Kelker, engineer of the committee, was assigned the task of correlating the requests and estimating the cost of the construction desired. The two days of hearing are conclusive that the outlying business and civic organizations desire more transportation, and several plans were made yesterday for more speed. A number of speakers told the aldermen of other provisions they desire in the ordinance.

Among the speakers were Tomaz Deuther of the Northwest Side Commercial association, O. W. Holmes of the Northwest Federation of Improvement Clubs, M. James Flynn of the Central Northwest Business Men's association, H. J. Ruggles of the West Town chamber of commerce, F. C. Goswiler of the West Ridge Improvement association, Emmet T. Flood of the Fifth Ward Transportation club, Marcus A. Colberg of the Northwest Side Civic federation, John C. Bowers of the Central Union association, Mrs. W. H. Wright of the Suburban council, Albert F. Keeney of the North Avenue Business Men's association, Frank J. Bielek of the Southwest Side Business association, and Al Beaudry of the North Austin club.

LONG CASE LOST BY WARSHAWSKY PAYS $200 FINE

Vacate Penalty.

Municipal Judge Alfred O. Erickson put to a sudden end yesterday the long string of continuances in the suit of the city against Israel R. Warshawsky for violation of fire prevention ordinances. He denied a motion to vacate a $200 fine and Warshawsky handed over a check for that amount.

In addition to paying his fine Mr. Warshawsky on the witness stand assured the judge that within the last two weeks he has complied with the ordinances and that he will cooperate with fire prevention officials in the future.

Case Continued 35 Times.

Judge Erickson's action brought to a close a case which has brought a barrage of criticism upon City Prosecutor Frank Peska and several Municipal court judges. Warshawsky is a son-in-law of Morris Elder, Republican boss of the 20th ward. On Dec. 10, 1927, he was charged with maintaining a fire trap in his junk warehouse, the old Alhambra theater, at 1900-34 South State street. The case was continued thirty-five times.

Last July Judge Erickson levied the $200 fine, but the motion to vacate was continued five times by Judge George B. Holmes. It was reassigned to Erickson Wednesday. Warshawsky had never appeared in court on the case until yesterday when he came accompanied by his attorney, Frederick Plotke, 127 South Dearborn street. Assistant Prosecutors George O'Connell and George Sugarman and Lieutenants F. J. Prindiville and Frank Murphy were present for the city.

"We knew nothing about these continuances, your honor," Warshawsky told the court. "I have seen the fire prevention people from time to time, and now I have done everything they wanted me to do."

Changes Made Recently.

"Most of the changes were made within the last two weeks, since the newspapers started talking, weren't they?" asked Lieut. Prindiville. The attorney admitted it.

The judge then overruled the motion to vacate and Warshawsky paid the fine.

Patrick J. Egan, head of the fire prevention bureau, announced later that he is considering bringing another suit against Warshawsky for failing to put a sprinkler system in his basement, but that first he would have to secure a legal interpretation of the ordinance. Meanwhile, he said, his men will make daily inspections of the Warshawsky warehouse.

COURT SESSION HELD IN PLANE ABOVE NEW YORK

Flight Shows Judge Technical Ideas.

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—A court session in the air today was held in a biplane flying over the scene of an accident which resulted in the death of a man. The hearing was held in a biplane piloted by W. H. Alexander, who killed two persons at a landing on Sept. 7 when he landed on a beach.

The session was at the controls of the biplane. His attorney, William H. Alexander, sat in the cabin with Dr. Simon Abrams of the district attorney's office; Samuel Bernstein, a photographer, who made a record of the hearing; and two newspaper men, another plane filled with cameras and other reporters flew in the wake of the magistrate's plane.

The purpose was over the lower bay of the beach at Coney, where Alexander made a landing in the biplane. The purpose was to enable the magistrate to get at first hand information on how Alexander guided and landed the airplane.

The tip was suggested to the court by Dr. Alexander, after Alexander had told him of his story in the homicide case.

Alexander, who had held a pilot's license since 1911 and who said he had the elements of flying to command, said that his fuel was low the afternoon he came down in a crash on the beach.

He said he had seen the crowd and a cluster of rocks. He was heading for the rocks to avoid the crowd when he hit a bathing pole and veered around.

Magistrate Hagley after the flight said he would reserve decision. Of his flight he observed that "it was a perfectly wonderful experience."

BIDS OPEN ON 6 PAVING JOBS; TO COST $500,000

The county board yesterday opened bids for six small but important paving jobs that will cost approximately $500,000. The roads and the mileage are:

Lawrence avenue, 0.32 mile at 800 line
50th avenue, 0.32 mile gap
4th road, Ogden avenue to Butterfield road, 2.5 miles.

Ogden avenue, Simpson to Jarvis road, 2.5 miles.
4th road, 11th to 127th street, crossing bridge over the Little Calumet river, 1.5 miles.

Southwest highway, a grade separation at 234 street.

At the same meeting, the board divided the contractor widening Milwaukee avenue to extend the four lane pavement through the village of Wheeling, a distance of 1.5 miles. It was decided to advertise for bids for the widening of Lake street for 1/2 mile in Maywood.

President Cermak of the board said the projects were too important to award possible construction by the state next year from the gasoline tax, but that the improvements must be made before winter.

PROTEST AGAINST MICHIGAN, GRAND REASSESSMENT

Protest against the reassessment of property in the vicinity of Michigan and Grand avenues was made yesterday by Harry S. Cutmore, director of the reassessment, by a committee from the Michigan Avenue association. Property owners contend that the assessment is too high.

Harry Wolbach, spokesman for the committee, declared that the property should be valued at $48 a square foot instead of at $53 as fixed by the assessment. He introduced leases and receipts of recent sales in the area to substantiate the claim. Director Cutmore called a meeting to air the complaint for next Monday.

Eight hundred North Town property owners have compared old and new values in the offices of the board of assessors since Monday. Only six have filed formal complaints. It was reported today is the last day for filing objections.

AVIATION NOTES

The Detroit Aircraft corporation expects to build four all metal dirigibles of the Graf Zeppelin size and type, with the contracts involving not less than $18,000,000 for the four, according to Edward S. Evans, president of the company. Since the delivery of the XMC-2, which is the first all metal dirigible to be built, to the navy department at Lakehurst, N. J., negotiations are in progress for the construction of two more for commercial purposes and two for military uses.

The Detroit Aircraft corporation also has announced the purchase of Park's Air College, Inc., of St. Louis, with a student registration of 800.

A meeting of the Women's Pioneer Aircraft association will be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the Illinois Women's Athletic club, according to an announcement by Dr. Irene Behnke, president. Gov. and Mrs. Zimmerman will be named as honorary members of the organization, which is composed of founder presidents of twenty-five local women's aviation groups in the city. Charles S. Peterson, city treasurer; James R. Howe, an attorney, and George Dixon will be appointed members of the club's advisory board, according to Dr. Behnke. The association purposes to make Chicago women more air-minded. Plans will be discussed for a banquet in October.

There is small prospect of all first class mail being handled by air carriers in the near future, in the opinion of Carl F. Egge, president of the National Air Pilots' association. Mr. Egge, who was the first general superintendent of air mail under former Postmaster General Harry S. New, was in Chicago yesterday en route over the Universal Air lines to Kansas City for the air transport meeting.

S. P. Bridgers of Willis Point, Tex., has telegraphed Chicago police for information concerning his aviator son, Raymond P. Bridgers, who was supposed to have been injured in a crash here Sept. 14.

PART OF WACKER DRIVE MADE BUS LOADING STATION

No parking signs were installed yesterday on Wacker drive from the London Guaranty building to a point about 200 feet west of Michigan avenue, restricting the area for use as a loading station for Chicago Motor Coach company buses. All transfers from north side to south side buses will be made in Wacker drive, relieving the congestion in Michigan avenue, south of the drive.

The change was made at the request of the North Central association, which started its campaign to eliminate the Michigan avenue congestion a year ago. At that time the left turn lane was established at Lake street, to permit buses to drive around the block and avoid a complete turn at the link bridge.

THE PRESIDENT ON THE RADIO.

The President's radio address from the eloquent surroundings of the historic study in the east wing was a timely appeal to the nation's past on behalf of the nation's future. We are about to enter upon negotiations which may well bring results momentous in the history of our nation and of the world. At such a time it is especially advisable that we draw inspiration and guidance from the example of our forefathers and the wisdom of our great men. President Hoover, speaking in a room crowded with the memories of the courage and the high accomplishment of the American Presidents, invites the American people to approach with him the important problems of international adjustment before us in the spirit of American statesmanship, and he may be confident his appeal will not fail. He may be confident his appeal of today, like their predecessors, hate war and desire nothing which justice and the ethics of civilized mankind would not assure to them without recourse to it. He may be confident, and we think he is confident, that his countrymen will strongly support every effort he makes to insure international peace consistently with a due regard for the realities of international conditions and with our right to self-defense and self-preservation.

Mr. Hoover was especially happy in his reference to this unbroken and consistent disposition of our people and our greatest statesmen to the maintenance of peace and good relations with other nations. It is a truth which we have a right to emphasize when we are confronting great powers themselves heavily armed, and seeking the limitation and reduction of the very moderate armament the United States maintains. American armament threatens no one. The American navy has never served an unjust cause. There is nothing in the history or the character of the American people or of their policy which gives grounds for fear that it will be used as an instrument of unlawful aggression. On the contrary, if there is danger to just peace in the negotiations for limitation and reduction of naval armament it will result from an inadequacy of our power to defend it and not from an excess. We need only revert to those national memories which Mr. Hoover wisely raises in the national mind to realize this. Pacifism denies us the right to be strong. Our history and our national character assert that right and proclaim it as a duty to ourselves, our posterity and the cause of peace with justice wherever our influence may run.

As Mr. Hoover well said, the task of maintaining peace is a problem which has faced every President since the founding of the republic, and that while there has never been a President who did not pray that his administration should be one of peace, none has hesitated when war became the duty of the nation. In this consideration lies the duty of every President and of the nation at all times to maintain an adequate strength, and if in the noble urge for peace and amity with all peoples we permit our strength to be shackled or to decay we betray our own high destiny and the cause of peace itself.

The external interests and responsibilities of the American nation are extending rapidly and bear an increasingly important relation to our domestic and individual peace and prosperity. We have already the greatest water-borne commerce in the world. The defense of our rights of peaceful trade and communication is of rapidly increasing importance to our people's welfare, of the farmer on his inland fields, of the wage earner, and of the growing army of investors in American and foreign enterprises, large and small—in short, of all our people dependent, as they all are, upon the maintenance of our industry and our trade. The defense of these peaceful interests is of vital moment to us and offers to no peacefully disposed nation just provocation or cause of alarm. That defense it is our duty and the duty of our government at all times to maintain, and there is nothing in a judicious observation of world conditions today or in the history of mankind hitherto which can justify us in a final reliance upon any defense save that of our own strength. Treaties and understandings may be measures of wise policy conducive to our peace and prosperity. We are foremost of nations in our readiness to enter upon them and in good faith to observe them. But their worth is in our strength to make them respected.

HOW TARIFFS ARE MADE.

The senators of the far western states are organizing for the tariff battle. They have formed an offensive and defensive alliance. The senators from the northwest will vote for high duties on California's fruits if California's senators vote for the northwest's duties on shingles. And so on. The eastern manufacturing interests have long had such an understanding. Their bloc is led by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania. The senators from those Gulf states which seek protection for their sugar industry are, as usual, to be found organized on a trading basis. Only the spokesmen for the central states, for whose farmer constituents the present tariff bill is supposed to be written, are disorganized. As long as they remain so the farmers may expect little, if any, relief from the tariff.

We are by no means convinced that tariff bills are best written by blocs, log rollers and back scratchers. It would no doubt be better for the country if the schedules were arrived at with regard only for the economic welfare of the country as a whole. Unfortunately, the system of tariff making illustrated by the newly organized far western bloc is a fact. As long as the system is followed by others and not by midwesterners the central states will suffer and the other sections will benefit at our expense.

THE LINCOLN PARK EXTENSION.

As the Lincoln park lake front extension plan approaches realization the question arises whether the exclusively park features of the development have been subordinated to the boulevard project. The automobile has diverted the interest of the park board from recreation to highways. North side motorists have demanded a speedway of the commissioners and quite properly it is being provided. Soon the north side will be as accessible as the south.

In the construction of the lake front boulevard, playground development has not altogether been neglected, but it has been slighted. The breakwater off Wilson avenue behind which a fill is being made extends about half a mile into the lake. The new park facilities thus provided may be adequate for a number of years, but future generations will regret that the project was not more generously conceived. Probably three times as much new land could have been captured at perhaps not twice the cost if the breakwater had been extended a mile into the lake.

The Lincoln park board will submit to referendum in November a bond issue proposition to finance further extensions and the voters undoubtedly will authorize the expenditure. The park and boulevard will be continued a few more blocks according to the original plan, but in projecting the next section of fill the planners should cut a deep swath from the lake. It is highly important that the north side boulevard be completed, but it is shortsighted policy to reclaim only a narrow strip for the road when with a slightly greater investment we could develop the lake front for true park purposes.

SCORE ONE FOR US.

The Vane machine triumphed again and easily in the Philadelphia primary the other day. Tammany was unopposed in the Democratic primary in New York. These results astonish no one. Philadelphia belongs to the Vane machine and New York to Tammany. Chicago is the only great city in the United States which seems able, from time to time, to wreck the political machine. Philadelphia does not know the moral equivalent of the primary and election in which the Thompson forces were routed. One reason, and probably the chief reason, why Philadelphia and New York fall where Chicago succeeds is the fact that here we do not attempt to conceal the evidence of misgovernment.

JANITORS AND THE SMOKE NUISANCE.

The Modern Science Institute of Toledo, O., advises school boards throughout the country that the technique with which the heating plants in school buildings are operated is fully as important as the quality of the furnace. Indifferent or incompetent janitors are responsible for much of the poor ventilation and insufficient warmth of the schoolrooms.

The responsibility of the janitor, we think, may be extended beyond the schoolrooms. Although many of the heating systems here are mechanically inferior, perhaps, Chicago would enjoy substantial relief from the smoke nuisance if the janitors and firemen throughout the city were more skillful workmen. The owner of the heating plant, of course, has the first obligation to protect the community from air warfare. If he is not critical his employees will not reform their slovenly firing habits. But if he insists that his equipment produce the most efficient results, the janitor will conserve fuel and maintain a uniformly desirable temperature by burning the smoke particles instead of contaminating the atmosphere.

Other factors are involved in eliminating the smoke waste. The character of the coal and the type of heating system make it easier or more difficult for the firemen to reduce the smoke effort, but competent engineers will improve the operation of the plants, no matter how superannuated they may be. If the janitors' union should undertake to instruct its members on proper methods of firing and should encourage its members to give better service, the organization would deserve the gratitude of the community.

Editorial of the Day

WALL STREETS FIGHTING POINT.

To judge by a large number of newspapers, Wall street is still identified with the tariff, in the demagogue's mind. Like naval armaments, tariff is still said to be inspired by "big business." What is given is a picture of Wall street which does not exist, of one which has had no existence in modern memory. Wall street is tepid about the tariff and knows, like Senator Smoot, that the United States Steel corporation, to name only one of a dozen prosperous industrial concerns, needs no tariff protection.

Franchises from legislatures usually have a string to them; tariff favors can be withdrawn, as for instance that conceded in 1922 to the manganese ore industry. Even postoffice favors are no permanent asset where a payment for carrying the mail is multiplied to facilitate the devious subterfuge policy of congress, which policy can be changed next year. Those concerns which benefit by rural free delivery have no permanent asset, but only a precarious dependence upon the good will of congress.

It is historically true that it cost the financial center many years to learn these lessons. An industrial or even a railroad structure built upon congressional favor or a state legislature concession is a house built on the shifting sands. It has often happened that its assumed political asset is a deadly liability. Even our regulatory commissions, stupid and shortsighted as they often seem, are better than the interested attentions of the opportunist politician. Wall street asks no favors but only to be left alone in its business of protecting those thirty millions for whom it is the trustee.

COOKING IN METAL POTS.

EXCEPT there be the grossest carelessness, there is no danger in cooking soups, meats, vegetables, and fruits, or in making marmalades, pickles and preserves in metallic cooking utensils. It is true that some of the metal goes into solution, that the food "eats" the utensil to some extent. It is also true that the heavy metals are poisonous, mercury and arsenic highly so and iron slightly so and so on. In between, however, the amount of metal which is dissolved from the utensil in the process of cooking is so very small that the food which dissolves it is wholesome. This applies to copper kettles, tin coated pots, iron pans and every other kind and variety of cooking utensil.

Dr. E. E. Smith has recently published a book in which he gives the results of his studies of foods cooked in aluminum kitchenware. He quotes the opinions of many other scientists and Europe based on all kinds of chemical analyses. Examinations were made of many foods cooked in such kettles, pots and pans. There were meats and vegetables, milk, beef, sweet and sour pickles, and other objects soaked in vinegar; fruits, sweet and sour, alkalis and carbonated mineral waters.

It was found that in every case the contents had absorbed some aluminum from the kettle. The analyses were supplemented by very careful weighing of the pots before and after, and examination of their surfaces with magnifying glasses to discover evidence that the food had absorbed some of the metal. It was found that some aluminum had gone from the pan into the pickle or other food. But in no instance had the food taken up a harmful amount of the metal.

Analyses of uncooked food for aluminum showed that we eat some of this metal in whatever we eat, cooked or uncooked. The amount absorbed from the pot in cooking is trivial compared with the amount the food naturally contains. The country is being flooded with propaganda which sets forth that cancer is caused by eating foods cooked in aluminum vessels. There is no suggestion of scientific proof of this anywhere in the literature.

SEVERAL CAUSES POSSIBLE.

Venus writes: Almost every night I suffer with a contraction of my right leg between the ankle and the knee. This condition, which I believe is commonly known as cramps, is extremely painful and can only be relieved by arising and walking about the room until the pain overcomes. What is the probable cause of this trouble? What can I do to overcome it?

REPLY.
There is more than one cause. Insufficient cover is the most common. Lie with more cover over your feet. Is your bed roomy and comfortable? Do you eat a heavy supper?

BURNS DO NOT CAUSE IT.

F. T. N. writes: I have been told that a burn from that new chemical, dry ice, is liable to cause consumption of the bone. Is there any such disease? Is there any truth in such an assertion?

REPLY.
There is substance to the bone, but burning the skin does not cause it.

HOW TO DEFEAT PIMPLES.

D. E. writes: I will be 18 years old in a month. I am getting pimples. What should I do to stop these pimples?

REPLY.
Eat sparingly, especially of sweets and desserts. Regulate the bowel habits. Go in for hard manual labor, or athletic sports who work and sweat like prize fighters in training do are seldom troubled by pimples.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers. EXPATRIATES DUE TO FOREIGN SERVICE.

Forest Park, Ill., Sept. 19.—(Friend of the People.)—Did a United States citizen who, in the world war, went to Canada and joined the Canadian army and saw active service forfeit his American citizenship automatically by virtue of the fact that he, in joining the Canadian army, swore allegiance to the Union Jack?

Would the same U. S. citizen forfeit his citizenship upon enlisting in the French foreign legion? How long an absence from the United States by an American citizen in a foreign country causes him to lose his citizenship? Would this American then, in forfeiting his citizenship by extended absence, automatically become a citizen of the country in which he is staying? Would he become a "man without a country?"

H. R. K. An American citizen who returned the military service of his own government allied with the United States in the world war and took an oath of allegiance to that government before April 6, 1917, the date of the American declaration of war, repatriated himself by reason of such oath, and may be repatriated by calling at this office and arranging therefor.

A naturalized American citizen returning to a foreign country for permanent residence within five years of his naturalization is deemed to have been fraudulently naturalized and his certificate may be canceled on appropriate procedure. When any naturalized citizen shall have resided for two years in the foreign country from which he came or for five years in any other foreign country, he is presumed to have ceased to be an American citizen. The effect of this statute is that such naturalized citizens may not obtain the protection of the American government for the absence mentioned. Whether naturalized citizens referred to in the last two paragraphs resume citizenship in their former country depends on the laws of that country.

FRED J. SCHLOTZKY, District Director of Naturalization.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

CHAMPION CUBS.

SINCE baseball now is a more popular topic of conversation than the stock market, politics, congress, naval disarmament, or what not, we may venture a few more remarks on the Chicago Cubs who have brought a National league pennant to Chicago for the first time since 1918, and the world series in which these Cubs will play.

What worries local followers right now is the recent slump of the hitherto fighting aggregation. They clinched the title mathematically—although the result was forecast several weeks ago—not by winning a game which would make it impossible for Pittsburgh, nearest contender, to catch them, but because the Pirates lost a game which mathematically put the latter out of the running.

The Wake-Line is no fonder of slumps than any one else. We doubt that this slump means anything. After a strain of a long season's title quest, there is bound to be a relaxation when the result is practically, if not actually, clinched. This same thing happened to the White Sox of 1919, and those White Sox of 1919, before they turned black, were one of baseball's greatest teams.

Now about the series. What impels nearly 200,000 persons to apply for the 32,000 reserved seats available? (There are about 15,000 additional first-come first-served seats and standing room space.) Is it appreciation of baseball or partisanship? The Wake-Line would answer both—with partisanship the greater determining factor.

Chicago fans want to see a Chicago team become world champion. Ask your fan whether he would rather have the Cubs win in a series of mediocre games or lose in a brilliantly played set of games. Unless we mistake our fandom, he would choose the former. We can't quarrel with that. For so would we. But that's why we think the old clan spirit—for something we own or can adopt as our own—the real factor in world series enthusiasm. The Cubs are a Chicago organization or institution. Therefore we strongly wish their success.

HE.

A little girl with curly locks
Used to play with letter blocks.
Soon she learned that H and E
Spelled a little word called HE.

Then she grew and learned some more
From those blocks upon the floor,
That twenty years are more than seven,
That HE would lead the way to HE-aven.

With her blocks she built a tower
While young love was still in power;
When that weakened structure fell,
She learned that HE was part of HE-ir.

Now her blocks are straightened out,
She has lost all fear and doubt,
But she knows that HE is poor,
Will always make a broken HE-ort.

ONE AFTERNOON RECENTLY WE TURNED IN A CLUSTER OF THOUGHTS (MOSTLY THE THOUGHTS OF OTHERS), ASKED HANK TO STEP INTO THE PILOT HOUSE, AND WANDERED OUT TO LINCOLN FIELDS.

No we didn't—what you suspect. We achieved a great moral victory, only 22 cents, to be exact, lower, after dropping the first four races. If that isn't a moral victory there aren't any moral victories. Furthermore, we picked the last three winners, but after four losers the old bank roll isn't so pliephoric and circumstances over which one has no control force caution. We'd not mention this only we want Wakers to know we've not forgotten old loves.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 20, 1864.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Richmond papers repeat what has been previously stated by Petersburg papers, that the brutal Gen. Winder has not been moved from command of the Andersonville prison, and hint that the federal prisoners there are being sent east, out of reach of Gen. Sherman's forces at Atlanta.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Cols. N. W. Spicer and F. B. Swift, Sheriff Ogden and P. B. Radner, all of Lawrence, Kas., and all personally acquainted with William Quantrell, viewed the suspect under arrest here and declared he is not the notorious guerrilla chieftain who sacked and burned Lawrence.

HEADQUARTERS, ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.—Federal troops who pursued the rebels who raided Gen. Grant's cattle depot failed to overtake them, and they escaped with 2,485 head. The cattle formed supplies for the troops operating against Richmond, and not for the Army of the Potomac generally.

CHICAGO.—Prof. Goldwin Smith of Oxford university, one of the few staunch friends of American liberty to be found within the halls of that hotbed of torism, visited the high school and Chicago university here and was warmly welcomed by the faculty and students.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 20, 1899.

LONDON.—How to crawl out of an awkward hole in connection with the South African crisis is the question which the British public has set itself to solve. Yesterday everybody was for war, yet before 24 hours have elapsed it is almost impossible to find a man who is not for peace. A cabinet council is announced for Sept. 22. The Times' Cape Town correspondent says opinions of leading citizens there are divided between war and peace.

PRETORIA.—The Pretoria Press, printed in both Dutch and English, and other papers profess to believe that a joint commission will yet be held and that there is still a possibility of an understanding with England being reached. Meanwhile dispatches indicate preparation for war on both sides.

PARIS.—As anticipated when Dreyfus was convicted by the last court martial, he is to be liberated and his ten years' prison sentence is to be considered null in view of the five years of terrible sufferings on Devil's island, which will be counted as worth double time. The ministerial meeting today decided on his definite pardon.

WASHINGTON.—Lieut. Col. John D. Miley, inspector general of volunteers, died at Manila of cerebral meningitis attendant on typhoid fever. He was born on a farm near Bellevue, Ill., in 1852.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 20, 1919.

CHICAGO.—The carpenters' strike and consequent building lockout in Chicago were finally settled at a meeting last night. The carpenters get $1 an hour, the wage for which they have contended during a ten weeks' test of strength with the contractors. They are to return to work Sept. 22.

KEY WEST.—That the Spanish steamer Valbanera, carrying 300 passengers and a crew of 150, went down in the hurricane that swept Key West ten days ago appeared to have been made certain tonight by the statement of Ensign L. B. Roberts of the U. S. sub chaser 223 that he saw the name plate of the steamer on a vessel found sunk in forty feet of water near here.

LONDON.—After a conference between allied commanders at Abbaia, allied warships have left the harbor of Fiume and have leveled their guns on the town, according to a German government report. The dispatch says that it is assumed an ultimatum will be sent demanding that Capt. D'Annunzio's forces evacuate the town within 24 hours.

WASHINGTON.—Following a conference between John Fitzpatrick of Chicago, chairman of the steel workers' organization committee, and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, it was made certain that all efforts to avert the strike against the United States Steel corporation on Sept. 22 have failed. It was learned that President Wilson sent Bernard M. Baruch to persuade Chairman E. H. Gary to meet a German union men, but Mr. Baruch could not move the steel corporation head.

PARITY.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Now that the President and the state department, in their anxiety to arrive at a naval limitation agreement with Great Britain, have apparently agreed to accept an actual inferiority in cruisers, it becomes necessary to see that the facts on so-called naval parity are properly presented to the public and to congress.

Added to this it is reported that Great Britain's overwhelming superiority in merchant tonnage capable of conversion into high speed commerce raiders, we are apparently conceding to them an actual superiority in cruiser tonnage of some 40,000 tons, and are also surrendering our right to construct the full number of eight-inch gun cruisers needed to round out our fleet.

Added to this it is reported that the President looks with favor upon Great Britain's reported desire to postpone the time for replacing battleship tonnage from 1931 to 1946, thus continuing their actual preponderance in that category for another five years. At present under the Washington treaty of 1921 the battleship tonnage is as follows:

United States, 13 ships 325,000 tons
Great Britain, 20 ships 258,550 tons
Not only in tonnage and number of units are we inferior, but also in the range of our guns, due to Great Britain's objection to the proposed change in gun mountings to give increased range.

Should congress approve the further surrender of our rights to build up to a real parity in cruisers, it seems only fair that before approving any further gifts to Great Britain they should insist:

1. On the acceptance of Great Britain of our clear right to make such changes in gun mountings as are required to give us an actual parity in gun power in our battleship fleet.

2. The reduction of battleship tonnage to a figure approaching the 500,000 tons which it is ultimately proposed to reach. This latter figure could be approximately reached if we retire the Florida or the Utah, leaving our tonnage about 504,000 tons, and if Great Britain scrapes two ships of the Iron Duke class, bringing theirs down to about 508,000 tons. This would leave them still with 15 battleships to our 17.

This reduction of tonnage together with their acceptance of the thesis that we are actually entitled to parity in gun power would be a criterion of their desire to reach real parity. I believe that Great

MORNING WORK TO SPEED TARIFF, CONGRESS PLAN

Sessions Will Be Opened an Hour Early.

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Difficulties looming up ahead of the tariff bill caused Republican senators to act today toward speeding up its enactment.

The senate, upon a recommendation of a conference of Republicans, agreed to meet daily at 11 instead of 12 o'clock, commencing Monday. Republicans of the finance committee decided tentatively to modify flexible tariff provisions by eliminating the proposed broadening of the powers of the President beyond what is provided in the present law. This modification would tend to restrict the controversy over the flexible tariff to its repeal or retention.

The senate debate dragged during the day in a manner which seemed to give foundation for the theory that the tariff consideration may extend into the regular session. The senate discussed a finance committee amendment relating to the milling of flour in bond. The committee amendment meets the desires of American milling companies at Buffalo, against whom a provision of the house bill was aimed. The house bill provision, which was proposed to meet the desires of wheat growers and millers in the southwest, would require millers importing Canadian wheat, milling it in bond and then exporting to Cuba, to pay a duty equivalent to the amount saved under the differential applying on imports of

AMERICANS RUSH FOR PLACE ON SHIP TO U.S. WITH MAC DONALD

(Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.)
LONDON, Sept. 19.—More than 100 Americans are waiting in a vain hope to get passage on the Berengaria, on which Premier MacDonald will cross to America a week from Saturday. With the giant ship already crowded by homeward bound tourists who made reservations early in the summer, the Cunard offices are now swamped by last minute applications. Many applicants say they are willing to take second or third class accommodations for the sake of being on what they consider will be a historic voyage. The imperial suite used by the prince of Wales has been reserved for the premier, but it is said there is even difficulty in finding accommodations for the premier's official party.

American products to Cuba.

The finance committee struck out the house provision. The modification of the flexible tariff provisions proposed by Republican members of the finance committee consisted of restoring "differences in costs of production," as provided in the present law, as the formula for determining changes in duties. The house bill substituted "differences in conditions of competition," which would mean a broadening of the powers of the President.

Mayor Confesses $50,000 Embezzlement from Bank

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 19.—[U.P.]—Embezzlement of $50,000 from the Provident Trust company here was confessed today by Lloyd S. Crouch, mayor of Columbia City and assistant secretary of the bank. Crouch told O. H. Foust, president of the institution, that he had taken the money for "living expenses." Foust said the loss probably will be prorated among depositors and stockholders.

JUDGE REFUSES TO DISMISS JURY IN CO-ED'S TRIAL

New Braunfels, Tex., Sept. 19.—[U.P.]—The jury deliberating on the case of Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers, charged with robbing the Buda Farmers National bank, retired at 3:30 o'clock tonight, still divided without apparent hope of agreement. Hope for a verdict had been virtually abandoned.

Although the jury reported for the second time late today that it was hopelessly deadlocked, Judge Watson said the trial of the former University of Texas co-ed had cost the county in the neighborhood of $1,500, and he intended to obtain a verdict if possible.

This is the fourth trial of Mrs. Rogers since she flourished a gun in the face of officials of the Farmers' National bank of Buda, herded them into a vault and escaped with $1,000.

The state alleged Mrs. Rogers had fired a residence in Round Rock, Tex., near Buda, hoping to rob the bank there in the excitement of the fire. She was tried for arson, but the jury failed to agree.

FIND BODY OF HEIRESS MISSING FOR 3 MONTHS

Fairfield, Cal., Sept. 19.—[U.P.]—The body of Miss Edith Wolfskill, 55 year old heiress, missing from her ranch here for nearly three months, was found late today in a dry creek bed, a mile and a half from her home. Indications of foul play were seen by Sheriff John Thornton.

Lady Diana Cooper, Beauty of Britain, Seriously Ill

LONDON, Sept. 19.—[U.P.]—Lady Diana Duff Cooper, sometimes called the most beautiful woman in Great Britain, is seriously ill, it was learned tonight. Complications have arisen since the birth of her son several days ago and her condition is causing anxiety to her family.

300 BUFFALO STAGE REAL STAMPEDE FOR SECRETARY WILBUR

Yellowstone Park, Wyo., Sept. 19.—[U.P.]—Three hundred snorting, pawing, irritated buffalo staged one of the most thrilling performances ever witnessed inside the park—a buffalo stampede—for the edification of Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur and his party. The buffalo had been rounded up from the hills and valleys where they had been left unmolested for months.

When the great animals started their charge they did a four square job of it—so much so that the taciturn face of Secretary Wilbur lighted up with enthusiasm as the buffalo swept by.

Secretary Wilbur is on a national park inspection trip.

THE MIND AT MISCHIEF

And How to Cope with Them

By WILLIAM S. SADLER, M.D., F.A.C.S.

Delving into the occult depths of our own mind is the new adventure. Dr. Sadler, using language which the layman can easily understand, leads us through hitherto unexplored regions of that mysterious world within us, letting us see the "subconscious" in the performance of its good acts and also of its malicious and harmful tricks.

Sex Life      Neuroticism      Repressed Desires
Baffled Love      Melancholia      Complexes
Worries      Telepathy      Hypnotism
Neurasthenia      Hysteria      Spiritualism
Dreams      Dreads      Obsessions

What They Are—How They Affect Us

He has discovered the cause of much imaginary ill-health among women and of many business failures among men, and tells what methods are used to prevent and cure them.

Dr. Sadler is an authority in this field, drawing upon his twenty-three years of experience as Director of the Chicago Institute of Research and Diagnosis for a large number of interesting cases by way of illustration. Altho the author of many books on mental hygiene, Dr. Sadler's "The Mind at Mischief" is his crowning work—an original contribution to psychological science, yet written so that the ordinary reader can get the full thrill of its revelations.

The Introduction is by Robert H. Gault, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology at Northwestern University, and Major Solomon, Associate in Neurology, Northwestern University Medical College.

"Of Tremendous Personal Help"

Donald H. Laird, Ph.D., Sc.D., Director College Psychological Laboratory: "Many people will find Dr. Sadler's 'The Mind at Mischief' of tremendous personal help, and every one will find it interesting and profitable reading. It is sound, up-to-date, laid free, and deals with vital personal and social situations."

THOUGHT-CONTROL IN EVERYDAY LIFE by James Altmeyer. Several months ago, this book is reaching an increasingly large number of readers weekly and another printing (the 4th) is on the press.

Many many readers agree with that eminent citizen and co-editor of "The Ladies Home Journal," Edward W. Bok, when he says: "It has in it the qualities that would make thousands more intelligent about themselves, happier, more cheerful and more successful. It is a veritable path to know thyself—and the path in this case is very easy to tread; verities are easily understood; methods are clearly expressed; we see ourselves in a clear looking-glass. As a so-called 'self-help' book, I know not its equal for simplicity and easy understanding."

Why wait!

—when all the time you could be listening to an Atwater Kent SCREEN-GRID

YOU are listening to all the discussions about radio. The technical claims for one set or another mean very little to you.

But three facts have probably stayed in your mind.

One is that the Atwater Kent Screen-Grid, combining not only the big improvements but the countless small refinements, was the first perfected Screen-Grid set and is now the largest-selling radio in the world. It's Atwater Kent's method of using the new Screen-Grid tubes that gets such amazing results.

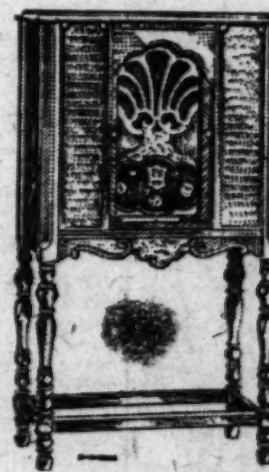

Another is—with 27 years' experience, including 7 years of radio, Atwater Kent naturally has an advantage over manufacturers who are just trying their wings in radio for the first time. You believe in buying from experienced people, don't you?

And finally, the demand for Atwater Kent Radio (more than 2,500,000 sets sold) has built up not only the largest but the finest radio factory. It covers 32 acres of floor space. Our own engineers have developed machinery which shares with thousands of human hands the work of producing radio sets that are as fine as can be made, yet are moderately priced.

Isn't this exactly the kind of modern radio you hoped to own?

Well, while the technical talk runs on and on, you can just as well be roaming the air these September evenings with the radio that argues nothing but proves everything. A very good time to see an Atwater Kent dealer (he'll show you a variety of distinctive cabinets) is RIGHT NOW.

On the Air—Atwater Kent Radio Hour—Sunday Evenings, 9:15 (Eastern Daylight Time), WEAF network of N. B. C. Atwater Kent Mid-Week Program—Thursday Evenings, 10:00 (Eastern Daylight Time), WJZ network of N. B. C.

Gorgeous Eye Appeal—snappy new design in radio furniture! Moire walnut veneer panels—diamond matched doors. Complete with Model 55C, less tubes, $156.00.

METHODISTS IN INDIANA CLING TO LURE OF POLITICS

Conference Asserts It Is Proper Church Field.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here today reiterated its determination for militant participation of the church in politics. A composite of the reports of the seven district superintendents in the conference said: "We do not hesitate to say that our part of Methodism as represented at the Indiana conference continues to stand by Methodist traditions as related to civic as well as church life. A general election has been held since the session of our last conference."

"The attitude of our leaders before that day and the result of the balloting gave evidence that Methodism is inclined to mix religion with politics, when moral standards are at stake."

Bishop Speaks on Enforcement.
In discussing the church's attitude on politics, Bishop William F. McDowell brought up the question of law enforcement. "Only one question is involved in this so-called liquor situation, no matter how much people talk of personal liberty, individual rights, and so on, and that is whether this thing known as liquor is to be a recognized business or not," he said. "I have no authority to speak for our President, Mr. Hoover, and have only my own knowledge of him, but I know this: that he is committed, soul and body, to the task of accomplishing an entirely changed attitude on the part of the people toward law observance."

Discusses China Conditions.
"The Russian situation, like every other aggression, serves to unite China more closely," said Dr. Ralph A. Ward of Chicago, corresponding secretary of the World Service commission. "This present government is the best China has had," he asserted, "but I would not try to predict what it may become, for China is in an extended region of changes. New forces are struggling for control. Russia has tried to communize China as a part of a great international movement, to offset American and English, or what might better be termed Anglo-Saxon influence," Dr. Ward said.

NEW A, B, C'S OF TURKEY TOTAL 27 LETTERS; OLD, 127

Hence Children Learn Easier and Faster.

This is the eleventh of a series of articles on the new Turkey.

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

ANGORA, Turkey, Aug. 25.—[By Mail.]—The new Turkish alphabet was promulgated by the Grand National Assembly a year ago. Parliament made it a law Nov. 1. Since January all newspapers and periodicals published in Turkey and all signs have been with the new characters.

"All study in the schools now," Diemal Hussini Bey, minister of public instruction, said, "is in the new characters, and the enthusiasm with which it has been taken up is beyond our expectation. Children learn the 27 letters of the new alphabet in one-fifth of the time they learned the 127 of the old. All school books are now being translated into the new character. We've already published books for the primary grades, adapted after Swiss and American text books. One book, describing the new characters has had a circulation of 3,000,000."

1,000,000 More Read and Write.
Since the institution of the new alphabet we estimate that the number able to read and write has increased by 1,000,000 with that number increasing daily.

"We divided the country into two classes—those who could and couldn't read and write the old character. We mobilized all the intellectual forces of the country to teach. Afternoon and night schools were established in the remotest villages. We published periodic brochures so that those who have learned to read and write, won't forget. We are opening public lecture rooms in the bigger cities, where newspapers and books are available for visitors free of charge. We have suppressed the teaching of Persian and Arabic in our schools and turned to Western culture, teaching Latin and Greek in its place."

"We are now experimenting with teaching the youth of the villages. Each village is asked to send a boy to attend our school at Angora."

Small Boy Reads Easily.
I visited one of these schools. About thirty boys, ranging in age from seven to ten years, were sitting in the shade, reading primers. It looked like an American school book, the subject of the various tales being illustrated. The youngsters read easily. He said he had been studying the new characters thirteen days. The minister of public instruction also pays expenses of 120 students sent to Europe for study. There are about 100 Turkish students in America, who will return here to teach.

BOYS, 4 AND 6, ARE ACCUSED OF KILLING CHILD

Judge Puzzled What to Do with Brothers.

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—For the fourth time within three months New Jersey authorities today were confronted with the problem of small boys accused of killing playmates.

As in the previous cases, the extreme youth of the two defendants—four and six years of age—has the authorities frankly puzzled as to what to do with them.

Thomas Florillo, 4, and his brother, Julius, 6, of Paterson, were brought before Police Recorder Joelson there today, charged with manslaughter. Mrs. Vita La Presta, also of Paterson, accused the brothers of having caused the death of her son, Frank, 5, by kicking him in the abdomen.

Boys Are in Panic.

Thomas Florillo, weeping, clung to the hand of his father, Leo, while the older brother, Julius, gazed in panic at Recorder Joelson.

"Frankly, I don't know what to do," the recorder said. "In view of the extreme youth of these defendants I must take under advisement the problem of sending the case to the grand jury or to the juvenile court. I won't determine that today."

The recorder then paroled Thomas and Julius in the custody of their father and warned him that they would be subject to call when wanted. They took their father's hands and almost ran out of the police court, shrinking from a policeman at the doorway.

Quarrelled at Play.

According to Mrs. La Presta's complaint, the Florillo boys engaged in a quarrel with Frank La Presta on Aug. 24 on the playgrounds of St. Anthony's parochial school in Paterson. Thomas and Julius are charged with kicking Frank in the stomach. He fell to the ground. He was ill when brought home and Mrs. La Presta declared the kids so injured him internally that he died on Aug. 28.

The defendants in the recent juvenile killing cases were Dimitrio Nehrebecki, 8, of Elizabeth, N. J., whose 16 year old brother, Michael, was killed while wrestling with him over a rifle; Vincent Guiliana of Red Bank, accused of killing his playmate, Joseph Nurvo, 9, while playing with a rifle, and Louis Torsella, 15, of Paterson, accused of killing John J. Nolan, 14, in a fight.

MEXICAN BANK ROBBER SENTENCED.
Winona, Minn., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Eusebio Montano, 28 year old Mexican who held up a St. Charles bank two weeks ago, was sentenced to from 3 to 40 years in the state reformatory today after he had pleaded guilty.

SWANSON PLANS LAW TO PUNISH BAIL JUMPERS

State's Attorney Swanson started yesterday to draft a bond jumping law for passage by the next legislature in 1931. The plan of the prosecutor, he said, is to have bail jumping made a separate felony punishable by a term of seven years in the penitentiary.

The law, suggested by Assistant State's Attorney A. C. De Witt in charge of the bond department, is to be patterned after the New York law, which was passed in 1928.

"If our proposed law is enacted it will not only reduce the number of forfeited bonds, but will assure conviction of bail jumpers," said Prosecutor Swanson. "Since September, 1913, 6,000 persons jumped their bail in the Criminal court. Only 40 per cent of these were ever apprehended. In a great number of the cases the defendants surrendered themselves after a few years had elapsed and witnesses had disappeared, knowing that their chances for conviction were slight."

MEET THESE Distinguished People..

And 22 others in the October American Magazine..out today

KNOWING great people is one of life's finest privileges. Through The American Magazine you and several million others who read it regularly have the opportunity of meeting some of the most distinguished people of our age. Thinkers... achievers... adventurous people who are living colorful lives.

In the October number—on the news-stands today—you will find the second installment of Mrs. Coolidge's charming series of articles on her White House Days; Peter B. Kyne's latest novel, "Outlaws of Eden"; William Wrigley Jr.'s sound advice on selling; and a host of other familiar names, from "Believe It or Not" Ripley to Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick. Some of them famous. Some obscure but deserving fame. All with a story to tell... a story well worth reading.

Buy The American Magazine today. Enjoy its brilliant fiction—its stimulating articles and educational features. You will understand why more than 2,200,000 families look for it eagerly every month.

For The American Magazine is more than a magazine of entertainment. It is the meeting place of distinguished people.

(Left) PETER B. KYNE'S latest novel, "Outlaws of Eden," begins in The American Magazine for October. Lovely "Lorry" Kershaw inherits a great cattle ranch in Eden Valley. But a bitter feud has drenched the Valley with the blood of her ancestors. And young Nate Tichenor, scion of the enemy family, controls her land. You will follow this story with breathless interest, for it is Kyne at his best, painting the romance and adventure of the West in his most brilliant colors.

"THE FASTEST HUMAN" (right), Charley Paddock, describes one of the greatest moments in the history of sport. Himself the hero of some of America's notable triumphs in international competition, Paddock knows the game from the inside. In the October American Magazine he tells of a player who had his life's ambition in sport within his reach—falconed at the crucial moment—and finally won out on the strength of another man's faith in him.

O. E. ROLVAAG (below) writes of "The Vikings of the West," that race of iron men who first ventured into the vast areas west of the Mississippi. Men like "Snowshoe" Thompson, who, for more than twenty years, carried the mail across the Sierras, alone and on foot, even in the dead of winter—and other unsung heroes who made possible the conquest of our continent.

(Above) WILLIAM WRIGLEY, JR. "Many men, worth not over $500 now, will be millionaires in less than five years," says William Wrigley, Jr., millionaire sportsman, industrial leader, super-salesman. "I don't know who they are but I know what they are. They are salesmen." Mr. Wrigley gives us the "low-down on salesmanship"—the rules that he has tried and tested himself and found unflinching.

MRS. COOLIDGE (right) continues her own delightful story of her life as America's First Lady. This month she tells us about the mail box of a President's wife and what it contains; of the souvenir hunters and how they steal even from the White House; of the formal dinner that Mrs. Coolidge calls "The Dinner of Horrors"; and many other personal incidents and stories that reveal the intimate side of the life of a President's wife.

MEET "BELIEVE IT OR NOT" RIPLEY, the author of that amazing series of cartoons. Ripley tells how the idea for the series came to him, and how he scours the remotest corners of the world for his unbelievable facts.

CLARENCE HUDINGTON KELLAND (above) has written a story about that shrewd, lovable old character, Scattergood Baines. In "The Young Man Who Was Prepared for Everything," we witness Scattergood's method of dealing with an enemy—when that enemy is much younger and gives promise of being almost as shrewd in business as Scattergood himself.

BOTH SIDES OF THE FAMOUS HOUSE OF IRWIN are represented in the October American Magazine. Will Irwin describes "The Magic Island," a place so overflowing with miracles and wonders that it rivals the most incredible fairyland. He tells us where it is and how it can be reached. Inez Haynes Irwin contributes a short story, "The Perpetual Substitute," about a girl who swallows her pride, accepts an "eleventh hour" invitation to a party and finds herself seated next to the guest of honor.

STEWART LANDS IN ENGLAND; MUM ON OIL MERGER

Tribune Man Only One to Greet Him.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, Sept. 19.—Apparently surprised at the premature publicity regarding his visit to Sir Henri Deterding and the reported new international oil merger, Col. Robert Stewart arrived here tonight after crossing on the Majestic and informed the world that he had nothing to say for publication just now.

Tomorrow, it is reported, he will see Sir Henri Deterding, head of the Shell Royal Dutch interests and powerful rival of the Rockefellers, who ousted Col. Stewart from the chairmanship of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. The two, it is said, will confer over the week-end at Sir Henri's country home, with Richard Alery, president of the Asiatic Petroleum company and Sir Henri's personal representative, joining in the discussions.

Oil Magnate "Disappears."
Mr. Alery mysteriously dropped from sight today. At his office it was said that he is "out of town," which led to the belief that he had gone to Southampton to meet Col. Stewart. But no one was at the dock to greet Mr. Stewart and his son, James W. Stewart, except The Times correspondent. Col. Stewart seemed surprised at this, and the surprise increased when, during the interview while en route toward London, he was shown the exclusive story in the Paris edition of THE TRIBUNE outlining the tentative new oil merger which, it is hinted, he and Sir Henri Deterding propose to establish if possible during the present visit.

Col. Stewart read the story closely, then laughed, and finally politely declined to either deny or affirm it. "I cannot say anything for publication regarding oil matters in general or the purpose of my present visit," he said. "I cannot discuss my business matters with the press. I am sorry, but that's that."

Hints Story May Break.
And that it was, although Col. Stewart promised that if there are any facts of "public interest," which might develop later, he would make announcements through the proper channels at the proper time. Col. Stewart explained that he had not always been given a fair deal by the American press, and that he intended to be particularly careful not to be misrepresented this time.

MRS. JENNINGS FILES BILL FOR MORE ALIMONY

Mrs. Stella Jennings, divorced wife of Raymond S. Jennings, wealthy real estate and oil man, yesterday filed a pauper's bill of complaint in the Superior court to secure an increase in alimony. The bill charges that Jennings misrepresented his income at the divorce trial and that he has failed to provide properly for their children.

The Jennings were married Jan. 8, 1905, in Washington, D. C., and separated July 16, 1926. They have three children, Dortha Estelle, 19 years old, who is blind; Ruby Rose, 17, and Raymond Jr., 15 years old.

After the separation, the bill alleges, Jennings forced his wife to return to her home in Green Bay, Wis., and sue for divorce. The divorce was granted by Circuit Judge Henry Grasse. Under the decree he was ordered to pay his wife a settlement of $5,000 and contribute $100 a week for the support of the children, which were awarded to her, she declares.

The bill charges that Jennings stated that his income was only $4,000 a year, when in reality it was in excess of $50,000 yearly. He was then president of the Jennings, Gahagan Real Estate company. Since that time his income is said to have increased to $100,000 a year.

Her plea will be heard today by Superior Judge Williams.

Free Suspect in Theft of Psychologist's Watch

John Barry, 4240 Kenmore avenue, who was arrested several weeks ago by Town Hall police after he had swallowed a drug, and who was examined by Dr. Lillian Nielson, city psychologist, was discharged from a large charge yesterday by Judge Samuel Heller after spending the interval in the Bridewell. Miss Nielson missed her watch after examining Barry, but police failed to connect Barry with the disappearance of the timepiece.

TAG DAYS TO BE LESS FREQUENT IN THE FUTURE

Ald. Clark Says Permits Will Be Refused.

New applicants for permission to hold tag days will find a snag in their path, according to the announcement yesterday.

Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the council finance committee, of the council finance committee, which passes on all requests. He said that there will be no more additions to the roll of organizations now authorized to tag Chicagoans.

In the past the finance committee has put up little resistance to the organizations which have besieged it with requests for an opportunity to buttonhole residents at every corner. An old city ordinance restricted the tag days to three, but several amendments, passed on the recommendation of the finance committee, have altered the intent of the original measure.

"I am unalterably opposed to authorizing any more tag days," stated Ald. Clark, "and there won't be any more. The list is large enough now and the addition of any more would be fostering a nuisance upon the public. The public doesn't want to be continually approached for contributions."

The practice of organizations in many of the wards of holding tag days and poppy days without any checkup on the distribution of the funds was instrumental partly in arousing aldermanic sentiment against the tag days.

Under the old ordinance the Ald.

ITALIAN SEE U.S., BRITAIN AS ALLIES TO CONTROL SEAS

Naval Expert Also Objects to Abolishing Sub s.

BY DAVID DAFTRA H.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
ROME, Sept. 19.—Italy's silence regarding its attitude toward the Anglo-American naval agreement and the subsequent five power meeting, was broken tonight by Admiral Carlo Gremet, noted naval authority, when he said that the Macdonald-Hoover project was for all practical purposes a formal naval alliance for a joint Anglo-Saxon control of the world. Admiral Gremet may be said to unofficially voice the sentiment of the Italian public and the official point of view.

His discussion of the Anglo-American project gives an indication that Italy may be expected to back the French in their reserves about submarine limitation.

Writing in the Corriere della Sera, the admiral objects strenuously to Prime Minister Macdonald's statement that a practical accord had been reached and that the Anglo-American powers would seek to maintain the status quo.

"It will be interesting to see what the other countries will do," he says, "with everything to gain and nothing to lose by maintaining a big submarine force, have to say about it." Admiral Gremet.

The Italian admiral points out that at present the announced accord seems to have been reached on a basis, which is far from the figure of seventy cruisers, which the British claimed as a minimum at Geneva two years ago; also without any question having been raised as to the freedom of the seas, or rather, the liberty of neutral traffic, during war.

These facts, together with the fact that under the announced agreement United States will do most of the building, since the British navy at present is far superior in cruisers, leads the admiral to the conclusion that the navy is really intended to complete the other for joint control of the world seas.

England Enjoys Sea Priority.
An agreement by both powers has been possible because they realize that, at least for a long period of time, they will not likely have any cause, or find it convenient, to fight each other, says Admiral Gremet. This means that the United States has dropped the theme about the freedom of the seas for no other reason than the naval agreement. Admiral Gremet says, England will have a great naval superiority for some years.

This, concludes the admiral, constitutes what in the old diplomacy was called a cordial entente and is an alliance between two Anglo-Saxon cousins on each side of the Atlantic.

France May Not Participate.
PARIS, Sept. 19.—If the opinion expressed in the newspaper Le Temps today proves to be the official French view, France may never participate in the projected five power naval conference, or at least to discuss naval principles which would be embodied in a later general disarmament treaty at Geneva. This newspaper asserts that just as a naval accord can only be tentative, so by the same token any five power agreement would be provisional.

REPORT ON ILLINOIS RIVER GIVEN CHIEF OF ARMY ENGINEERS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The special engineering board appointed by the war department last spring to study the advisability of maintaining open water navigation in the Illinois river from Utica to Grafton was learned today to have submitted its report to the chief of engineers.

This report, which covers the feasibility of constructing a nine foot channel in the Mississippi river between Grafton, Ill., and East St. Louis, as well as other engineering aspects of the Illinois river, will be the subject of special study by the river and harbor board of engineers of the war department. Later a report will be submitted to congress.

Brig. Gen. Thomas H. Jackson, president of the Mississippi river commission, is president of the board. Lieut. Col. W. C. Week, district engineer at Chicago, is a member. The Jackson board was appointed by the war department on the request of the river and harbor committee of the house.

This body asked that the corps of engineers ascertain and report on the advisability and cost of the partial removal of the dams in the federal end of the Illinois river link of the lakes to the gulf waterway with a view to maintaining a nine foot channel with open water navigation in the Illinois river from Utica to Grafton. East St. Louis was also requested.

U. S. MONEY BOSS FINDS POLAND ON WAY TO WEALTH

Chicagoan Says Debt Is One of Smallest in Europe

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
WARSAW, Sept. 19.—Rumors that Marshal Joseph Pilsudski is a sick man were contradicted by Charles Dewey of Chicago, financial adviser to the Polish government, who yesterday visited the Polish dictator.

Mr. Dewey says the marshal is full of pep and in excellent health. Concerning the economic situation in Poland, Mr. Dewey reports that the Poles are successfully carrying out improvements and that conditions are continuing to improve. The Polish foreign debt is only $15 per inhabitant, one of the smallest in Europe.

Since its stabilization loan, he said, Poland has not tried to borrow in the American money market, and in recent years the increased charges connected with floating bond issues have made it unprofitable to seek new loans abroad. Instead, the government has imposed high taxes and has used budget receipts for investment purposes.

Needs No Loans.
With the railroads in good shape, a large nitrate plant under construction, and the new harbor of Gdynia practically completed, the need for loans is no longer urgent. Also, the large sums which wealthy Poles have been keeping in foreign banks are beginning to return to Poland. According to Mr. Dewey, there is a big increase in the amounts of foreign currency entering the country, which shows that the Poles have confidence in the stabilized currency.

"Since the organization of the Polish state," he said, "a new Polish middle class has been formed, which is 'hard working and thrifty, and which, with the farmers, forms a firm foundation for the government. These classes are the backbone of new Poland and are the most prosperous."

"The monthly budget plan in operation at present is proving to be a success by showing a surplus, while the tariff policy is sound, resulting in a favorable trade balance of $7,200,000 for the months of July and August. A good harvest is expected to further improve interior conditions and Poland is progressing rapidly. Another healthy sign is the amount of building operations, and there is an opportunity for American construction companies to do business here."

Taxes in Poland are high. The government is planning a reduction when the world money market loosens sufficiently to enable borrowing on better terms than those prevailing during the last two years. Business men are complaining about taxes and the stringency of credit, but admit that business is greatly improved in the last year.

On the Juvenile Floor--the Fifth

The Story Hour
In Toyland—On Saturday

Stories that the little people will love—told where there is room for all of them to come and hear—in Toyland on Saturday morning from 10 till 12 and Saturday afternoon from 2 till 4. Miss Bertha Marilda Rhodes, author, kindergarten and director of children's Play-Right clubs, will tell the stories. And her books will be on sale in Toyland—she will autograph one of each set of six purchased. Single books, 50c; set, $3.

Seventh Floor, Wabash.

And Then,
There Were Two Boys

In fact, it was only yesterday, to be very exact—three little girls came to their very own section of the Juvenile Floor for new Fall frocks. And there was much "ohing" and "ahing" and excited looking while they chose these attractive frocks.

A suit of featherweight woolen is the password to growing up for the Miss of 13 to 17 years. Blue, brown, henna plaids. $22.50.

Fresh little wash frocks are charming and practical for year 'round wear. This one has a printed skirt and plain white blouse. Sizes 6 to 12 years. $7.50.

Wool crepe comes to the fore as a "younger" material this Fall, since it makes such smart little frocks as this in red or brown. Sizes are 6 to 10 years. $11.50.

Who needed clothes for school, and they, too, came to the Juvenile Floor. They went right to their own section, of course, and there they found the very things they wanted. And they had a great deal of fun doing it.

The one chose a suit which was so nicely tailored that he could wear it for dress, but which, at the same time, was of practical hard-wearing woolen that made it quite right for school. He took one pair of knickers (8 to 16 years) and one of long trousers (14 to 18 years)—though he could have had two of either instead. $25.

And the other, with an eye to days of winter sport, got a leather coat—fine quality horsehide—with plenty of pockets. 8 to 18. $21.75. He selected a leather helmet with it, $3.95.

When the Girls Came To the Bridge

They were very excited—in fact, they thought it the most exciting bridge they had ever seen—for it was a bridge full of hats. Chenille makes a most adorable one with a brim that may be worn either up or down—and has a most engaging feather on the side. This clever little hat is to be had at $5.

All the Boys and Girls
Had a Great Deal of Fun

When the time came for their mothers to take them to get their new fall shoes. For shoes are ever so important, as everyone knows—because they must be roomy and ever so comfortable. And here on the Juvenile Floor are lots of attractive shoes, all designed for growing feet.

(a) Brown or black lizard grained calf Oxford. $7.50.

(b) Slipper of lizard grained calf, brown or blue, $8.50.

(c) Brown kid-skin with lizard, $9. Suede, $9.50.

(d) Girls' tie in brown or black suede, $8.50.

(e) Boys' boots, heavy soles, sizes 12 to 6, $5.50 to $6.50.

(f) Oxfords, brown or black calf-skin, sizes 1 to 6, $6.

At the Very Peak of Youth—Misses' Ensembles
Coats, FrocksThe Tweed of an Ensemble
$100

Only the soft, knobby tweeds and their luxurious feeling for fall colors could conjure up, so simply, these smart ensembles.

They have three-quarter length coats. Collars of Kolinsky, raccoon, wolf, are complementary to the ruggedness and softness of these tweeds. The blouse, in most every case, is crepe satin.

The ensemble sketched is imported tweed with selvedge edge and wolf collar.

The Velvet of a Frock
$37.50

The new velvet lets its silky surface run at the gamut of colors in small modernistic prints. A jabot at side and full a herring in skirt brings out the subtle tones on the frock sketched. It is one-piece.

How Flare of a Coat

Accounts that new slender silhouette that fits the figure snugly to the knees. The large badger collar carries out this silhouette in youthful fashion. In black, navy, brown, green, red Norma cloth. Sizes for misses.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

Junia

Tweed turbans and skulls—with these Junia completes the silhouette for youth. Daring lines and dips and smartness of fabrics. Red, browns, greens, blues.

Main Section

The American could not resist the "rag of a hat." Now with deft fingers it is redesigned, carrying out new lines and silhouettes. Metalized angora tricot with shell pins. Others, with velvet. New fall colors.

Trotteur

The forehead shows for all the brim. Here the brim, turns back and swoops smartly at either side. Vis-a-vis or felt, in new colors. All headpieces.

CUBS' EARLY ATTACK BEATS GIANTS, 5 TO 0

COACH HANLEY'S
WORRIES NOW
REDUCED TO 10Center Position on N. U. Team Filled.

There is one position in the North-western lineup which, barring injury, should not cause any gray hairs in Coach Hanley's head this fall. This position is at center, where Mickey Vernon, veteran 195 pounder, is again entrenched.

Four days of practice have revealed that this big fellow is going to be capable of turning in the same steady performance which characterized his play during the last two years. His punting already has attained a high degree of accuracy, while his defensive play leaves little to be desired. Should Erickson become incapacitated through injury, Hanley has a capable understudy in Bob Clark, a punter who is almost as big as Mickey and who is improving with each day's workout. Clark lacks experience, but is ready to step into the lineup at any moment.

News that Jack Riley, 200 pound sophomore tackle, has hurdled several athletic requirements was welcomed in the Purple camp yesterday. Ralph Barbery, promising sophomore guard, also was reported to be in the ranks of the eligible. It was learned.

Tackling practice occupied attention of the entire squad during yesterday's workout. The ends were given a long run in getting down under punts and making the ball carrier, Frank Baker, warty and, and Bob Gonya, sophomore flank candidate, displayed marked ability in this work.

Kicking also continued to play an important part in the day's work.

STAGG FACES 2 PROBLEMS

Who will play center for Chicago this season? Who can do the punting?

The fourth day of practice yesterday revealed that Coach Stagg was no more a solution on either problem. Mickey Vernon appears to have the best chance as a ball punter and probably will be relied on in the early game. If he falters Stagg undoubtedly will have to try Bunge, former Northwestern tackle.

Jack Riley is developing more rapidly than he mates as a kicker. Though he still has to improve before he can handle the assignment. Knudsen, who seems destined for a back field job, is another man that is showing some punting ability.

A new formation was introduced to provide a bit of variation from the three running plays previously rehearsed and both sessions were spent largely in working on the new attack. No effort has been made yet to pick a first team. Every one on the squad is being given an opportunity to demonstrate his ability before a definite starting lineup is named.

Morris, a reserve lineman last year, and Horvath, a sophomore, who was a tackle at Englewood, look better every day.

ILLINOIS BACK INJURED

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Frank Walker, one of Zuppke's regular back backs, is the first Illinois casualty of the season, with an injured knee, sustained, strangely enough, while running to catch a street car. Walker will be out of practice for several days and today was replaced by Frank Layman, O. sophomore.

Coach Lammie and Doug Mills exchanged kicks freely in today's scrimmage, which was lighter than heretofore. Zuppke continued to use Schultz, Davidson, Conover, Steinman, and Hildebrand.

Pitts' numbers' all around ability is proving valuable at end and the reason may stay there unless something happens to call him to the back line again.

BADGERS DRILL IN SECRET

Madison, Wis., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The first time in Wisconsin's football history the secret practice was taken up at Camp Randall today while the Badgers drilled for the opening double header with Iowa and South Dakota State here today. It is reported that the team has been drilled for a week or ten days before everybody has been shown the exits.

Badger kickoffs this season will fall on the goal lines if the showing of several kickers in practice today is any indication. (Capt. John Parks and Larry Homanaker, Herrin, Ill., guard, are off consistently powerful kicks.)

Red Davidson, Detroit, Mich., had the edge on his fellows in punting drill. In a long line rehearsal Mark Quinn Jr., Appleton, Wis., son of the old Chicago end of twenty-five years ago, watched the plegkin out of the air from all angles.

MICHIGAN IN 1ST SCRIMMAGE

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Michigan got the jump on the remaining Big Ten schools by holding its first scrimmage of the season today.

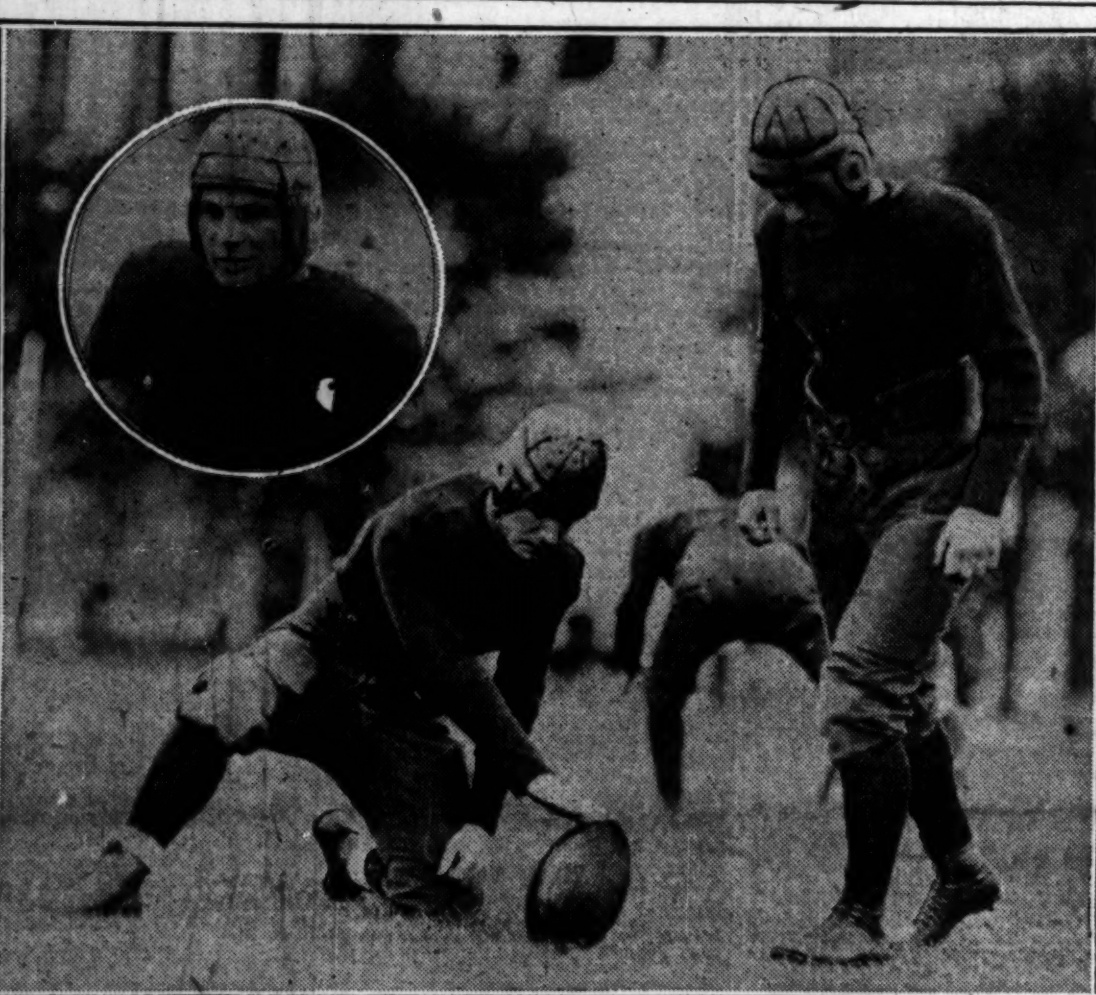

Among the candidates tried out were Capt. Traskowski, Dravelling, Davidson, Hewitt, Jones and Corwell, end; Ottman, Hayder, Poorman, Auer and Neach, tackles; Poe, Steinko, Sweeney, Parker, Grinnell and Samuels, guards; Boward and Smith, centers;

Rockne Picks
First String
Ball Toters

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—A definite idea of Notre Dame's back field was given today when Coach Rockne lined up four of the outstanding prospects for the ball carrying job.

Cardo was used at quarter back. Elder at half back. Mullins at full back. Brill at right half. Much of the afternoon was given over to forward passing, with Elder doing most of the heaving and Cardo the receiving. Leach, who is Elder's understudy, also tossed a few.

The problem of a forward wall is still unsolved, but a tentative line will probably be chosen tomorrow.

Yale with Coaching Job

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Possibility that Dr. John W. Wilce, former head football coach at Ohio State university may become associated with the Yale coaching staff was speculated upon here today when it became known that Dr. Wilce plans to go to New Haven, Conn., later this week.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

BY DON MAXWELL

MESSRS. Burns and Pegler are displaying interesting portraits of the Cubs and Athletics, who meet in the world series. Guiding the two teams are managements equally well known.

Mr. Pegler has told you of Connie Mack's enthusiasm, his mannerisms, his kindness. Between the lines you read the reason for the Athletics' success.

And before the series starts Mr. Burns will tell you more about the leadership of William Veck and Joe McCarthy.

When Charlie Grimm, star first baseman and team captain, was injured Manager McCarthy asked Rogers Hornsby if he would take over the captain's duties. Hornsby willingly agreed.

When the first subsequent pay day came Hornsby found that his check had been increased. The club had given him the additional salary paid the captain.

Hornsby called on Veck. "I don't want this extra money," he said. "Give it to Grimm. I'm glad to help out."

"Keep it," Veck advised. "We didn't dock Grimm. It wasn't his fault he got hurt. As long as he's out both you and he will get the captain's salary."

Hornsby's attitude toward Joe McCarthy and McCarthy's ability to handle Rogers was the subject for wide discussion early this season. Have you heard a single report of friction between the two?

They have worked together. One of the reasons, of course, for that harmony is the fact that both are smart fellows. They knew that friction would hurt them both.

But an even more important factor, it seems to me, is that McCarthy and Hornsby are serving a smart boss. You can't imagine a Donie Bush-Cyrie row on the Cubs. Veck would have settled the trouble the day it began.

When Hornsby was purchased by the Cubs Veck is said to have told him: "The Cubs have the finest manager in baseball. We don't care what anybody else thinks about it. That's our opinion. The Cubs have a fine team captain in Charlie Grimm, and Joe McCarthy has good assistants. We are not hiring you for any of those jobs. We want you to play second base."

Cub fans know how well Hornsby

WORLD SERIES IS JUST SO MANY MORE BALL GAMES

The Crowd's the Thing, as It Is in All Sports.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Sept. 19.—While the citizens of Chicago and Philadelphia and the suburbanites of both of those centers are manifesting great concern over the impending world series the people of New York and vicinity are guilty of the most unseemly calm about this and are even turning to the impending prize fight between Jack Sharkey and Thomas Loughran.

At most, this prize fight can prove considerably less than most of the recent heavyweight bouts and ordinarily the promoters would be pleased to accept a top price of $10 for ring-side tickets. But the interest in baseball here expired early this year and noting this lack of anything to distract the customer, Mr. Frank Jannery Bruns, manager of the Garden firm, has ventured to ask $26 for the best seats at the Yankee stadium on the night of the twenty-sixth.

They Take It Casually.

This is not to contend that if one or both of the New York baseball clubs were involved in this year's world series the games would be played more or less privately for lack of patrons due to public apathy. In New York, the world series has always been regarded as a good show and patronized as such, although it must be said that the New York customer never did consider it to be an issue which made demands on his civic pride, if any.

Even when the Giants and Yankees were winning pennants simultaneously and waging a stationary world series in the Polo grounds, many a man going from day to day, the Yankees having no park of their own at the time, the crowds, though festive and mildly partial, were more properly spectators at a show than partisans at some war of the roses or the raspberries.

I hope I am not emotionally deficient, but it has been the crowd rather than the athletes or what they did that stimulated me at the world series in these last few years. It is a special kind of crowd, whatever the city, unlike any other baseball attendance of the year and different from the crowd at a big horse race, football game, or golf or tennis match. The world series customers go through no little mental agitation to get their tickets in the first place, it being my impression that very few world series tickets are obtained through regular channels but rather by means of connivance, bribery, influence at court and breaks of luck.

The Agony of Finding Them.

Then there follows a career of acute physical trial in the struggle to reach the ball park, the frantic frisking of one's pockets for the tickets which have been so thoroughly put away against pickpockets that one forgets momentarily just where the hell one did put them, finally coming upon them in one's hat. Then the customer tries at least three wrong gates, reaching each of them at last after standing in a jostling file, only to receive a polite but resolute refusal in the features from the man guarding the turnstile.

And, finally, having reached the seat designated on the tickets and having paid some neighborhood loafer in a hand-me-down red coat and cap the sum of 25 cents for snapping a dust cloth at the same, the patron settles down to shiver with anticipation or chills or both while the band plays exceedingly slow music and the athletes, a bit nervous and apprehensive themselves, go through their preliminaries.

The mayor comes in and the photographers rush to him. Babe Ruth tramples his way into the press box accompanied by his former to commit simple prose for the papers and the photographers rush him. John McGraw and his former show up. So do Wilbert Robinson and Ghost, all two-by-two, as the stock went into the ark.

For three months this year Carlson was equally ineffective, but McCarthy valued Carlson's loyalty and had faith in the big right hander's ability. He kept Carlson confident of himself. Carlson started winning in July and won three and lost two games.

For three months this year Carlson was equally ineffective, but McCarthy valued Carlson's loyalty and had faith in the big right hander's ability. He kept Carlson confident of himself. Carlson started winning in July and won three and lost two games.

McCarthy couldn't have remained patient with Carlson had he not been backed by a management that was patient, too.

When you distribute the laurel to the pennant winning Cubs, don't overlook the men behind the team.

Meet Woody English, Perfect
Roommate, Great Infielder

BY EDWARD BURNS

WOODY ENGLISH, who is as loquacious and riotous as a well-mannered mouse, last spring was correctly designated as a young man who would completely answer Rogers Hornsby's specifications for the "perfect roommate."

When asked if he had any preferences in the matter of his roommates, the Rajah said:

"Ever since I've been in baseball I've been seeking a roommate with the following qualifications:

"A gent who doesn't talk about himself."

"A gent who doesn't talk much about anything."

"A gent who doesn't talk in his sleep or snore."

"A gent who doesn't come in late or get up too early."

"A gent who doesn't keep stn in the room."

"A gent who doesn't whistle while he's shaving."

Are They Such a Gent?

There Are, Says Robert.

"A gent who is neat and don't throw his pants and things all over the place."

"A gent who thinks baseball is the only thing in the world but still don't want to play over every game in the room."

"Are they such a gent on this ball club?"

Round Robert Lewis, traveling secretary of the club, who is in charge of such matters, beamed.

"Mr. Hornsby," said Robert, "you may not know it, but you've given a perfect description of our talented young shortstop, Mr. Elwood English."

There's only one ball player we know who is anyway near as quiet as Woody—Clyde Beck. English and Beck are great pals, and strangely enough, though they talk little to one another, they talk a great deal to each other. Or maybe it would be more accurate to say they whisper a great deal to each other.

Some months ago, incidentally, their whisperings cost them money. Being so quiet, both had a great amount of suppressed deviltry. The pair conceived the brilliant idea of purchasing a large quantity of a certain type of cheese, then they systematically called for the key of each of their mates, entered each room and placed portions of the cheese on the couches of the several athletes.

The players howled upon retiring, of

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Having been pushed into the formal clinching of their title the day previous, the Cubs boomed forth yesterday in a way that showed they deserved their new laurels. They pinned back the great Larry Benton's ears almost before he had time to set himself comfortably under his cap. Pat Malone did the rest. The score was 5 to 0 and the Giants were not on the profitable end of the count.

Malone came through with a game that probably quieted the fears of the many who thought McCarthy's pitchers, with a world's series confronting them, had gone into a decline. The others may be staggering but not Malone. He breezed his speed ball and his curve around the Giant necks so effectively that when the usual number of rounds had been reeled off only six hits had been slapped safely and seven hostiles had fanned.

Yesterday's victory was Malone's twenty-second of the season. He now is tied with Earnshaw of the Athletics for the interleague lead in number of games won.

Cubs Get the Jump.

Benton received the treatment the Cubs have been endeavoring to give him all season. As soon as he started the new champion began to beat a tattoo on his delivery. Four sound whacks in the opening round sent a pair of titled runs over the plate. Three more thumps along with a pass added three additional tallies in the second. They dragged old Jack Scott out of the bullpen. He not only halted the baby riot but kept things in perfect order as long as he labored.

The successful effort of Malone can be summed up in a few words. In the first four rounds one hostile Ott reached base. In the fifth a boot by Tolson and fluke single by Hogan put two on with one out but they never moved beyond second and third. The seventh was the only other session in which more than a lone runner was visible.

Heathcote Starts It.

Things turned for the worse for Benton as soon as he had retired the leadoff batter in the first round. The speedy Heathcote made a hit out of a slow bouncer to Farrell and didn't hesitate about sliding second. Hornsby swatted a single to right and Heathcote hurried over the counter. Hornsby galloped to third when Wilson singled to right. Cuyler was put out of the way on strikes, but Tolson took a healthy swing and produced a one base safety between first and second. Hornsby sauntered in on the blow and the inning ceased when McMillan hoisted to left.

Old Mike Gonzales was responsible for churning up the fuss that became three runs in the second and induced Benton to resign. Mike singled to right. Malone fanned, but English rekindled the fire by pushing a single past Terry. A pass to Heathcote loaded the bases. Hornsby sent Fullin into deep center for a long fly and Gonzales scored after the catch, while English moved to third. Then Heathcote stole his way to second and followed English over the plate on Wilson's single to center. Scott appeared at this point and the run stopped.

After Scott landed on the job the Cubs didn't produce another hit until two were out in the seventh and Scott was gone by this time, a pinch hitter having served for him in the Giants' half of the inning. In this chapter Hornsby doubled to right off Judd and Wilson scratched a single through short, Hornsby stopping at third.

ODDS OFFERED ON ATHLETICS

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Wall Street reported the first offerings of warrants and odds yesterday on the world's series with the Philadelphia Athletics a slight favorite to win the classic and the Cubs the choice to take the first game in Chicago, Oct. 3.

J. S. Fried & Co. announced receipt of a commission from a middle broker offering $15,000 against $17,500 that the Cubs win the series. Another wager was made at odds of $500 to $500 that the Cubs win the first contest.

SPORTSMEN FIND SASKATCHEWAN PROMISED LAND

See Thousands of Ducks Begin Fall Flight.

BY BOB BECKER.

PASQUA LAKE, Sask., Sept. 19.—The duck parade which starts shortly after daylight is a thrilling spectacle up here. Canvasbacks hurtle through the air at a speed of better than sixty miles. Green winged teal and ruddy ducks bear down so hard that they almost push the canvasbacks out of the air.

Standing in a rough bough blind on Pasqua Lake twelve miles of water and ducks in one direction and four miles of water and ducks in the opposite direction, we watched eight species of water fowl strut their stuff, starting at five in the morning and continuing until sundown at night.

Hits Four at Once.

Today our party separated so as to occupy the four blinds on the Pasqua which is just a narrow strip of land projecting into the water to mark a separation between Pasqua and Wapunga lakes. The day's shooting was much like a four ring circus. Extraordinary long shots, singles and doubles, snap shooting when birds would sneak up and surprise us, the whole program mixed with thrilling successes and unbelievable failures tells the story of how the four ring circus operated.

Lou Barkhausen, Chicago sportsman, who is a member of this Pasqua lake expedition, pulled one of the birds when he dropped four out of six canvasbacks in a flock that came out of the east.

P. N. B. Galloway Foley, a resident in this lovely valley, which is 60 miles northeast of Regina, made a double on two canvasbacks after they had been shot at and urged on to greater speed. Both of these displays of 12 gauge work put new life in the old Pasqua Pass.

Rags One at High Speed.

A few minutes later it was a ruddy, feathered cannonball of the water fowl family that provided fun for the crowd. We were shooting with Lou Barkhausen at the time. Glancing toward the east, where thousands of bluebills, redheads, canvasbacks, ruddies, teal, and other ducks were marshaled on the water, we caught a flash of an incoming bird headed straight for the blind. We threw the gun to our shoulder, took a hasty look over the sights, and let her go.

Lou rose up to see where the game was just as a charge of shot from our gun crumpled the ruddy duck. The bird was going so fast with the east wind at its back it kept on traveling at a terrific pace, and as Lou stuck his head above the blind he came within a few inches of meeting this falling bird with his forehead. The ruddy hit the top of the blind behind us and then bounded six feet to the edge of the lake.

We had a Labrador and Irish water spaniel and our English springer spaniel, Jack, retrieving the birds. Talk about duck dogs. You should have seen this trio going out on command to get cripples.

Herbert Taylor Shoots 39-42-81 to Win Illinois Seniors Golf Championship

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Herbert H. Taylor of Skokie won the championship of the Illinois seniors in the seventh annual fall tournament at Exmoor yesterday. Taylor, scoring 39-42-81, won by a shot from a couple of other golfers who refuse to let years wither their game.

Two hundred and two of the youthful boys, most of whom have developed a good game of golf despite lives devoted to winning success in other fields, competed in this annual gathering. The minimum age limit for the seniors is fifty.

Class A, which means 70 years or more, showed an entry of seventeen. Despite ages ranging up into the 80's five of them broke 100, led by Dr. George W. Webster of Flossmoor with an 89.

Hopper, Dowdall Tie.

Among the low gross golfers, Bertrand Hopper of Taylorville, Ill., formerly senior champion, and Dr. G. G. Dowdall of Flossmoor tied, one shot behind the winner. They had duplicate scores of 41 on each nine, while Dr. Charles Dowling of Mission Hill scored 41-42-83. R. E. Williams, Ridge-moor, 39-44-83, and H. S. Burpee, Rockford, had 84. E. L. Esley of Westmoreland, 1928 champion, shot 40-45-85, extra putts on several greens and four putts on the 17th putting him out of the running.

Putting also sent several other strong competitors out of the championship, for the greens were like greased glass with tricky rolls. Charles W. Booth of Midlothian, 46-46-86, took 38 putts; Dr. Frank Brawley, Flossmoor, had 87; Elmer Eulass of Calumet, 90; Joseph Le Duc, Bunker Hill, 87, and Fred Hill of Skokie, 89. Too many putts was the answer to most of these scores.

Webster Class A Champion.

Dr. Webster became senior champion of the seniors with his 89-14-75, low net in class A for seniors 70 years and older. As he couldn't take two prizes, J. H. Wood of Flossmoor won the low net class A prize. He scored 100-24-76, one shot worse than Dr. Webster, but one shot better than three others.

Judge O. C. Barnes, Exmoor, 94-17-77; R. K. Preston, Briargate, 101-24-77, and W. V. O'Brien, Ex-moor, 95-18-77, tied for second. They matched their ages to decide the tie, and ended in the above order. George W. Blossom of Exmoor, father of George Blossom Jr., who won the Chicago district championship over the Exmoor course a few weeks ago, topped all the class A seniors in putting, with 30 putts. And 30 putts on the greens as seen as Exmoor's yesterday was something to brag about. B. F. Cummins, Indian Hill, won low gross in class A with 46-47-82.

Dick Hanley's Worries Now Reduced to 10

Simral and Holland, quarter backs; Heston, Hudson, Wheeler, Holmes, Dahlem, Priest, Wilson and Hodson, half backs; and Gemblis, Hoser and Morrison, full backs.

Gembla showed the way to the full backs, tearing off big gains through the second team. Wheeler's broken field running drew praise from Coach Kipke. Hudson, Holmes and Simral gave commendable exhibitions.

IOWA TRIES PASSES.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The speed which made Pape such a valuable reserve half back last year may be used in another department by Coach Burton Ingwersen on this year's University of Iowa football team. Pape today received considerable attention as a forward pass receiver. Despite the slippery footing on a muddy field, Ingwersen assigned workouts on both aerial offense and defense during the morning session.

PHILAN BOLSTERS LINE.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Impressed by the showing of his sophomore backs in yesterday's scrimmage, Coach Jimmy Phelan was emboldened this afternoon to break up his veteran back field triumvirate, Rest Welch, Glen Harmonson, and Ed Caraway.

Practice today found Caraway transplanted from full back to a wing position. End Coach Mal Elward immediately started instructing the erstwhile ball carrier.

If the change is permanent, Alex Yunevitch, Ed Risk, Jim Purvis, and J. A. White are expected to make strong bids for the right to team with Welch and Harmonson in the back field.

BROKERS' LOANS UP; PLENTY OF MONEY ON TAP

Climb 95 Millions to New Peak.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Stock market speculators have needed more credit to keep things moving in the last week and everybody has been willing to furnish them with money. Therefore, brokers' loans reached another new peak at $6,000,000 last Wednesday, according to the weekly report of the federal reserve board.

The current total marks an increase of $5,000,000, which again proved a surprise to Wall and La Salle streets, where forecasts had been for only a small expansion. Furthermore, it marked the fifth successive weekly increase and a total expansion of $617,000,000 in that period. Again, as the figures are as of Wednesday night, they do not reflect the further upturn in stock market prices on Wednesday and yesterday, as Wednesday's trading was not cleared until yesterday.

Total loans now stand $2,099,000,000 above a year ago.

It would appear that neither the income tax payment nor the government financing in the last week prevented banks and corporations from pouring money into the stock market, particularly with the incentive of call loan rates ranging from 7 to 10 per cent.

Furnish Bulk of Increase.

The interior banks furnished the bulk of the additional credit. They increased their loans by $56,000,000 and now are lending $263,000,000 more than a year ago. The New York banks added $29,000,000 to their own loans and are furnishing $121,000,000 more than a year ago. As was to be expected in view of tax payments, corporations and other lenders fell into this place. But they added their mite of $10,000,000, which sent their loans to $113,000,000 above a year ago.

Further extension of credit for commercial purposes by the federal reserve banks is shown in the system's weekly statement, which followed the brokers' loan report. In fact, the reserve banks almost exactly made up for a decline in member bank borrowings. These borrowings receded $29,000,000, now totaling $923,916,000, but the reserve banks purchased $18,719,000 of bankers' acceptances and $11,392,000 of government securities.

Deposits expanded $24,471,000 but note circulation declined $16,723,000. Gold and total reserves increased $17,041,000 and $9,905,000 respectively.

The ratio of reserves to liabilities stretched to 72.5 per cent, compared with 71.3 per cent a week ago.

The New York reserve bank made no change in its 6 per cent rediscount rate. Its report showed a decrease of $12,883,000 in member bank borrowings, bringing this item down to $290,142,000. The city banks reduced their borrowings by $17,000,000. The reserve bank bought $5,345,000 of bankers' acceptances. Deposits increased $23,696,000. Reserves increased $12,824,000 and the reserve ratio rose to 76 per cent, compared with 75.4 per cent last week.

Chicago Borrowings.

At Chicago, member bank borrowings expanded $19,568,000 to a total of $12,412,000. The city banks increased their borrowings by $26,000,000. Deposits receded $5,070,000. Reserves declined $1,549,000 and the reserve ratio fell to 80.6 per cent, compared with 84 per cent a week ago.

Details of the prospective melons in the form of stock purchase rights were announced last night by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois and the Commonwealth Edison company. Public Service stockholders of all classes of record Sept. 30 will receive warrants entitling them to buy one share of no par common stock at $100 for each six shares held. The rights expire Nov. 1. Payment for new stock may be made up to that time, or in four installments of $25 a share on or before Nov. 1, and Feb. 1, May 1 and Aug. 1, next year; or in ten installments of $10 per share on the first day of each month beginning Nov. 1.

Stockholders of the Commonwealth Edison company of record Sept. 30 will receive warrants entitling them to buy one share at $100 for each eight shares held. The rights expire Nov. 1.

The Chicago Curb exchange has admitted to listing the new preferred stock of Middle West Utilities 6 per cent convertible, on a when issued basis, trading to begin today. It has also listed Middle West Utilities preferred rights on the same basis.

Directors Approve Changes in Bank of Manhattan Co.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, Sept. 19.—Sweeping changes in the capital structure of the Bank of the Manhattan company through the formation of a new holding company to purchase stock in banks and financial institutions within as well as outside of New York state were approved today by directors of the company.

Directors approved a split-up of the stock of the Manhattan company on the basis of five shares of $20 par value for each share of $100 par value now outstanding. In addition directors proposed an increase in the capital stock from $22,250,000 to $26,000,000 by the issuance of rights entitling the holder of each six shares of $20 par stock to subscribe to one additional share of $20 par stock at $120 a share.

Wide Charter Powers.

The latter price is equivalent to $600 a share for the old stock, which was quoted this morning at $112.50 bid. The new stock, which will be sold at a surplus of $2,000,000, and undivided profits of approximately $10,000,000.

At the present time the Bank of the Manhattan company, or the Manhattan stock certificates, a bank and a member of the federal reserve system it may not well exercise to as large a degree as might become desirable in the interest of stockholders, officers of the bank declared.

If the company sought to acquire a controlling interest in other banks, for example, the question might be raised as to the propriety of using the Bank of the Manhattan assets for such a purpose. To remove this obstacle to the expansion of the group the directors' plan contemplates that the Manhattan company, operating under its original charter granted in 1792, will become primarily a holding company, while the banking business will be segregated in an institution with a new name, Bank of Manhattan Trust company, whose entire capital stock will be owned by the holding company.

General Asphalt Plan.

Stockholders of the General Asphalt company at a special meeting held today in Philadelphia approved the proposed recapitalization plan of the company, which was formulated by the directors and announced some weeks ago. The plan provides for the calling of the convertible bonds of the company at $105, the redemption of the preferred stock at $110, and the changing of the common stock from $100 par value to no par value, and the increasing of the number of common shares to 1,000,000.

The plan also provides for the raising of the money for the redemption of such bonds as are not converted into common stock through the offering to stockholders of record on Oct. 22 of rights to subscribe to one additional share of the common stock for each three held at a price of $50.

Budd Wheel company has offered stockholders the right to subscribe to one additional share for each ten held on Sept. 28 at $50. The offer expires on Oct. 30 and will require the issuance of 22,504 additional shares if all the rights are exercised. Following the expiration of the offering rights the common stock will be split on a four for one basis according to a proposition that has been approved by the directors of the company. Each stockholder of record of Nov. 8 will receive three additional shares as the result of the split-up.

ELECTRIC INVESTORS MAY BE MERGED IN BOND AND SHARE CO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, Sept. 19.—A plan to merge Electric Investors, Inc., into the Electric Bond and Share company, uniting holding companies with stocks valued in excess of $2,175,000,000 at the close of trading today, has been discussed on the basis of an offering of 1.6 shares of Electric Bond and Share common stock for each share of Electric Investors common stock, it became known today.

Directors of the two companies, which have been closely affiliated several years, have not yet taken action on the plan, but in utility circles it was assumed that the boards would consider the proposal immediately.

The effect of a merger would be to further concentrate the holding of the Sidney Z. Mitchell interests. The old Electric Bond and Share company was merged with the Electric Bond and Share Securities corporation March, when the present Electric Bond and Share company came into existence.

GENERAL MOTORS CORP. ACQUIRES N. E. ELECTRIC CO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, Sept. 19.—Acquisition of the North East Electric company of Rochester, N. Y., by the General Motors corporation in a $13,000,000 deal, was formally announced here today. General Motors will pay 100,000 shares of its common stock and 40,000 shares of its seven per cent preferred stock for the assets of the North East company. Based on current market prices, the stock is worth about $13,000,000. The object of the purchase is to expand the manufacturing facilities of General Motors in the electrical field.

Insull Issues Lead Chicago Stocks to Higher Ground

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.
Chicago stock prices were mostly higher yesterday under the leadership of Middle West Utilities, which closed with a net gain of 18 points after sales of more than 6,000 shares.

The movement was under the influence of the Insull pool, which ran the stock up 4 1/2 points to a high of 490 in connection with rumors that the new stock which is to be exchanged for the present on a four for one basis will be listed on the New York exchange. The senior issues advanced from 4 1/2 to 5 1/4 points.

The advance spread to some of the other Insull issues and resulted in a net gain of eight points for Central and Southwest Utilities, an advance of 5 1/4 for Commonwealth Edison, and two points for North American Light and Power. Pacific Public Service was up five points.

U. S. Gypsum Deal.

U. S. Gypsum was up more than five points at one time on a story emanating from New York that there was to be a merger of the company with Johns-Manville and Insullite corporation. The facts are that U. S. Gypsum recently signed an agreement to handle Insullite products and that formal announcement of a similar deal by which Johns-Manville will handle the products in the east will soon be made. The stock closed at 90, up three points on the day.

Ground Gripper Shoe reflected reports of further improvement in business by selling up two points. E. L. Bruce and Electric Household Utilities were up 1 1/2 and a point, respectively.

Assn. of Commerce Urges Retention of Import Law

Opposition to the pending senate bill on the importation of articles manufactured in foreign countries but bearing a trade mark owned by a citizen, corporation or association of the United States is voiced by the Chicago Association of Commerce. Frank F. Winans, retiring president of the association, has written a letter of protest to the Illinois members of the senate urging a retention of the import law now in effect.

New York, Sept. 19.—They loosened up the brakes on the money market a bit today and the stock list moved forward on a broad front.
Up to the last hour, when profit taking appeared to slow up the pace, it was, in fact, a veritable field day for the bull forces, with little in the way of opposition developing to their efforts in behalf of leading industrials, utilities, and specialties. Some of the gains were highly spectacular.
Commercial Solvents, the flashiest performer of the list here of late, soared 106 points to a new high record before retreating to 845. Otis Elevator

...this UNION of POLICY AND PRINCIPLE

GREAT resources and physical size alone do not make a great bank. It was not merely an attempt to achieve great size that led to the union of these two Chicago institutions. Since their beginnings, both have been dominated by the same ideals, both have become known in Chicago as holding the same concepts of public service.

So closely parallel, in fact, are the policies and principles upon which these two banks were founded, that union seems the natural sequence. For through union there accrue advantages which will result in an even finer type of service.

The new institution will have an invested capital of $38,000,000 and resources of over $220,000,000. Physically, this institution will be one of the world's truly complete banking establishments.

Much as these great resources and physical size will mean, a deeper significance is attached to them because underneath will remain that true spirit of service which always has been a dominating ideal in the history of these banks.

Fifty years ago—the State Bank of Chicago was founded. Its avowed principle since the beginning has been to render a service which would win by merit the lifelong loyalty of its patrons.

Sixty-seven years ago—the Foreman National Bank was founded. Through the years the founders of this bank have likewise had as their ideal... a human, friendly, personal service.

Through union, the high ideals of these two institutions will find even more opportunities for expression. The union will result in a bank of even greater warmth and friendliness, and still greater service to all who enter its doors.

To the patrons of both banks we jointly pledge the same personal attention, in the new and greater institution.

WHEAT PRICES ERRATIC; CLOSE SHOWS LOSSES

Corn Weakens Following Firm Start.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.
Wheat traders appear to be waiting for some new incentive to develop to get the market out of the rut, and in the meantime erratic price changes continue, with the bulge bringing in selling orders, and the breaks find good support. Prices held within a range of 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents yesterday with the finish at net losses of 1/4 cent. Winnipeg acted heavy and closed 1/4 cent lower, while Buenos Aires was 1/4 cent lower. Drought reports from eastern Australia induced some buying early and foreigners were credited with having taken futures at the opening here. Corn was firmer at the start only to weaken later and finish with net losses of 1/4 cent. Oats lost 1/4 cent, while rye was off 1/4 cent.

Changing Market in Wheat.
As has been the case for some time past news developments failed to have a lasting effect on the wheat market. There was heavy changing operations under way between the December and the May around 100 difference, the northwest being active in selling the nearby future and taking the deferred. Bulges brought in commission houses and local selling, with fair support developing on the breaks, and the day's range was relatively small.

Forecast for rains in the provinces of Buenos Aires, the Pampas, and Santa Fe, Argentina, attracted considerable attention, as there had been buying early on cables telling of clear weather and of insufficient rainfall, one report indicating that the average rainfall during the last week had been only two-tenths of an inch. Cables to a limited interest from 24 different sections in Argentina showed the rains recently had been very spotted, and suggested that drought had not been relieved except in a few sections.

Considerable improvement was indicated in the foreign demand for cash wheat with business put through in both hard winters and Manitoba, and Winnipeg estimated that 1,000,000 bu of Manitoba had been sold in the last two days, including sales via Yarn Couper. Bulletin des Hautes estimates the French wheat crop at 385,000,000 bu, against 278,000,000 bu last year. Prices in France have declined and farmers have asked the government for relief. Liverpool closed 1/4 cent higher.

Light Trade in Corn.
Failure of the corn market to respond to reports of frosts and unfavorable crop comments from part of the belt resulted in a quiet day, becoming discouraged, and there was rather persistent selling in small lots and also pressure from the pit element which had a depressing effect and brought about a lower range after a small advance early. December was for sale around 1 1/2 throughout the day. Rains were reported over a good part of the southwest, Iowa, and Illinois with the forecast for rather general showers. Country offerings were again generally held above buyers' views.

Oats market was somewhat unsettled, with an early upturn followed by a reaction. The erratic fluctuations in other grains, however, were again operations, although sentiment was generally bullish, and commission houses absorbed the offerings on the dips on resting orders. The Black Sea export, 4,600,000 bu barley during the last week. Rye was dull with trade mainly of a local character.

FOREIGNERS BUY LARD
Foreigners were good buyers yesterday of October lard, with 600,000 lbs taken for export. Deferred futures of lard were picked up by commission houses. Selling was by scattered holders. For a good part of the day the market was strong and finally closed 1/4 cent higher, the latter on May. There is a better feeling all along the line in the provision trade. Liverpool lard was 84 higher, and export clearances from the seaboard 725,500 lbs. Loose lard was in demand at the line under October, the best so far. Deliveries were 55,000 lbs of hard and 200,000 lbs of bellies.

Cash trade in meats was said to be better and dry salted bellies were 8 1/2 cent lower. Exports of bacon were 45,000 lbs. Hog prices were 10 to 25c lower, with western receipts under those of a week ago, but exceeded last year's. Those friendly to the constructive side of the market predict smaller supplies of hogs in the near future. Prices follow:

OPEN GRAIN TRADES
Open interest in grain futures on the Chicago Board of Trade, including 7,627,000 bu of wheat and 3,356,000 bu of March corn, followed, last three months omitted:

Dessert Minus Cheese Like a Scarred Beauty

That's as Near to Adage as Space Permits.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.
Jean Anthelme Brillat-Savarin, in "The Physiology of Taste," besides giving a recipe for cheese fondue and telling the story about the bishop who ate it with a spoon, and of the ruction this caused, said: "A dessert without cheese is like beauty with but one eye." And ever since that time writers, particularly men who have taken cognizance of the art and culture of eating, have been making expansive paraphrases of this statement of Brillat-Savarin's.

Cheese for Dessert.

A late writer begins his philosophizing on this subject by saying: "To end the meal there were cheeses and fruits." He then quotes the above statement, giving credit. It was Henry Noble Hall who did the following paragraph in 1925: "If you have dessert you must have cheese to make a passable bridge between the vegetables and salads, and the sweet stuffs and fruits. You cannot—at least if you have any respect for your stomach—put grapes on top of salad, or a custard on top of Brussels sprouts. And cheese greatly improves the taste of fruits eaten after it. To prove this you have only to eat a pear after Roquefort cheese. And one must never fail to take advantage of food affinities."

This is only one of a score of items to the same effect we might quote, while we are reminded of the young woman of taste and privilege who when taking "dejeuner a la Fourchette" with a French friend was reprimanded mildly by her because she alternated a taste of pear with a taste of cheese. The French girl said, "How American!" I can remember the first time I was in Paris of being deeply impressed with the cheese and bread we had at the end of each luncheon, or "dejeuner," but I think the thrifty keeper of the pension did not supply fruit as well.

Cheese Beginnings.

From Italy came the custom that has been cosmopolitan, but seems to be a waning custom now, of serving a saucer of grated Parmesan cheese with soups, especially with the thin soups. Now canapes of cheese are served before soups, as is that great favorite appetizer among men, stuffed celery.

Information About Cheese.

If our United States government lists 235 distinct varieties of cheese, as it is said to do, we may guess that the half dozen varieties of cheese commonly mentioned are but as a drop in the bucket compared with what we might have, and really are getting, if we try to take full advantage of the market and make a few ourselves. The fact is that almost every famous European cheese is now imitated in this country, though not with equal success. And then we have some of our own, like the Jack or Monterey cheese of California.

The National Dairy council, with its headquarters right here in Chicago, has just put out a highly worthwhile booklet with the title, "Cheese, a Handbook of Concise and Interesting Information for Dietitians, Home Economics Teachers, and Home Makers." This book is entertaining, up-to date, gives a week's menus, and gives a table of cheese varieties with name, characteristics, origin, type, period of ripening, water content, fat, protein and relatives, lactose and lactic acid content, waste, and salts.

Some Older Varieties of Cheese.

The old books tell us no end of things about cheese, but a book printed in 1873 has something on the subject that especially appeals to me. This book is "Motherly Talks with Young Housekeepers," by Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, who followed her eminent sister-in-law in writing such books. This one has eighty-seven brief articles on topics of home interest, and about five hundred recipes. In the chapter on "Milk and Butter" there is a little about making a byproduct cheese, and then there is a chapter on cheese which describes Stilton, Cheddar, Parmesan, the Cheddar, Dunlop (one of the best Scottish cheeses), "new cheese" (English of Lincolnshire), Swiss cheese, sage or green, cream cheese (which is "simply cream dried sufficiently to cut with a knife," Mrs. Beecher says she got her information about foreign cheeses from Webster's Encyclopedia of Domestic Economy, "a useful and valuable work for all housekeepers."

Cream Cheese.

One can almost write a book on the present day uses of cream cheese alone. Note Mrs. Beecher's definition. Our own easy way of getting the water out of sour cream is to whip it and allow it to stand until the solid part rises on the whey, but there are others. Mrs. Beecher's description of how to make it has a charm of the ancient ways of making cheese adapted to American circumstances. She says:

"Green rushes are plaited or sewed together and laid on the bottom of the hoop, which must have holes all through it for the whey to run off freely. On these rushes a quantity of good thick cream is laid; another plait of rushes or Indian corn leaves is put on top of the cheese, so that it may be turned without handling. The cheese should not be more than an inch to an inch and a half thick. The thinner it is made the sooner it ripens. It is now kept in a warm place to sweat or ripen, but it requires much good care and good judgment, as too great heat or cold is injurious." We ourselves now like it unripened mostly, and certainly do not like that German sort which is made the size of the palm of the hand, and gets the brown, soft covering as it ripens.

Endless Varieties of Cheese.

There is so much to say on the varieties of cheese, and so much of history connected with many of them, that it is painful to have to write briefly on the subject. And there are other painful features connected with our interest in cheese. Recently I wrote to a cheese company of unique management and found where their cheeses were to be secured wholesale, with the wholesaler's brand on them, but there were not to be purchased where the letter said they were retailed. I was disappointed, because I wanted to make an upright Welsh rabbit, as I called it when a certain bread and cheese combination was served me in Rome long ago—made with ricotta. On the stationery on which I received reply, fresh ricotta and dry ricotta were listed with asiago, caciocavallo, fagottini, mentecote, Parmesan, parmesan grated, provolone, provolotto, reggiano, scamorza. Some things to learn, you see, and I have always wanted to find out the exact relation of the humble ricotta to our humble cottage cheese, which latter has more than one of two names.

And, speaking of humble cheeses, we ought also to mention some of those highly aristocratic—if we had the space. Certainly Camembert with barle-duc is an aristocratic combination—with toasted water crackers—for the ending of a dinner. And Minstère is like unto it, taken in France because it improves the flavor of the wine of the meal. But what is this use? Cheese is a terribly verbose subject.

40,000 POUNDS OF FISH CAUGHT IN TWO HOURS

Boston, Mass., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Boston's waterfront had one of the most remarkable examples of fishermen's luck to discuss today that ever came to this port as the auxiliary schooner Bethulia unloaded a cargo of 40,000 pounds of mackerel. The fish were caught within a period of two hours and after an absence of only three and a half hours from port. The Bethulia had left the fish pier for a trawling trip off the Maine coast. She had proceeded only as far as Boston Light scarcely off the harbor, when a large school of fish was seen. Gear quickly was taken overboard and in two hours a $1,500 catch was in her hold.

Dresden Ware Often Chosen for Ornament

Most Easily Recognized of Note Wares.

BY SALLY LUNN.

Dresden china, with its elaborate and colorful floral and scroll decorations, is probably the most easily recognizable of the important porcelain wares of the world. Once you know Dresden, you can readily distinguish it. Wreaths and clusters of flowers in delicate colors, daintily detailed figures, and some gilt are always apparent in the decoration. Dresden figurines, candelabra, and decorative pieces bear the same general characteristics, which are quite distinct from any other ware and are widely used.

In this age of attention to simplicity and harmonious effect, Dresden is not so commonly used as in the time of our mothers and grandmothers, when almost every bride's wedding gifts included some Dresden. The table ornaments appropriate for formal tables, and the plates, cups, and saucers are best adapted, to my mind, for dessert use. Because of the ornate character of the china, it does not combine well with other figured china, and must be used alone to exhibit its charms the best. As it is a fragile china, it appears best with fine linen or lace.

History Is Interesting.

The history of Dresden, which was the first hard paste porcelain to be manufactured in Europe, is intensely interesting. In the early part of the eighteenth century, in 1709, Johann Friedrich Böttger, who had made experiments as an apothecary's assistant, first produced specimens of true hard porcelain in Meissen, in Saxony, and the Meissen porcelain factory was established by Royal Patent in 1710. It was in the castle of Albrechtsburg overlooking the town of Meissen, a few miles away from Dresden, from where it was moved after a varied career in 1853.

Secret of Process Spread.

Since then it has advanced commercially, but has not been creatively active. The process of the manufacture was guarded carefully at its beginnings, and the workers were almost prisoners, but the secret of the process spread rapidly thereafter, and factories were established in Vienna in 1720, in Berlin in 1751, in St. Petersburg in 1758, and in Sevres, France, in 1756.

Other hard porcelains first produced during the same century, most of them in an effort to equal or excel the Meissen ware, were Limoges, which dates from 1779, the English Lowestoft, 1780; Capo di Monte, first made in Naples in 1736, and Derby, in England.

"Customer" Robs Head of Finance Co.; Loot $2,500

Representing himself as an important customer of the U. S. Finance and Mortgage company, a well-dressed young man entered the company's office, 721 North Michigan avenue yesterday, insisted on seeing the president, Albert Freed, and was told to wait by Freed's secretary, Miss Susan Schwartz, 1801 North Harding avenue. When Freed arrived half an hour later, the young man followed him into his private office, produced a pistol and robbed Freed of $25 and a diamond ring and stick pin, both valued by the owner at $2,500.

Feast, Famine Both Brought by Irish Potato

Loddy Tuber Conceals a Romantic Story.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Just why Americans should call this truly typical native of the western hemisphere as the potato must rank with the logic or circumstance behind the naming of the American Indian.

Assuming an inquisitive role among several Chicagoans who should be interested in this gross injustice to a vegetable so prominent in our dietary, a rather romantic story has been discovered. Man's dependence upon the common tuber as a principal food has brought feast and famine, and famine back again.

Potato Replaces Cereals.
It seems that the potato halls regularly from South American soil. The early day explorers as Sir Francis Drake and Sir Walter Raleigh introduced it into European agriculture. In 1645, it was recommended to the Irish in 1645, to help save this people from impending famine, potato dishes were a rarity. In a century the potato had almost entirely replaced cereals in the Irish diet.

Though the potato had saved a hungry nation, it proved undependable. The potato blight, a disease still troubling tuber growers, came along as a scourge in 1846 and 1847, almost entirely annihilating the crop. It is estimated that 600,000 people perished during those two years of privation in Ireland. But the blight came into contact and the production of potatoes continued on a large scale in the Free State today.

Cash Crop for Farmers.
Potatoes have come to be regarded as essential in a "square meal," a custom established by Yankees in this country. From Aroostook county, Maine, to Idaho the potato is an increasingly important cash crop for farmers. Its importance in the American eating scheme seems to be on the decline, federal department of agriculture economists say, with the average person consuming about three bushels during the year.

Latest government estimates point to a smaller crop of spuds this year than the record production of 1928 by about 118,000,000 bushels. Exceptionally low prices to consumers, with heavy losses by producers, last season were not in prospect this winter. Since potatoes furnish nearly one-third the entire cash crop for farmers in a busy state such as Wisconsin, the situation bears reviewing.

Reductions in Estimated Crop.
Maine potato diggers are sacking up the largest yields in the country, having experienced fine weather all summer. The other states of large production all report reductions in the estimated crop, a total of 24,000,000 bushels in August alone.

New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota (the Red River valley), and Idaho furnish most of the market's so-called Irish potatoes. The total estimated production early this month was placed at 149,000,000, or just about the three bushels per person needed for the nation's food basket. It is the lowest crop, save in 1925, for ten years.

Sweet potatoes, sometimes grown as far north as New Jersey, Iowa and Indiana, are primarily a southern crop. Dry weather in August cut this crop 4 per cent from the 1928 figure, the estimated total being 75,188,000 bushels. The sweet potato outlook is not promising. Chicagoand householders lower prices nor tubers of especially high quality.

In order that pretty plates may show up nicely on a pantry shelf, I stand them upright along the wall, as thousands of other housewives do, but, instead of using carpet tacks to keep the plates from toppling over, I use old phonograph needles. These are strong, not as conspicuous as tacks, and can be wiggle out easily if need be.

MORE SIPPERS OF BUCHU POST SIGN: "DON'T SHOOT!"

More of the cards containing the plea "Don't Shoot! We Drink Buchu" were to be seen yesterday on automobile windshields. Here and there the signs advertising the 25 per cent alcoholic tonic made popular by the Rev. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of Indiana, were carrying the message that Shumaker is not alone in his liking for the drink.

Where the concoction that put eight pounds on the dry crusader of Indiana could be purchased in Chicago was still a mystery. None of the recognized bootleggers would admit having it in stock, and several loop drug stores said they were not selling it. Whether the Chicago market is to be flooded with Buchu was an unanswered question.

"If it's not illegal for the Rev. Shumaker in Indiana, it certainly shouldn't be illegal here, and if it's good enough for him it's good enough for us," said one motorist, whose car displayed the card.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

French or Globe Artichokes.

The early springtime is the real season for globe artichokes in such places as have the temperature of Rome, in April. But nowadays we have globe artichokes almost the year through. Just the other day some one wrote to me asking how to cook them, and just about then I saw some in market, much affected by the hot weather.

And just now I have got around to going through a book purchased more than a year ago which I find has fifteen recipes for cooking artichokes, besides a description in which the "choke" or thready part which makes the blossom if allowed to develop—it is a true thistle blossom—is called "hay." This book is "French Home Cooking," by Claire de Fraiz, edited by Day Monroe, instructor in foods and cookery, Teachers' college, Columbia university. It is a good piece of editing, with many of those interesting animating bits that make cook books entertaining instead of dull manuals. It precisely says that it is not a book to teach the fundamentals of cookery but those not to be dull either.

The description begins by contrasting the French and the Jerusalem types of artichokes, giving the French names which for the latter is "topinambour." It tells where the best French artichokes go and then says: "Never buy an artichoke whose leaves are hard and prickly at the edges. These are not fresh."

And then there is the following about this vegetable in general: "French artichokes are usually boiled and served with Hollandaise sauce, white sauce, vinaigrette, or French dressing. They are eaten with the fingers, the leaves being removed one by one and the ends dipped into the sauce. In the center of the vegetable there is a stringy, hairy mass known as the foie or 'hay.' This is not edible and must always be removed. However, this cannot be done until the leaves themselves have been removed."

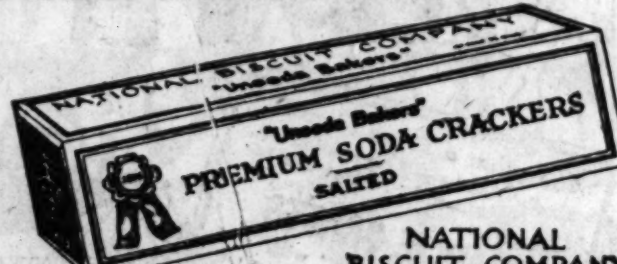

Every bit of the bottom of the artichoke which cooks call the "fond" can be eaten, but it is only a bit on the inside of the lower part of the leaves, which is drawn off with the teeth that is edible, although the Italians eat the whole leaf raw.

BANDITS GET DRUGS IN HOLDUP.

LOSS IN FOREST FIRES IS PLACED AT $10,000,000

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 19.—(U. P.)—Damage of more than $10,000,000 was caused, by the Pacific coast's annual summer siege of forest fires, estimates made today indicated. Heavy rains finally have quenched the hundreds of blazes which caused the deaths of some fifteen persons and scorched 150,000 acres of verdant pine forests.

A small cloudburst turned disastrous Southern California blazes into vast, hissing steam boilers, and finally set black acorn over the countryside.

In Ventura and San Diego counties more than 65,000 acres of forests, ranches, and oil fields were burned over, with a loss of $5,000,000. One hundred oil well derricks, scores of homes, and valuable stands of virgin timber were ruined.

In Oregon and Washington, where whole towns were threatened with destruction, the fires gradually were being controlled today.

RUSSIAN, FORMER JUDGE, RECEIVES CITIZEN'S PAPERS

Three aliens, termed by officials as "out of the ordinary" in individual standing, yesterday received their final citizenship papers from George Mackay, naturalization examiner.

One of the three is Alexander Peter Toubukin, 44 years old, at one time a Superior court judge in Irkutsk, Siberia. He has worked for a chair company since coming here in 1923. He resides at 1153 North Clark street.

Another is Joseph Pezitz, 42 years old, a native of Jugo-Slavia, who, during the world war, was an army captain and was at one time attached to the Russian diplomatic corps. In Chicago he is a bank clerk and lives at 647 East 92d street. The third is Rudolph Kirch, 55 years old, who before coming to America recently was for 20 years the mayor of Darm, Germany. Mr. Kirch, who is said to be of independent means, lives at 2558 Normal avenue.

A Coffee Aging Room

AGED before ROASTED

Coffee, as smooth and Mellow
as aged vintage wine

DO you still drink bitter coffee because you think it can't be helped?

The McLaughlin family, coffee merchants since 1854, have learned to take the bite out of the coffee bean. For coffee, you know, comes in from the plantations raw and green. If roasted at once, it has a touch of harshness. But store it for a year in McLaughlin's ageing rooms. Now it is yellow and mellow—now it is ready to be roasted—now its flavor and bouquet will be everything you ever dreamed coffee should be.

It is more expensive to take a year to produce the world's finest coffee when you could produce acceptable coffee in three days. But after all it costs you only a thin slice of a penny more per cup than other coffee.

Can you taste the difference?
You certainly can.

Litchfield Engaged to MacQ. Grant

BY THALIA

The weekly announcements of the Opera box committee's Wednesday meetings indicate that Mrs. Arthur A. Small is to be hostess for the group next Wednesday at the Casino. The Casino was to have been opened this last Monday, but postponed the opening date until next Monday.

The Perry M. Shepards, formerly of Chicago, and their children have returned to Geneva, N. Y., where they now live, after a visit with Mrs. Shepards' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. West, at Court Hill in Pittsfield, in the Berkshires. Mrs. West gave a musical for Mrs. Shepards before her departure.

Announcement has been made of the marriage on Sept. 4 of Miss Belina Margaret Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown, of Winnetka, to Lieut. John Bartlett Sherman, son of Mrs. Charles M. Sherman of New York City. Lieut. Sherman has been stationed at Fort Sheridan and he and his bride are to be at home at Fort Benning, Ga., after Oct. 15. He is a grandnephew of the late Senator John Sherman, at one time United States secretary of state, and of Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman of civil war fame. He was graduated from West Point in 1920.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell L. Spaulding of 6910 Oglesby avenue and their daughter, Miss Susan Spaulding, are to be among the Chicagoans attending the wedding next week of Miss Florence Trumbull to John Coddige. Miss Susan was a classmate of the younger Trumbull girl at Bradford.

FARMS BELIEVED WORTHLESS BRING FORTH MILLIONS

Hollandale, Minn., Sept. 19.—(AP)—In Hollandale, where six months ago many settler families struggled against virtual starvation, a vein of vegetable gold valued at nearly $2,500,000 has been uncovered in the black muck of their truck farming lands.

Families who lived only on potatoes last spring, and sometimes very little of those, have seen potato wealth take the place of potato poverty as they harvested a vegetable and truck crop worth more than $2,500,000. It was paid today by R. F. Hall, director of produce marketing in Minnesota for the United States department of agriculture.

Out over the flat 14,000 acres of the Hollandale irrigation project hundreds of loaded trucks and wagons are crowding the roads where only last winter relief expeditions sent forth through snow drifts to carry food and clothing to 120 suffering families in the district.

Horses that had died from starvation have been replaced by sleek, well fed teams and in many cases motor trucks by the wealth drawn from the reclaimed lake bed, as between 50 and 55 carloads of potatoes are shipped to market each day at a price of $2.50 a 100 pounds.

Farmers who petitioned the court last winter for relief from obligations when they found that $500 an acre land and 30 cents a bushel potatoes did not mix learned that a $1,000 an acre crop subtracted from $500 an acre leaves a tidy sum.

ADMITS SHELING
CANADIAN SHIPBillard Declares Boat
Refused to Halt.

HALIFAX, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A story of the shelling of a Canadian motorship by a United States coast guard cutter off New York was told today and confirmed in part in Washington, and within several hours counsel had been engaged to protest to the Canadian government.

After Capt. John McLeod of the Nova Scotian ship Shawnee brought his vessel into port bearing the scars of a two shells announcement was made that a law firm had been retained to act for McLeod before the authorities at Ottawa. Meanwhile, in Washington, the headquarters of the coast guard said the Shawnee had been shelled, but the statement was at variance with McLeod's date of the encounter and contradicted his assertion that no warning to stop had been given.

Shot Strikes Rail.
Coast guard boat No. 145, said McLeod, came up on the Shawnee 26 miles off New York last Friday night and approaching with all lights out to within ten yards of the Canadian craft fired five 4-pound shots without warning. Two shots hit, one piercing the stern and the other striking the rail on the wheelhouse.

After the shelling, McLeod said, the coast guardmen asked the identity of the motorship and the shipper said he replied: "Well, you should know."

The cutter's searchlight swept the Shawnee and the coast guard vessel summoned the coast guard vessel Gresham. The Shawnee went to sea and for four hours was followed by the Gresham, which was relieved by another boat on Saturday noon.

Runs Up Canadian Kneel.
McLeod said his ship was bound from Bermuda to Halifax in ballast and was showing all lights when the 145 appeared. Then the Canadian vessel was run up to the mast head, McLeod said, but still the cutter opened fire.

McLeod said he could give no reason for the attack. Washington advice said the coast guard had listed the Shawnee as a rum runner.

Coast Guard Reports.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[U.P.]—Five shots, three of them blanks, were fired at the Canadian motorship Shawnee off Ambrose light vessel on the night of Sept. 11 by a coast guard patrol boat when the Shawnee refused to obey signals to stop, Rear Admiral F. C. Billard, coast guard commander, said today. Billard's formal statement described the incident as follows:

"On the night of Sept. 11 a coast guard patrol boat picked up a vessel running without lights, which appeared to be an American, in the vicinity of Ambrose light. The coast guard patrol boat gave chase, holding the vessel in the beam of her searchlight and blowing whistles to stop. The vessel did not stop.

Then Craft Slows Down.
"The coast guard boat fired three blank warning shots, and still the vessel did not stop. The coast guard boat fired two shots in the direction of the craft which then slowed down.

"There was no name on the stern or hulling port to identify her and the man in charge refused to give the name of the vessel. The vessel was allowed to proceed and the name Shawnee was made out on her bow."

SEIZED ON CHECK CHARGE.
Newman Anderson, 4432 Central Park ave., said the coast guard vessel was on charges of passing a dozen bad checks, on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Harry Brown.

Ironsides Band
Gets a Cheer
Out of Elmer"Sping's" Orchestra Also Wins His Praise.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The Old Ironsides band concert from W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, was a humdinger, and it brought out the announcement that $200,000 is required to restore the old frigate Constitution. That amount doesn't seem large, considering the wealth and size of these United States, but if there is to be any delay in gathering the money, then let's have some more band concerts like that of last evening.

Still another attractive concert was that by "Sping" and his orchestra, W-G-N, 9:30 to 9. The "Post and Reasant" and "Light Cavalry" overtures by Suppe, the "William Tell" overture by Rossini, and the first two sections of Tchaikowsky's "Nutcracker" suite constituted this program. Concerts of this order are always welcome. They are deservedly popular. There was a minimum of announcing last night, but "Sping" is an exceptionally pleasing announcer and he can talk as much as he likes to and get away with it.

In our memorandum books we may justly enter Boellmann's Trio, opus 19, as a work worth hearing and knowing. It was played by the Whitney trio, WMAQ, 8 to 8:20. It is modern enough and interesting enough to gain one's admiration and to hold one's attention at all moments throughout the work.

I was unlucky in not hearing the announcement of the selections on the program by Gertrude Claus, soprano, WLS, 8 to 9 orchestra concert. However, this artist displayed a richly colored voice, decidedly pleasing in quality. The selection by the orchestra were high class.

Court Rules Caillaux's
Busted Beak Worth $400
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PARIS, Sept. 19.—The "cathartic value" of Joseph Caillaux's nose to the law was set at $400 by a French court, which ordered a dentist who recently crashed into the French statesman's car to fork over this amount. M. Caillaux, famous for his impeccable dress, was deeply chagrined when his nasal appendage was battered up. He started suit but later withdrew it. The court, however, decided that the damage was worth 400 bucks.
